Grissom and Young Report to Experts

ABOARD THE USS INTREPID (AP) — Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young settled down today to prosaic but important business: filling the experts in on what happened during their flight that proved a ship can be maneuvered in space.

Grissom and Young — the first U.S. astronauts to fly as a space team — made three trips around the earth Tuesday.

Each flight provides innumerable valuable clues on how to improve the next performance. Today medical and space officials pumped the astronauts steadily for reactions that will eventually aid in hitting Project Gemini's main target: the landing of a man on the moon.

Big Question

One big question: Why did the astronauts fall short of the carrier Intrepid by from 50 to 60 nautical miles? Space officials puzzled over this Tuesday, and wound up saying they just didn't know.

Everyone, from President Johnson down, seemed to think Tuesday's flight was a powerful

Patrolmen Will Be Honored on 25 Years of Service

Two local police officers, who will complete 25 years of service May 1, are to be honored at a dinner given by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association May 13 at Skytop Restaurant.

They are Deputy Chief Grover S. Hoffay and Patrolman Gerald L. Every. Both started on the force May 1, 1940.

Prior to their appointment, two veteran patrolmen, William J. Reardon and Urban Healey had retired. Kenneth E. Hyatt, now employed by The Freeman, had also been named a patrolman in May, 1940.

Deputy Chief Hoffay became a sergeant on Jan. 1, 1953, was promoted to the rank of lieutenant March 1, 1959, and was named to his present rank on Aug. 20 of the same year when Robert F. Murphy, who had been acting chief, was named permanently to the post.

Officer Every suffered severe injuries in an automobile mishap while on a trip south last year. He is stationed mostly at police headquarters on desk duty.

Area Mushroom-Growing Combine in Major Merger

Two divisions of a Hudson Valley mushroom growing and canning combine, Knaust Bros. Inc., and K-B Products Corp., Hudson, are among four giants in the industry which merged and formed the American Mushroom Corp., it was announced Tuesday at Wilmington, Del., the home office of the new corporation.

The other firms in the consolidation which will have distribution in 49 states, includes Delaware Mushroom Corp., Wilmington, Del., and Keystone Mushroom Co., Coatsville, Pa.

The consolidation, according to the Associated Press, will enable American Mushroom to operate five million square feet of growing beds in Delaware, Maryland, New York and Pennsylvania.

Edward J. Perrone is president of the new corporation.

The new company will be privately held and will have assets of about $5.5 million and annual sales of about $3 million, according to George C. Lambert, who will be vice president.

Knaust Bros. Inc., is the area mushroom growing company and K-B Products Inc., a companion firm in Hudson operates the canning process. Both have substantially the same officers.

Five Local Police To Take Special Course on Riots

Five officers of the local police force are due to attend a special training course at Camp Smith, Peekskill Thursday and Friday.

It is to deal with "Mob and Riot Control" and will be attended by Lt. Francis Fagan, Sgt. Garvin Fisher and Officers Meyer Levy, James Scott and Charles Diers.

Agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be instructors.

Kennedy School Dedication Is Slated Sunday

Formal dedication of the new John F. Kennedy Elementary School, which opened last September, will take place on Sunday, March 28 starting at 2:30 p. m. The former Hasbrouck Park Elementary School on Gross Street, has 22 classrooms, a two-station gymnasium and auditorium, stage and library and other features.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies to be held in the school's auditorium, and participate in a tour of the building. Refreshments will be served, according to Hubert Hoerath, chairman of the committee.

Welcome by Col. Fabbie

The program will open with a prologue by the JFK School ensemble, Miss Martha A. Eddy, director, Donald E. Sweeney, principal of the school, will be master of ceremonies.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly of St. Mary's Church, will give the invocation, after which a welcome will be extended by Lt. Col. Frank Fabbie, president of the JFK Parent-Teacher Association. The JFK School Glee Club with Mrs. Jean T. Landsman, director, will present a number, after which a reading will be given by Rabbi Harry Z. Scheetman, of Temple Ahavath Israel.

Presentation by Halverson

Formal presentation of the new school will be made by Harry Halverson, architect, and the acceptance speech will be delivered by David Kline, president of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated.

Remarks by Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, will precede presentations by Albert O. Sonnenberg, Commander of American Legion Post 150, and by Lester L. Lawrence, president of the Kingston Teachers' Federation.

Remarks by Arthur H. Withall, vice president of the Board of Education, announcements by Donald E. Sweeney, JFK school principal, and benediction by the Rev. John H. Gilmore, pastor of Riverview Baptist Church, will conclude the formal ceremonies.

Replaces Two Schools

The JFK school was designed to accommodate kindergarten, Grades 1-6 and special classes. It replaces former schools No. 3, built in 1868 and No. 4, built in 1897, which closed their doors last June after many years of service to the community.

In addition to the classrooms, library, and music room the school provides a two-station gymnasium, a conference room, eating area and adequate office space. A combination auditorium and cafeteria, kitchen and faculty rooms complete the picture of the new elementary school.

"The Board of Education takes pride in dedicating this beautiful, functional school building to the memory of a great American — John F. Kennedy," a spokesman for the Board of Education said.

Last Leg Of March Underway

Hope to Cover 14 Miles to Capital

By ROSS HAGEN
LOWNESEBORO, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights marchers were up early today and began the final major leg of their 50-mile right to vote march from Selma to Montgomery.

The marchers resumed at 7 a.m. National Guard troops assigned to guard them checked out a concrete bridge just off the campsite. Two-man squads were spaced out about every 200 yards for three miles.

Up Hour Earlier

The marchers were up about an hour earlier than usual, hoping to cover 14 miles which would put them inside the Montgomery city limits. Their breakfast consisted of oatmeal, toast and coffee.

Their ranks were expected to increase as they reach the four-mile section of the highway.

There was a warm spring sun in contrast to Tuesday's soaking rain.

The marchers planned to camp tonight in the yard of a Roman Catholic school six miles from the white-domed Alabama Capitol, the goal of their protest march which began last Sunday.

Leaders Listed

At the head of the column were the Rev. Andrew Young of Atlanta, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; James Orange of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, Atlanta; and Jim Leather, a one-legged white man from Saginaw, Mich., who says he is going all the way with the group.

Thousands began the 50-mile trek at Selma Sunday on a four-lane portion of busy U.S. 80. The number was cut to 300 on the two-lane sections at the order of U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. who directed the march take place.

The 300 spent the night under tents on a soggy knoll near this town in the black belt, a section of rich, black soil.

Try to Beat Mud

The sleeping area was covered with freshly cut hay, but much of the field was a quagmire after Tuesday's rains. Dotted the campsite were little mounds of dirt that looked like small graves. On each was a sign with the word "segregation."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the Alabama civil rights drive, left the march to attend a dinner in Cleveland, Ohio, honoring him as the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner.

He planned to rejoin the marchers today.

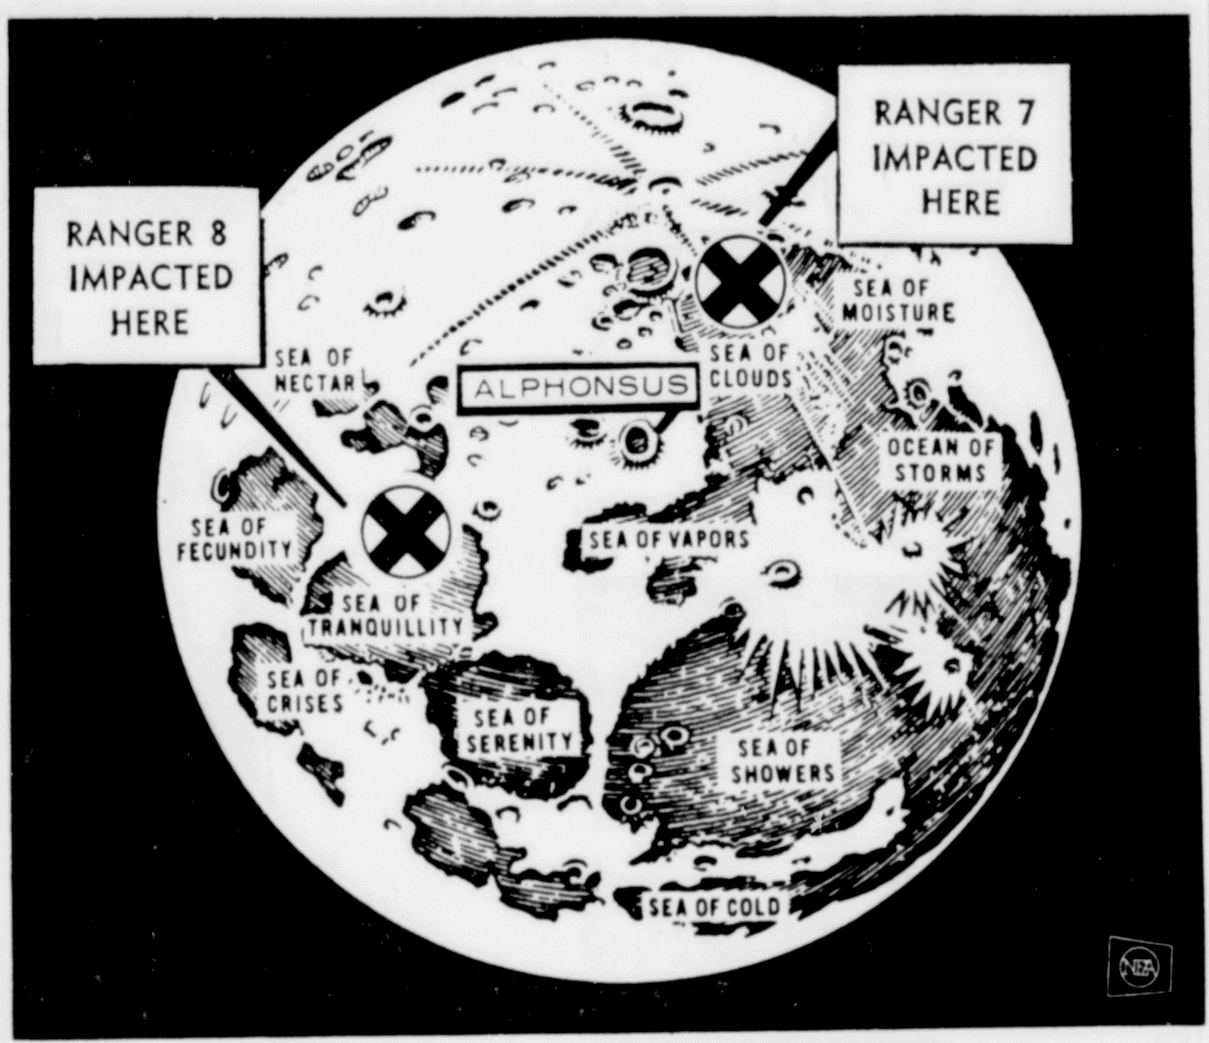

King told a Cleveland news conference that the problems of the South will move to the North "unless there is imaginative leadership in the North."

To Keep Up Marches

He said there will be constant demonstrations "as long as unjust conditions exist. The civil rights movement must lift the economic level of the Negro and the South."

OPENING CANCER CRUSADE—Leaders of the Ulster County unit of the American Cancer Society attended a kick-off meeting Tuesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel, to make final plans for the 1965 Crusade which opens April 1 and continues through next month. An enthusiastic turnout of workers from county communities attended the session despite the inclement weather. Among those attending were (l-r) Angus Doyle, Town of Esopus Crusade chairman; James J. Rua, city, campaign treasurer; Mrs. Daniel Fochi, a member of the ACS board of directors and Town of Hurley chairman, and J. Wilson Tinney, Port Ewen, general chairman of the drive. (Freeman photo)

Top $27,500 Goal, Cancer Workers Urged

Enthusiasm and optimism were the keywords of remarks Tuesday night at a kick-off meeting of leaders and workers for the 1965 Crusade to be officially launched Thursday, April 1, by the Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society, of which George Svirsky is president.

J. Wilson Tinney, Port Ewen, general chairman of the county campaign committee, urged all town chairmen, their workers and Ward leaders in the City of Kingston to devote as much of their time and effort in April to raising funds to meet or overshoot the goal of $27,500.

Tinney Confident

Despite the inclement weather, there was a large turnout of volunteer workers at the session held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Chairman Tinney welcomed the group and expressed confidence that Ulster County again would go over the top in the annual campaign. He asked each volunteer worker to explain to residents the Tell Your Neighbor phase of the educational part of the campaign.

Zeros on Alphonsus

As Ranger 9 plunged moonward, the two other craters disappeared and the camera landed in on Alphonsus. Clearly visible was the 3,000-foot peak in the crater's center — almost dwarfed by the steep walls, 10,000 feet high.

Perhaps the most interesting feature was a large crater, or rill, across Alphonsus' floor.

One of the goals in aiming at a crater — the two previous successful Rangers photographed broad plains — was to

Ranger 9 Sends Out 200 Clear Close-Ups

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ranger 9 televised live today a dramatic sequence of more than 200 close-ups of the moon as it dove to its death in a lunar crater.

The beautifully illuminated series began by showing three craters in sharp detail from 1,300 miles up, and finished by displaying tiny peck marks on the floor of the crater Alphonsus from but a few miles away.

First for Series

The live television, relayed to home viewers by commercial TV networks, was a first for the series, which now has three straight successes in returning close shots of the little known lunar surface.

The pictures were flashed on the screen for five seconds each for more than 15 minutes preceding Ranger's 6:08 a.m. impact, just four miles from its target in the 60-mile-wide Alphonsus.

Autopsy Ordered

Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson ordered an autopsy and withheld a verdict pending outcome of the medical examination. Death was reported to have been caused by a crushed chest and internal injuries.

B.C.I. Investigator Michael Mahoney and Trooper John Huntton of the Ellenville state police substation conducted an investigation.

Involved in the accident was the car of James Giovannelli, 60, Ellenville, which was traveling north up grade and about to make a left turn into the Samsonville Road. The Leonard Marek car was going down grade.

Upstate Man Is Killed on 209, 8th for County

Leonard Marek, 27, of Amsterdam, became Ulster county's eighth traffic fatality for 1965 when a car which he was driving south on Route 209 at the junction of Samsonville Road, Town of Rochester, was involved in a three-car collision on shortly after 9 a.m. today. Marek died enroute to Veterans Hospital at Ellenville.

Benefits, Pension Hikes Head for House Vote Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unprecedented package of health benefits and pension increases for the aged, blessed by the approval of the House Ways and Means Committee and welcomed by President Johnson, headed today for an early vote in the House.

The committee, altered by Democratic gains in last year's election, cleared Tuesday a $6-billion measure containing Johnson's plan for hospitalization paid for by a payroll tax — and much more.

Hospitalization for all over 65; an optional contributory plan to help pay other health expenses; liberalization of the state-federal system of health care of the indigent and low-income groups; an across-the-board 7 per cent increase in old age payments under Social Security.

In a statement released by the White House Tuesday night, the President hailed the health bill approved by the House committee as "a tremendous step forward for all of our senior citizens." He called it a financially sound bill, and one which will benefit the entire nation.

"It is my hope that many Republicans will join with the Democrats in voting for this very fine bill," he said.

The committee set a meeting today for final formalities and leaders planned to bring the measure to the floor by the first week of April, at the latest.

The financing involves a stiff rise in the payroll tax levied for Social Security. Next year's maximum payment by an employee would be up $69.60 from this year's with more to come.

Also, in the first full year of operation, there would be a $1-billion dip into the general Treasury.

The health benefits of the bill fall into three main sections.

8 Saigon Bombers Do Raiding

Hanoi's Warning Network Suffers

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Eight South Vietnamese fighter-bombers destroyed a North Vietnamese radar station at Dong Hoi today and sank four Communist ships that fired on them off Quang Khe, a Vietnamese spokesman announced.

U.S. jets — their number unannounced — again flew as escorts. They shot up antiaircraft installations to suppress what was described as heavy hostile fire.

The radar station was the fourth reported knocked out of Hanoi's warning network by aerial raiders this month. The raid was the 11th in the series launched Feb. 7.

Dong Hoi is on the South China Sea about 45 miles north of the border. Quang Khe is 20 miles farther north.

Guns Silenced

The radar target consisted of "many two-story buildings divided into the radar station, the antenna control and the command post," the spokesman said.

The Communists defended the installation with 100 antiaircraft cannon and machine guns, "but these were rapidly silenced and heavy damage was done to them," he said. One plane developed engine trouble, but limped back to Da Nang.

The ships were encountered as the Skyriders flew north from Dong Hoi "in continuance of their reconnaissance mission."

Safe Return

The spokesman said the attack was launched at 4 p.m. and all the aircraft were safely back at their base at 5:15 p.m.

Communist agencies claimed some of the planes were downed. The New China News Agency said antiaircraft fire killed two. The Soviet news agency Tass said three were shot to earth.

Tass reported one of the targets was in the area of Vinh Linh, a town eight miles north of the border.

American military authorities said 12 U.S. Air Force B57 jet bombers carried out 20 strikes within South Viet Nam today.

Twelve B57s flew sorties in Phuoc Tuy Province, in the coastal area east of Saigon, and eight B57s were in action in Kontum Province, some 250 miles north of Saigon, spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said they had no information on targets hit or the results of the strikes inside South Viet Nam.

Hanoi radio broadcast a threat by the Communists of South Viet Nam to call for international military help if the United States continues to expand the Vietnamese war.

A lengthy message by the political arm of the Viet Cong, the Central Committee of the South Viet Nam National Front for Liberation, said:

"If the U.S. imperialists continue to commit U.S. combat troops and those of their satellites to South Viet Nam and continue to extend the war to North Viet Nam and Laos, the South Viet Nam National Front for Liberation will continue to fight."

Young Americans For Freedom Set Viet Discussion

Ulster County Chapter of Young Americans for Freedom will hold a public discussion on the war in Viet Nam on Saturday 7:30 p. m. in the Supreme Court room, Ulster County courthouse, Wall Street.

William Werner of Port Ewen, county chapter chairman, who announced the meeting said Charles Wiley, noted foreign correspondent, who recently returned from that southeast Asian nation will address the gathering. Wiley has lectured all over the nation on Viet Nam why American forces are fighting there and has been making a candid appraisal of the U. S. chances of winning the war against the Communists.

Chairman Warner urged a large attendance. There is no admission charge.

Chairman Warner pointed out that Wiley is regarded as both a foreign correspondent and an authority on international communism and his reporting has taken him to over 100 trouble spots all over the world.

While serving as a correspondent in Cuba, Wiley was arrested by the Castro government and spent eight days in jail until pressure from the United States forced Castro to release him. Because of his outspoken criticism of communism and his hard-hitting reporting on the dangers of communism, Wiley has been arrested by several iron-curtain governments.

As a newspaperman Wiley has covered wars in Katanga, New Guinea, Laos, Algeria, Angola and most recently, Viet Nam. While covering the war in Viet Nam, Wiley was the only reporter to be granted an exclusive interview with the late President Diem and just last Christmas, Wiley spent the holiday with an American advisory team which was under attack by the Communist Viet Cong.

Chairman Warner, stated further that appearing with Wiley will be the state chairman of the Young Americans for Freedom, Donald G. Pemberton.

The Young Americans for Freedom was started almost five years ago in Sharon, Conn., to try and promote better Americanism among the nation's youth and since that time has attracted tens of thousands of young people over the nation into the movement.

Among the sponsors of the YAF are such distinguished Americans as Edgar Eisenhower, General Mark Clark, Barry Goldwater, Eddie Rickenbacker and many members of the United States Congress.

Two former members of Congress from this area, Katherine St. George and J. Ernest Wharton, are also sponsors of the YAF. One sponsor, Senator Strom Thurmond, (R-S. C.) has said of the YAF that it is the most responsible, effective, energetic youth group in the United States and the vital work that the group is doing is the most encouraging sign on the American scene today.

Guest Speaker Outlines Needs Of Jewish Appeal

"There are four crisis areas that the United Jewish Appeal is concerned with" according to Dr. William Korey, representative to the United Nations and director of the B'nai B'rith International Council, who spoke at a breakfast meeting of United Jewish Welfare Fund workers at the Kingston Jewish Community Center, Sunday.

The first crisis area, he said, was the "rising crescendo of immigration to Israel." Over 70,000 rescued and displaced Jews from Europe, Argentina and South Africa will arrive in a destitute condition this year. The second crisis area is the "pockets of poverty in Israel." According to Dr. Korey, over 350 thousand people are living in the country who have not yet been absorbed into the economy. These individuals are living in substandard "slum" conditions with extremely low incomes, with little educational opportunity for the younger generation.

A third area, he said, was "the needs of the Joint Distribution Committee" which has the responsibility for the survival and sustenance of four hundred thousand persons in Moslem countries, Eastern and Western Europe, and the Middle East. The fourth major crisis area of concern is the determined efforts of the United Arab Republic, under the Nassar regime to isolate and wipe out Israel. Dr. Korey quoted Mr. Nassar as saying "we are determined to march into Palestine on a path of blood."

The guest speaker was introduced to 55 workers Sunday morning by General Solicitation Chairman, Arnold Pinsley. Mr. Pinsley also introduced Herman

Counties to Have Final Word on Newcombe Run

Ulster County Republican Chairman, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, today stated his attitude towards the announced candidacy of Lloyd A. Newcombe of Catskill who is seeking the Senate seat in the newly created 43rd Senatorial District.

The 43rd District was established under plan "A" of the Reapportionment Act of the New York State Legislature and would include all of Ulster, Greene and Sullivan Counties, as well as a portion of Orange County. In making his statement, chairman Wilson pointed out that because of recent court decisions there is an element of doubt as to whether or no, there will be a reapportionment plan or a special election this year.

Wilson stated, "I first wish to make it very clear that I am speaking only as the Ulster County Chairman and that my statement should not be considered as a commitment on the part of the entire County Committee." The Republican Chairman then went on to say, "Ulster County is only part of the Senatorial District and I am not in a position to reflect the feelings of the other three counties or their leaders."

Chairman Wilson said that he has received many communications from people all over Ulster County in favor of Lloyd Newcombe and that numerous Republican town and city committeemen have indicated their support of Mr. Newcombe's candidacy. "I give a great deal of weight to the ever-rising tide of public and political expression in this county in favor of Lloyd Newcombe."

Wilson added that "Another factor in favor of Mr. Newcombe which must be considered is that despite the fact that Newcombe is a resident of Greene County he is a native son of Kingston and that he continues to maintain many business, family, social and political ties here in Ulster County."

The County GOP leader stated further that despite Lloyd Newcombe's defeat in his bid for the Senatorial nomination last year, even while winning the race here in Ulster County, Newcombe proved himself to be a truly good sport and a loyal Republican by pledging his full support to the Republican nominee, Sen. E. Odgen Bush.

Wilson concluded by stating, "Lloyd Newcombe, in addition to being a highly successful businessman, seems to me a fine intelligent and strong candidate for the office of State Senator and a person well qualified to fill that office if elected."

Question-and-answer Column No. 17

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I know that Social Security pensions are not taxable but how about Social Security lump benefits? Are they tax free too?

A—Yes they are. All Social Security benefits, whether they come from the federal government or a state government under a federal program, are exempt.

Q—I receive a pension from my company. Is the entire amount taxable?

A—If your employer paid the entire cost of your pension, and you made no contributions to it, then the full amount of the pension is taxable.

If you shared the cost of the pension then a part of your pension is your contribution to the plan and is tax free.

Check the instructions to Schedule B (Form 1040) for information on how to handle the pension if you shared its costs with your employer.

Q—What about strike benefits. Are they taxable?

A—It depends on the circumstances under which they are received. Strike benefits are taxable unless the facts show that the benefits were intended as a gift.

If you received strike benefits last year, check with your local office to see whether your benefits are considered taxable or not.

Q—Is April 15 always the deadline for individuals filing calendar year federal income tax returns?

A—Yes, unless the date falls on a Saturday or Sunday or legal holiday. In that case the next

Newcombe Having Booth for YMCA At Lions Show

Austin R. Newcombe Inc. will sponsor a booth for the YMCA at the annual Lions Club Exposition starting April 27 at the State Armory, Louis H. Schafer, Y executive secretary reports.

The YMCA, because of Newcombe's interest in the association, will be able to tell the public of its many activities during the exposition. The YMCA directs one of the most outstanding Day Camps in Ulster County. The camp has 35 acres located in Shokan at the foot of Tietonyk Mountain and is for boys and girls from kindergarten to 13 and 14 years of age. The summer of 1964 proved to be the best camp in attendance and the multiplicity of program activities. The 1965 season promises to overshadow last year's attendance as well as added program in all phases of camp activities and a better understanding of life in the out of doors.

The camp committee, along with camp director Leon I. Van Heusen, have many new developments to add to the pleasure of all campers. Work at camp will be started as soon as weather permits.

The YMCA, thanks to Mr. Newcombe, will have pictures and displays at the Lions Club booth. Camp brochures and summer program schedules for boys and girls, as well as the newly set program schedule of the Ladies Health Club. The Ladies Health Club will be the newest innovation started in the YMCA. It will have a Sauna Bath, the latest style individual shower baths, new lockers, hair driers and other equipment that go to make up a health club.

Special literature on all these programs for women, girls, men and boys will be available during the exposition. The Y will have special set ups for awards just for stopping at the booth and getting the literature containing all YMCA program activities. The swimming pool will be completely enclosed for privacy of both men and women. Information can be had by stopping at the booth. The Y expert staff and members of the Board of Directors will be on hand each evening.

Would Drop 'Senior' Fee

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvanians 65 years of age and over would fish for free under legislation now before the House.

A bill was introduced in the House Monday that would eliminate the $2-a-year fee for "senior citizens." The regular fishing license fee for those under 65 is $5.

Rep. J. Dean Polen of Washington County, Democrat, also introduced a bill that would allow the Fish Commission to sell water from lakes and streams it owns to surrounding communities for drinking or other uses, subject to the approval of the governor.

Question-and-answer Column No. 17

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

If you received strike benefits last year, check with your local office to see whether your benefits are considered taxable or not.

Q—Is April 15 always the deadline for individuals filing calendar year federal income tax returns?

A—Yes, unless the date falls on a Saturday or Sunday or legal holiday. In that case the next day, which is not a Saturday, Sunday or holiday, is the deadline. The April 15 deadline was set by Congress in 1954. It had been March 15.

Q—As a gift, my parents gave me $100 last Christmas. That would put my income for the year just over $600. Will this mean I have to file a return?

A—Gifts are not taxable income and do not have to be reported. Whether you are required to file a return or not depends on the amount of your other income. Here, since you had under $600 of taxable income you would not be required to file. However, if tax was withheld from your earnings you should file to get a refund of the tax withheld.

Q—How can I tell whether the interest on the bonds I own is subject to tax?

A—The interest on obligations of the U. S. or its agencies issued on or after March 1, 1941 and those issued by private businesses are fully taxable. The interest on bonds issued by state governments and their political subdivisions is not taxable.

If you are in doubt whether the bonds you own are tax-free, be sure to clarify this point before you file your return.

HOME IMPROVEMENT RACKET

Home improvement swindles are the No. 1 spring gyp, according to reports received by the National Better Business Bureau. It has been estimated that losses from this type of activity top $500 million a year.

Most spring rackets have common characteristics: phony bargains, tricky financing, guarantees not honored, materials misrepresented and performances exaggerated.

With no signs of a let up in consumer spending for home improvements, there is fear that the number of victims and the volume of losses this spring and summer will match or exceed the sorry statistics of the past.

To avoid being a victim of home racketeers, only deal with established, reputable firms. Local tradesmen and merchants have been of particularly fine service to residents of Kingston and the surrounding area. Home owners do not have to go elsewhere for their improvements to their properties.

The great benefit of doing business with a local concern, which stands back of its work and its materials, should be plain to everyone.

South Vietnamese planes bomb a place called Tiger Island. Those who picked the target must have been reading a lot of American auto and gasoline ads lately.

The taxpayer's chances are one in 23 that his federal return will be given a thorough audit. They're going to revive that old saying: Twenty-three skiddoo!

INCOME TAX LOOPHOLE

The acquittal of former Gov. William E. Stratton of Illinois, charged with federal income tax evasion, throws an interesting light on campaign contributions. He was accused of having, during his second term in 1957-60, failed to report $83,000 of taxable income, and to have evaded taxes on this sum. In his defense, Stratton pleaded that income from political contributions was untaxable.

Party leaders in Illinois supported this view. Notably among them was Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Republican floor leader in the Senate. Dirksen said that the important thing was the donor's intent: if he placed no restriction on the use of his contributions the recipient could employ them as he saw fit. And if they were made as campaign contributions, they were not taxable.

Stratton's expenditures during the term in question were for a variety of things including oil portraits of himself and his wife, a European trip for a daughter, household furniture, a riding horse, Christmas gifts, construction of a lodge, maintenance of a houseboat, and the remodeling of his mother's home. All this, he maintained was done out of campaign contributions, not out of taxable income which he had failed to report.

Here is a large loophole in the tax laws. If campaign contributions can go into a politician's pocket, without the necessity of reporting them, either the donor is being cheated or he is giving the politician too many favors. Clarification of the income tax law would seem to be in order.

A dispatch says most East Germans are resigned to the Red regime there. Which doesn't mean most of them wouldn't like to resign from it if they got a chance.

U.S. WANTS SAFER AUTOS

In law, the federal government has no authority in the field of automobile manufacturing. In practice, however, through the power of purchase, it can set requirements that could eventually become standard on all cars.

The General Services Administration has published a list of 17 new safety features it wants on the cars it buys, effective with the 1967 models. They include:

Crash harnesses for driver and passengers.
Steering wheel column that would not move more than eight inches toward the driver in a 30-mile-an-hour collision.

Standard gear positions on all automatic transmissions.

Electric windshield wipers and automatic windshield washers.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
LADY BIRD JOHNSON MIGHT LEARN FROM JAPAN

If, in such matters as guaranteeing the right to vote to all citizens, the country is in for a moral awakening, can Lady Bird Johnson's cherished esthetic awakening be very far behind?

The odds, at first glance, would seem to be against it. But the amount of passion that is being built up in the country against various practices that result in the fouling of our collective nest is bound to out. My friend Allan Seed, who runs a New York organization called Keep America Beautiful that is dedicated to the eradication of litter, tells me that his mail has tripled since Lady Bird Johnson started her "green heritage" campaign. The followers of the late Rachel Carson, who prophesied that we would some day have a landscape without songbirds if we didn't stop poisoning the soil with malignant chemicals, have just about taken over the garden clubs. A branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is waging warfare on above-ground utility lines, and the City Manager of Oakland, Calif., is also getting into this act. And when I tried to call last week on the editor of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin, he was at a meeting convened to consider ways and means of protecting San Francisco Bay from being used as a dumping ground for noxious chemicals and unsightly filth.

To legislate a universal distance from practices that offend human eyes, ears, palate and nostrils is a virtual impossibility. Tastes differ. I know of one person, economist Murray Rothbard, who is bored by the sight of too much greenery; he likes to look at roadside billboards because they vary the monotony for him. A "consensus" for abolishing billboards by law would be savagely fought by the so-called billboard lobby, which is next to the national pressure group maintained by the schoolteachers. But if Lyndon Johnson could get a blue-ribbon group of businessmen and bankers to cut down voluntarily on the money they normally put up for foreign investment, he might succeed in persuading certain big industrialists to give up at least some of the billboard advertising they do.

Is it Utopian to think that the voluntary approach could possibly be extended to tackling the billboard blight? Well, in Japan the voluntary approach has worked, at least to some extent. In traveling to the West Coast I ran into the story of Hitachi, Ltd., which is the biggest Japanese manufacturer of electronic devices. Hitachi sells its products all over the world from Tokyo to Sao Paulo in Brazil, and it is as wide-awake an advertiser as Madison Avenue could wish. But on its own free will it has gone out of the business of using billboards to sell its product.

It did this when its present Executive Managing Director, Susumu Kiyonari, was put in charge of public relations for the company. The first thing that Mr. Kiyonari did as advertising and publicity director was to remove every bit of Hitachi billboard advertising from along the railway tracks of Japan. Then he turned his controlled wrath on telephone pole advertising. To make his point, he sent several of his employees on a company-paid expedition to the mountain resort of Nikko, not far from Tokyo. The employees got an eyeeful of unsightly Hitachi telephone pole ads along the highway, and came back to the office in full agreement that they should be taken down. Susumu Kiyonari was gratified that the curtailment of billboard and telephone pole advertising had no appreciable effect on Hitachi's business. But, as a patron of Japanese art, which delights in uncluttered landscapes, he would have done what he did even if it had cost a little money.

There may be no Susumu Kiyonari in America. But if Lyndon or Lady Bird Johnson can find one it might help to get the "green heritage" crusade moving in high gear.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Nothing So Rare Today
As Plain Common Sense

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

It has been said that nothing is so rare these days as common sense.

This is illustrated by such contradictory behavior as having seat belts installed in your car then being thrown from the car in an accident because you hadn't bothered to fasten your belt. Or eating so much of the right foods that you have a serious problem with excess baggage.

A doctor recently treated a man for a peptic ulcer. The man had worried himself sick about radioactive fallout when he should have been relaxing. Efficient government agencies are paid to worry about fallout for us and so far they report that the situation is under control.

We blame the many injuries that occur in the home on accidents but fail to add that we were too lazy or indifferent to prevent them.

We take a drink to help us relax then climb into a car and drive an unrelaxed 60 miles per hour. This can lead to some prolonged relaxing in a hospital.

We take pills at night to help us sleep and pep pills in the morning to get us going again. Then we wonder why we never feel quite up to par.

Did you ever stop and puzzle over how the rest of the animal kingdom gets along so well without tranquilizers? Maybe they're smarter than we think they are.

Q—What is a caruncle? Can it be cured?
A—I assume that you do not mean a caruncle, which is a large boil with more than one opening. A caruncle is a small fleshy outgrowth anywhere in the body. A normal example is found at the inner angle of the eye. In some women a painful caruncle forms at the outlet of the bladder. If such a caruncle is small, it can be touched with an electric cautery, after which it will disappear. But if it is large it may have to be cut out. There is usually some infection in a bladder with a painful caruncle and this must be treated to prevent a recurrence.

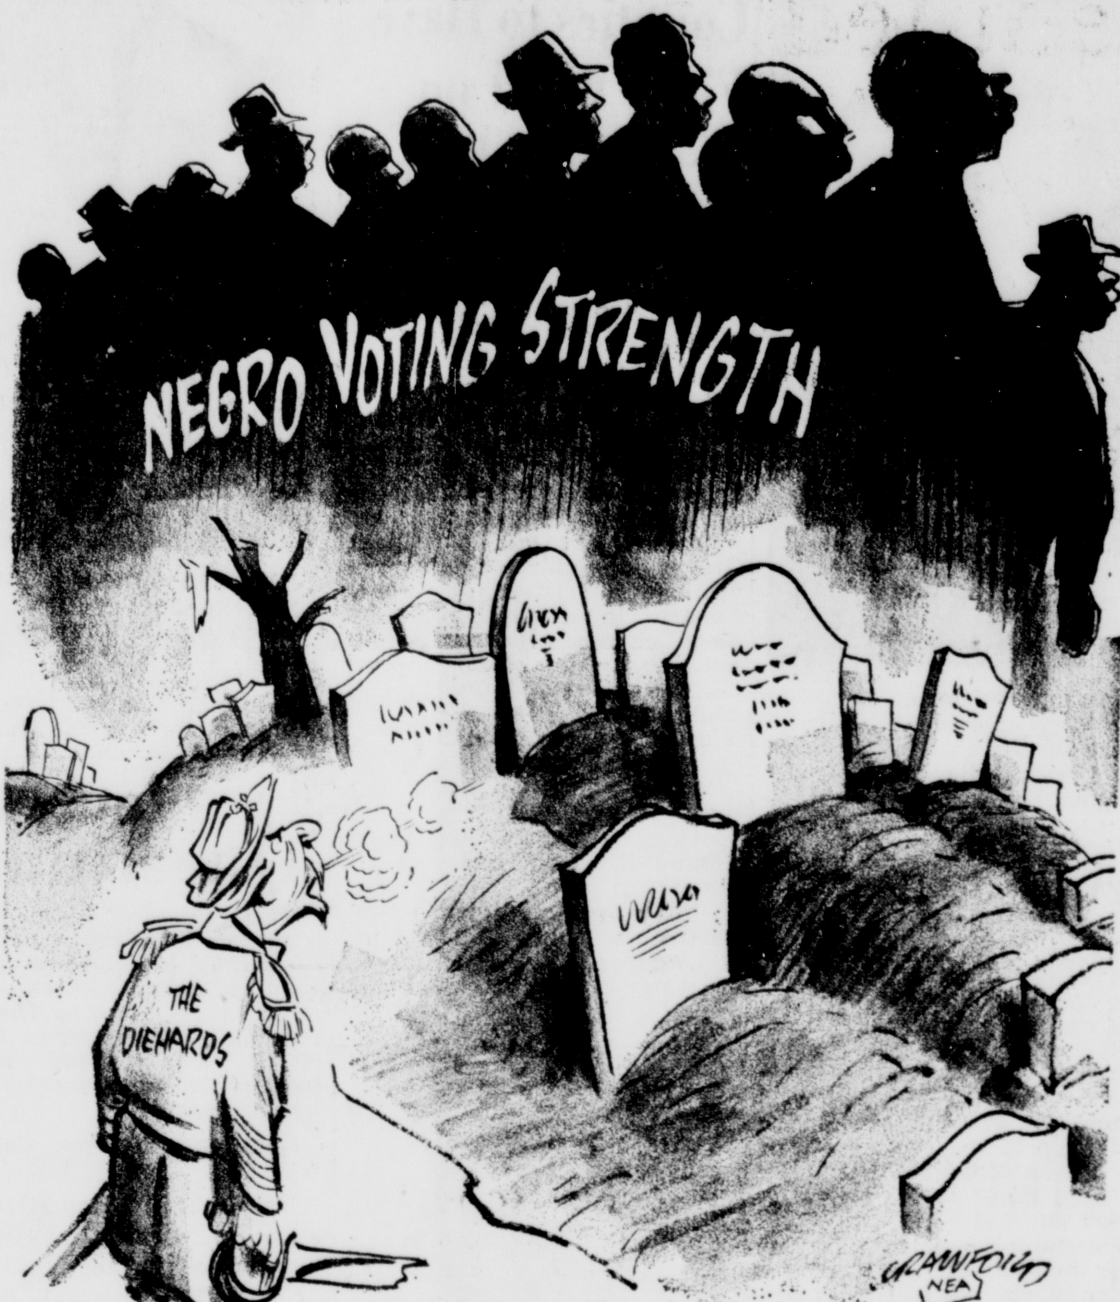

Q—My doctor says my blood cholesterol level (311) is too high. He put me on a fat-poor diet and it came down to 285. Should I keep on with the diet?
A—Although the textbooks give 150 to 280 as the normal range of cholesterol in the blood, heart specialists have found that persons with over 245 milligrams per 100 milliliters of blood are three times as likely to have coronary heart disease as those with 220 or less. Bearing this in mind I think you should cooperate with your doctor in an effort to bring your own level down even further.

Getting Harder to Whistle "Dixie"

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Republican leaders trying to lift their party from defeat have looked to scattered 1965 elections as possible stepping stones to the obviously crucial vote tests of 1966. But the 1965 outlook has already turned bleak.

The big ones this year are, of course, the New York mayoralty, and the governorships of New Jersey and Virginia. Republican hopes are terribly thin in all three races.

What shreds of promise the GOP does have are to be found in New Jersey, where aggressive State Sen. Wayne Dumont has been chosen by party leaders to oppose Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes.

Like most governors, Hughes is plagued with budget and tax problems, not to mention all the other burdens that today afflict a highly urbanized state. Nevertheless, Democratic sources believe, with evident good reason, that he is solidly placed to win a second term.

Dumont is a two-time loser as a party independent in previous governorship primaries. He was not the first choice of some key moderates in New Jersey. He may have primary opposition. And his old advocacy of a state sales tax may not help him in a state that long has shunned that levy.

Yet, with all the drawbacks, Dumont must be put down as the best major prospect Republicans have in 1965.

A SECRET PARLEY WAS HELD RECENTLY in Roanoke

by party chiefs hopeful of finding a good runner for the Virginia governorship. Nothing has surfaced yet. But at best the hope can only be for a respectable vote showing. Even this is elusive. Rarely has a Republican nominee for governor approached or gone beyond 40 per cent of the vote in Virginia.

The announced Democratic candidate, Lt. Gov. Mills Godwin, choice of Sen. Harry Byrd, has to be viewed as a nearly automatic winner unless the GOP comes up with a dazzling figure and totally unforeseen calculations enter the equation.

In the New York mayoralty arena, nothing is happening to revive party spirits dashed when the two leading Republican prospects — Sen. Jacob Javits and Rep. John Lindsay — pulled out.

No matter what fine words are uttered to surround the eventual GOP nominee with an aura of hope, Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner seems sure to trounce him and take a fourth term.

Probably Wagner would also have beaten Javits or Lindsay, though Javits is represented as believing that an investment of money, effort and time commensurate with the challenge could have paid off for him.

THE THING ABOUT THE NEW YORK MAYORALTY race is that a Javits or Lindsay candidacy would have told an increasingly urbanized nation of voters that the Republican party was prepared to lavish its best vote-getters on an effort to win back the big cities.

The symbolic value of this gesture, even if it proved only that, would have been immense for a party badly shut out of the urban centers.

Nat only in this race but in the New Jersey and Virginia governorships as well the moment called out for daring effort, for imaginative choices which would stir in the party and the electorate a widening conviction that Republicans are ready for a big turn upward.

Basically, the odds were not good at the outset in any of the three big races. Defeat could easily be rationalized. But in the party's serious national plight, lack of zest and bold planning cannot be so quickly excused.

At least in New York and New Jersey, the evidence in hand suggests that in 1965 the first moves incident to a broad party rebuilding have fallen prey to the narrow, often personal concerns of Republicans who find it hard to see beyond their own back yards.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Baltimore, Md.—He is a small man with pink cheeks, and eyes as dark and round as abandoned wells and he looks out the window of his new home and sees gold sun on the eaves across the street. "Eight minutes to sun down," he says, and goes back to his study of the Jewish-Catholic colloquy. He was a participant.

Rabbi Jacob Agus does not think it amusing. He went to the archabbey at Latrobe, Pa., and he met the priests. The seminars were cordial and enlightening and they asked him to show them the exact form of the Passover Feast. He knew much about their church, because the rabbi has studied the form and substance of all faiths. They knew a little about his.

A Jew is not easy to understand. It doesn't even have a point of view because it has no central authority. The communion of all Jews is in the five books of Moses. It does not matter whether the Jews are orthodox, conservative or reformed. They are bound by faith, by blood, by tradition and by Jehovah, the One God.

Rabbi Agus is the leader of the conservative temple, Beth El, in the Park Heights area of Baltimore. It is an upper middle-class section, and 800 families belong to the temple. The new building was erected in 1960, and as modern as Lincoln Center in New York. A rich temple, however, cannot buy a ticket to paradise. A temple requires a teacher.

This is a good one. Better than good, Rabbi Agus, at the age of 53, is not only a graduate of Yeshiva, but a Ph.D. and a Master's degree from Harvard University. He has written several books about Jewish history, and is consultant on Jewish affairs to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

As the Giffen family of Georgia spawned great American rabbis, so too the Agus family raised rabbinical scholars in Italy, Germany, Poland and Lithuania in the past five hundred years.

The minimum a Jewish family contributes is $150 per year. Many donate much more. However, if the head of a family cannot give $150, payment is suspended and is often assumed by a wealthy member. Those who give more than is required usually occupy the forward pews; others sit further back.

The average Jewish family is expected to be charitable without being prodded. Heads of family give money to temple, to the Sisterhood, Hadassah, United Jewish Appeal, Yeshiva University, and, besides supporting a family and less favored relatives, the Jew is also urged to invest in Bonds for Israel.

It isn't easy. Nor is there any end to the giving. Wives are expected to work unremittingly for worthy causes. Even the children are taught that charity is the finest of the virtues.

The conservative wing in Jewry in America is part of the World Council of Synagogues. They support the Jewish Theological Seminary, whose president is the noted Dr. Louis Finkelstein.

If the congregation does so much, what does the rabbi do? He conducts services and interprets the word of God. He visits the sick. He counsels families with problems. He supervises education in Jewish schools. He must administer the temple and be responsible for expenditures. He supervises a kindergarten.

"A rabbi," said Dr. Agus, "is drawn to his calling not through piety or scholarship, but mainly because he is aware of the problems of the Jewish people." I asked him what he, who is a Christian, can do to further understanding as he did when he visited the priests.

"I feel that we need to have confidence in Jewish hearts," he

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Forced voting may be on its way for the individual citizen in America. Thus far, the coercion would apply only to certain persons in particular states. But this is a form of discrimination which has been included in the pending voting-rights measure.

Just why President Johnson has approved of the idea of punishing certain citizens because they do not vote at least once in three years is a mystery. There are lots of persons who become ill or suddenly find they have to be away from home on election day or cannot get an absentee ballot in time. No explanation has been advanced as to just why such individuals are to be penalized if they fail to vote.

The voting-rights bill, which is supposed to be passed by Congress soon, would penalize newly listed voters rather than those already registered, since it would apply only to those voters whose names have been put on the list of eligibles by Federal examiners or registrars. The proposed statute actually says that a citizen may lose his right to vote and that his or her name can be removed from the list of eligibles by a Federal examiner if the latter determines that the individual has not voted "at least once during three consecutive years" while listed as eligible.

Compulsory voting is enforced in some countries, but it applies to all citizens. As far as is known, every country with such a citizen penalizes everyone, and not just selected citizens.

Oddly enough, with all the talk about anti-discrimination and giving every citizen an opportunity to vote, nothing has been done by the Administration to prevent corruption at the polls, either in the casting or the counting of the ballots in all Federal, state and local elections. Yet the Federal government now is assuming the right to control the voting process in all elections throughout the country. The only reference in the bill to improper counting pertains to those states which, under the rules to be laid down, will have been adjudged to have discriminated in the past. The law would not apply to dishonesty in other states. The Chicago Tribune, in an editorial, said the other day:

"Alabama and the other states of the Deep South—not the only places where citizens are deprived of their right to vote and to have their votes counted honestly. At every election in Chicago, thousands of Negroes and other citizens are intimidated and bribed by Democratic precinct captains. Illiterate voters and voters who swear they are illiterate are followed into the polling booths, and the voting machines are pulled for them.

"Another method of controlling votes is particularly effective among voters who are receiving public welfare payments or living in public housing. They are visited in their homes, asked to sign ballot applications, and then told they need not appear at the polls. Their votes are cast for them early on the morning of election day.

All these practices are just as illegal and immoral as the various devices to keep Negroes from voting in Alabama; yet we have heard of no move by the leader of the Great Society party to assure honest elections in Chicago."

Undoubtedly, there will be amendments proposed to protect the voters, but it is difficult to see how these will apply to all 50 states, since the legislation is particularly framed to deal only with certain states where there has been discrimination in the past by reason of race or color. Timothy P. Sheehan, chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee in Chicago, has sent to all Republican members of the Illinois delegation in Congress a telegram which reads in part:

"Stiff penalties should be written into the new law so that the voter can properly exercise his free will and judgment without fear or intimidation, as well as stern penalties for failure of election officials to count and tally the votes properly in order to prevent the many abuses which take place in Chicago and other major cities."

Charges have been made that the 1960 Presidential election might have resulted in a victory for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, rather than for Messrs. Kennedy and Johnson, if the votes had been properly counted in certain states, including Illinois—particularly in Chicago and Cook County. The Chicago Tribune also says:

"The recent report by the Eagle Eye Organization on the election last Nov. 3 is a shocking catalogue of the ways the Democratic organization systematically steals thousands of votes."

But it so happens that the new "civil rights" bill is concerned with punishing only the South, allegedly for discrimination in the past. No effort is being made to apply all the restrictions with respect to voting rights to the other states of the Union, where, statistically speaking, there has been no discrimination because more than 50 per cent of the persons of voting age were registered or cast their ballots in November, 1964.

The new legislation, if passed in its present form, will turn out to be a highly discriminatory measure, though ostensibly designed to end discrimination in the registering of voters.

HOME IMPROVEMENT RACKET

Home improvement swindles are the No. 1 spring gyp, according to reports received by the National Better Business Bureau. It has been estimated that losses from this type of activity top $500 million a year.

Most spring rackets have common characteristics: phony bargains, tricky financing, guarantees not honored, materials misrepresented and performances exaggerated.

With no signs of a let up in consumer spending for home improvements, there is fear that the number of victims and the volume of losses this spring and summer will match or exceed the sorry statistics of the past.

To avoid being a victim of home racketeers, only deal with established, reputable firms. Local tradesmen and merchants have been of particularly fine service to residents of Kingston and the surrounding area. Home owners do not have to go elsewhere for their improvements to their properties.

The great benefit of doing business with a local concern, which stands back of its work and its materials, should be plain to everyone.

South Vietnamese planes bomb a place called Tiger Island. Those who picked the target must have been reading a lot of American auto and gasoline ads lately.

INCOME TAX LOOPHOLE

The acquittal of former Gov. William E. Stratton of Illinois, charged with federal income tax evasion, throws an interesting light on campaign contributions. He was accused of having, during his second term in 1957-60, failed to report $83,000 of taxable income, and to have evaded taxes on this sum. In his defense, Stratton pleaded that income from political contributions was untaxable.

Party leaders in Illinois supported this view. Notably among them was Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Republican floor leader in the Senate. Dirksen said that the important thing was the donor's intent: if he placed no restriction on the use of his contributions the recipient could employ them as he saw fit. And if they were made as campaign contributions, they were not taxable.

Stratton's expenditures during the term in question were for a variety of things including oil portraits of himself and his wife, a European trip for a daughter, household furniture, a riding horse, Christmas gifts, construction of a lodge, maintenance of a houseboat, and the remodeling of his mother's home. All this, he maintained was done out of campaign contributions, not out of taxable income which he had failed to report.

Here is a large loophole in the tax laws. If campaign contributions can go into a politician's pocket, without the necessity of reporting them, either the donor is being cheated or he is giving the politician too many favors. Clarification of the income tax law would seem to be in order.

U.S. WANTS SAFER AUTOS

In law, the federal government has no authority in the field of automobile manufacturing. In practice, however, through the power of purchase, it can set requirements that could eventually become standard on all cars.

The General Services Administration has published a list of 17 new safety features it wants on the cars it buys, effective with the 1967 models. They include:

Crash harnesses for driver and passengers. Steering wheel column that would not move more than eight inches toward the driver in a 30-mile-an-hour collision.

Standard gear positions on all automatic transmissions.

Electric windshield wipers and automatic windshield washers.

No matter what fine words are uttered to surround the eventual GOP nominee with an aura of hope, Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner seems sure to trounce him and take a fourth term.

Probably Wagner would also have beaten Javits or Lindsay, though Javits is represented as believing that an investment of money, effort and time commensurate with the challenge could have paid off for him.

THE THING ABOUT THE NEW YORK MAYORALTY race is that a Javits or Lindsay candidacy would have told an increasingly urbanized nation of voters that the Republican party was prepared to lavish its best vote-getters on an effort to win back the big cities.

The symbolic value of this gesture, even if it proved only that, would have been immense for a party badly shut out of the urban centers.

Nat only in this race but in the New Jersey and Virginia governorships as well the moment called out for daring effort, for imaginative choices which would stir in the party and the electorate a widening conviction that Republicans are ready for a big turn upward.

Basically, the odds were not good at the outset in any of the three big races. Defeat could easily be rationalized. But in the party's serious national plight, lack of zest and bold planning cannot be so quickly excused.

At least in New York and New Jersey, the evidence in hand suggests that in 1965 the first move incident to a broad party rebuilding have fallen prey to the narrow, often personal concerns of Republicans who find it hard to see beyond their own back yards.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Baltimore, Md.—He is a small man with pink cheeks, and eyes as dark and round as abandoned wells and he looks out the window of his new home and sees gold sun on the eaves across the street. "Eight minutes to sundown," he says, and goes back to his study of the Jewish-Catholic colloquy He was a participant.

Rabbi Jacob Agus does not think it amusing. He went to the archbishop at Latrobe, Pa. and he met the priests. The seminars were cordial and enlightening and they asked him to show them the exact form of the Passover Feast. He knew much about their church, because the rabbi has studied the form and substance of all faiths. They knew a little about his.

Jewry is not easy to understand. It doesn't even have a point of view because it has no central authority. The communion of all Jews is in the five books of Moses. It does not matter whether the Jews are orthodox, conservative or reformed. They are bound by faith, by blood, by tradition and by Jehovah, the One God.

Rabbi Agus is the leader of the conservative temple, Beth El, in the Park Heights area of Baltimore. It is an upper middle-class section, and 800 families belong to the temple. The new building was erected in 1960, and as modern as Lincoln Center in New York. A rich temple, however, cannot buy a ticket to paradise. A temple requires a teacher.

This is a good one. Better than good, Rabbi Agus, at the age of 53, is not only a graduate of Yeshiva, but a Ph.D. and a Master's degree from Harvard University. He has written several books about Jewish history, and is consultant on Jewish affairs to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

As the Geffen family of Georgia spawned great American rabbis, so too the Agus family raised rabbinical scholars in Italy, Germany, Poland and Lithuania in the past five hundred years.

It isn't easy. Nor is there any end to the giving. Wives are expected to work unrelentingly for worthy causes. Even the children are taught that charity is the finest of the virtues.

The conservative wing in Jewry in America is part of the World Council of Synagogues. They support the Jewish Theological Seminary, whose president is the noted Dr. Louis Finkelstein.

If the congregation does so much, what does the rabbi do? He conducts services and interprets the word of God. He visits the sick. He counsels families with problems. He supervises education in Jewish school. He must administer the temple and be responsible for expenditures. He supervises a kindergarten.

"A rabbi," said Dr. Agus, "is drawn to his calling not through piety or scholarship, but mainly because he is aware of the problems of the Jewish people." I asked him what we, who are Christians, can do to further understanding as he did when he visited the priests.

"I feel that we need to have confidence in Jewish hearts," he

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Forced voting may be on its way for the individual citizen in America. Thus far, the coercion would apply only to certain persons in particular states. But this is a form of discrimination which has been included in the pending voting-rights measure.

Just why President Johnson has approved of the idea of punishing certain citizens because they do not vote at least once in three years is a mystery. There are lots of persons who become ill or suddenly find they have to be away from home on election day or cannot get an absentee ballot in time. No explanation has been advanced as to just why such individuals are to be penalized if they fail to vote.

The voting-rights bill, which is supposed to be passed by Congress soon, would penalize newly listed voters rather than those already registered, since it would apply only to those voters whose names have been put on the list of eligibles by Federal examiners or registrars. The proposed statute actually says that a citizen may lose his right to vote and that his or her name can be removed from the list of eligibles by a Federal examiner if the latter determines that the individual has not voted "at least once during three consecutive years" while listed as eligible.

Compulsory voting is enforced in some countries, but it applies to all citizens. As far as is known, every country with such a citizen penalizes everyone, and not just selected citizens.

Oddly enough, with all the talk about anti-discrimination and giving every citizen an opportunity to vote, nothing has been done by the Administration to prevent corruption at the polls, either in the casting or the counting of the ballots in all Federal, state and local elections. Yet the Federal government now is assuming the right to control the voting process in all elections throughout the country. The only reference in the bill to improper counting pertains to those states which, under the rules to be laid down, will have been adjudged to have discriminated in the past. The law would not apply to dishonesty in other states. The Chicago Tribune, in an editorial, said the other day:

"Alabama and the other states of the Deep South are the only places where citizens are deprived of their right to vote and to have their votes counted honestly. At every election in Chicago, thousands of Negroes and other citizens are intimidated and bribed by Democratic precinct captains. Illiterate voters and voters who swear they are illiterate are followed into the polling booths, and the voting machines are pulled for them.

"Another method of controlling votes is particularly effective among voters who are receiving public welfare payments or living in public housing. They are visited in their homes, asked to sign ballot applications, and then told they need not appear at the polls. Their votes are cast for them early on the morning of election day.

All these practices are just as illegal and immoral as the various devices to keep Negroes from voting in Alabama; yet we have heard of no move by the leader of the Great Society party to assure honest elections in Chicago."

Undoubtedly, there will be amendments proposed to protect the voters, but it is difficult to see how these will apply to all 50 states, since the legislation is particularly framed to deal only with certain states where there has been discrimination in the past by reason of race or color. Timothy P. Sheehan, chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee in Chicago, has sent to all Republican members of the Illinois delegation in Congress a telegram which reads in part:

"Stiff penalties should be written into the new law so that the voter can properly exercise his free will and judgment without fear or intimidation, as well as stern penalties for failure of election officials to count and tally the votes properly in order to prevent the many abuses which take place in Chicago and other major cities."

Charges have been made that the 1960 Presidential election might have resulted in a victory for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, rather than for Messrs. Kennedy and Johnson, if the votes had been properly counted in certain states, including Illinois—particularly in Chicago and Cook County. The Chicago Tribune also says:

"The recent report by the Eagle Eye Organization on the election last Nov. 3 is a shocking catalogue of the ways the Democratic organization systematically steals thousands of votes."

But it so happens that the new "civil rights" bill is concerned with punishing only the South, allegedly for discrimination in the past. No effort is being made to apply all the restrictions with respect to voting rights to the other states of the Union, where, statistically speaking, there has been no discrimination because more than 50 per cent of the persons of voting age were registered or cast their ballots in November, 1964.

The new legislation, if passed in its present form, will turn out to be a highly discriminatory measure, though ostensibly designed to cure discrimination in the registering of voters.

Self-Service PO Great Potential Newkirk Reports

More service facilities for the postal customer are receiving new emphasis in the postal system, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk commented today after receiving word from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington, D. C. of a new improved "self-service post office."

The new experimental 24-hour self-service unit — the second — opened in mid-March outside of Los Angeles, to meet after-hours postage and mailing needs of suburbanites.

The first unit was installed recently at a shopping center outside Washington, D. C. It offers around-the-clock facilities for buying stamps, postal cards and envelopes at cost, mailing letters and weighing and mailing parcels.

In the new model, the vending machines dispensing cards, envelopes, etc., have five times as much capacity, and a larger roof over the vending devices and parcel post drops for better protection of the public.

Self-Service PO Great Potential Newkirk Reports

More service facilities for the postal customer are receiving new emphasis in the postal system, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk commented today after receiving word from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington, D. C. of a new improved "self-service post office."

The new experimental 24-hour self-service unit—the second—opened in mid-March outside of Los Angeles, to meet after-hours postage and mailing needs of suburbanites. The first unit was installed recently at a shopping center outside Washington, D. C. It offers around-the-clock facilities for buying stamps, postal cards and envelopes at cost, mailing letters and weighing and mailing parcels.

In the new model, the vending machines dispensing cards, envelopes, etc., have five times as much capacity, and a larger roof over the vending devices and parcel post drops for better protection of the public.

Noting that the self-service units are designed as a supplement to service, and not as a replacement for central postal facilities or personnel, Postmaster Newkirk added:

"While there has been no determination yet of how far this program will be expanded, it has a great potential for helping to meet the tremendous increases in suburban service demands more efficiently, while providing even better service."

Note Negligence Actions in Court

An automobile negligence action arising out of a collision in Rosendale in 1963 was taken up for trial in Supreme Court Monday and continued Tuesday. Olive Baxter and her husband, George Baxter, Kingston, bring an action against Mae Kimker and her husband, of Rosendale, for injuries which Mrs. Baxter received when the car in which she was riding was involved in an accident with the Kimker car, which was being backed out of a driveway by Mrs. Kimker. Gaffney and Hill, with Joseph Hill as trial counsel, appear for plaintiffs and Larkin and Vogt, with John L. Larkin as trial counsel, appear for defendant.

Brown-Mamona Settled

An action brought by Joseph Brown against Mamona Realty Co., Inc., was settled after being moved for trial. Philip Korn of Kerhonkson appeared for plaintiff and Larkin and Vogt with John L. Larkin as trial counsel, appeared for defendant.

Also settled after a jury had been selected in Supreme Court before Justice Lawrence H. Cooke was an automobile negligence action brought by Wilbur J. Wynne of Saugerties against Colony Liquor Distributors, Inc., and Vincent J. Andretta, Jr., arising out of a collision on May 29, 1958, at the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge. G. Thomas Rea of Saugerties with Charles F. Gaffney as trial counsel, appeared for plaintiff who was in the U.S. Navy at the time of the accident. The defendants were represented by Roland Hurley and Fox with Harry Fox as trial counsel.

An action involving two youths resulted in a verdict of $1 for plaintiff in an assault and battery action brought by Alex V. Cashara, by his father as guardian, Kingston, against Peter Mills, also of Kingston. Cashara contended he had been pushed off a bicycle by Mills. The jury awarded $1 on the assault charge and on other accusation, a verdict of no cause for action. Frank Campochiare appeared for plaintiff and Gaffney and Hill with Charles F. Gaffney as trial counsel for defendant. The incident took place in August, 1962.

An action involving a sleigh-riding accident brought by Allan Williams by his mother of Kingston, against Frank Wroblewski, was announced settled after being moved for trial. William P. Curran appeared for plaintiff and Ewig and Beck with George Beck as trial counsel appeared for defendant.

Jury Selected

Also settled after a jury had been selected was an automobile negligence action brought by August Mastrocola against Nathan Katatsky. This action involved an accident on Broadway near the Murphy Funeral Home in August 1963. Gaffney and Hill, with Joseph Hill of counsel, appeared for plaintiff and Ewig and Beck, by George Beck, appeared for defendant.

An action brought by Margaret Zehentner of Bloomington for the death of her husband in May of 1963, against Harold F. Krom and Adirondack Bus Lines, was also settled. Krom was the operator of the bus involved in the accident near Bloomington. Gaffney and Hill appeared for plaintiff and John L. Larkin for defendants.

An accident at Broadway and West O'Reilly Street on December 4, 1962, involving the cars of Arthur Crist and James Wood, was the subject of another negligence action settled. Crist alleged his car had been struck in the rear by the Wood car. Gaffney and Hill appeared for plaintiff and Cook and Cook by Francis X. Tucker as trial counsel appeared for defendant.

American Bar Head Cites Crime Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lewis F. Powell Jr., president of the American Bar Association, said Tuesday that willful law violators and those who use civil disobedience instead of courts to challenge laws are "eroding the very foundation of our democracy."

Powell, of Richmond, Va., told the Bar Association of San Francisco and the Lawyers' Club that the increasing crime rate is a national problem. "The crime rate is increasing five times faster than our population," he said, "but Americans — unless their immediate families are involved — are generally apathetic."

He blamed misconduct of government officials, labor law violations by union officials, anti-trust violations by businessmen, and civil disobedience by civil rights workers for a general disregard for law.

Town Constables
To Aid Village
Police Patrols

Due to the many burglaries in the area, the New Paltz Town Board is making plans for more night patrol by local police. It was agreed at the recent meeting to have two constables riding together on night duty.

Six attempted burglaries in one night have alarmed the local citizens to such an extent that the town board has agreed to allow two town constables to be on duty to supplement the village police.

Town and village officials together with the town constables met at a special meeting to outline patrol schedules and routes. The board approved the request of Supervisor Peter Savago to attend the County Board of Supervisors meeting to be held at Grossingers on March 28 to 30.

Savago read a report from the State Highway Commission regarding the disposition of an abandoned piece of property of some .026 acres west of the barricade leading to Abram Paradies property. As this piece of property was abandoned, the board approved the sale of the same to Paradies for the sum of $50, with the stipulation that the barricades remain.

Ike Pole, superintendent of highways, asked that the board ask the county for a bid on oilstone and other highway materials, in order that the town avail itself of better prices for its own use. He also requested a clarification as to what arrangements could be made regarding the care of a piece of highway leading to the Herman Jenkins farm. The board decided to take these items under consideration.

The board has been receiving letters from citizens on South Putt Corners Road regarding the odor emanating from the incinerator from the Agway Plant. It was suggested that a letter to the plant officials requesting a hearing on the subject be sent.

Fashion Show Models

Models for the St. Joseph's Mothers' Guild Fashion Show to be held on April 1 at St. Joseph's Center have been announced. The show will be the first one in New Paltz to feature clothes and items only from local merchants.

Men's fashions will be modeled by Louis Benson, Thomas Dain and Paul Benson. Models for women's clothes will be Kathleen Riche, Elizabeth Bender, Mrs. Frank Dooley, Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. John McClosky and Mrs. James Whelan. Children who will model dress and play clothes will be Theresa Croce, Meg Delay, Mary Elizabeth Demers, Gary Schulte and Scott Tasker.

Tickets may be obtained from local merchants or from any member of St. Joseph's Mothers' Guild.

Salvation Army Drive

According to Brigadier K. E. Moss, director of the service extension department of the Salvation Army, a meeting of the New Paltz Unit was held recently at the Witz Motel Restaurant. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for conducting the annual Salvation Army appeal for funds which will get underway about June 1.

William Morris, treasurer of the New Paltz Service Unit Committee will be campaign chairman, assisted by the chairman of the committee, Frederick C. Dippel and other members. A quota of $1,200 was set by the committee for the campaign.

Dr. Dutto Starts
As Acting Health
Commissioner

Dr. Bartholomew J. Dutto of Kingston started his first day today as acting health commissioner for Ulster County. He will serve in that capacity until such time as the Board of Supervisors make a permanent appointment to the post.

Dr. Dutto was named to the temporary position upon the resignation of Dr. Theodore S. Drachman of Philmont, Columbia County, effective today. Dr. Drachman, who had served as county health commissioner since February 1963, had announced his resignation earlier. A published author, Dr. Drachman reportedly planned to retire to devote more time to writing. He was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate last fall for assemblyman from Columbia County.

Meanwhile, Dr. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz, president of the Ulster County Board of Health, told The Freeman today that the Board was in the process of considering candidates for appointment to the health commissioner's post.

A native of Olive Bridge, Dr. Dutto attended Kingston schools; received a bachelor of science degree from Catholic University and doctor of medicine degree from George Washington University. He interned at St. Joseph's Hospital and later served five years in the Army in World War II, being discharged with the rank of major after participating in action in the European Theatre of Operations.

Dr. Dutto has been practicing in Kingston; received psychiatric training at the Albany Medical center, and is on the staff of the Benedictine Hospital. He is married to the former Eileen Rodgers of Yonkers. They have a daughter, Barbara, 15, and a son, Bart Jr., 12, and reside at 147 North Manor Avenue here.

Dutchess Crane
Arrives for Hilton
Mop-up Operation

HILTON, N.Y. (AP) — This small, Upstate village near Lake Ontario, officially declared a disaster area after a fire that wrecked 80 per cent of its business district and killed one woman, today turned to the task of cleaning up.

And on hand to aid in the cleanup were State Highway Department cranes — including one from Poughkeepsie — ordered into the village by Gov. Rockefeller. In addition, neighboring communities offered trucks and manpower in the main street mop-up operation.

The Small Business Administration office in Washington Tuesday night declared the village of 1,800 persons a disaster area. This will entitle businessmen, who lost stores and buildings in the blaze Sunday, to apply for long-term, low-interest repair loans.

The 3 per cent loans, which could be available from the federal agency in 10 days to two weeks, would be used for restoring the business district.

Nurse Takes Day Off, Dies in Fire

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A nursing supervisor, who had taken the day off to recuperate from a virus ailment, was killed Tuesday when fire swept her 2½-story frame home.

Mrs. Blanche Walker was alone and in a second-floor bedroom fire officials reported.

Mrs. Walker had eaten lunch at home with her husband,

Charles, and son, Charles Jr., 12, and then was alone the rest of the afternoon. She was head nurse of the rehabilitation ward at Strong Memorial Hospital here.

Town Constables
Police Patrols

Due to the many burglaries in the area, the New Paltz Town Board is making plans for more night patrol by local police. It was agreed at the recent meeting to have two constables riding together on night duty.

Six attempted burglaries in one night have alarmed the local citizens to such an extent that the town board has agreed to allow two town constables to be on duty to supplement the village police.

Town and village officials together with the town constables met at a special meeting to outline patrol schedules and routes. The board approved the request of Supervisor Peter Savago to attend the County Board of Supervisors meeting to be held at Grossingers on March 28 to 30.

Savago read a report from the State Highway Commission regarding the disposition of an abandoned piece of property of some .026 acres west of the barricade leading to Abram Paradise property. As this piece of property was abandoned, the board approved the sale of the same to Paradise for the sum of $50, with the stipulation that the barricades remain.

Ike Pole, superintendent of highways, asked that the board ask the county for a bid on oil, stone and other highway materials, in order that the town avail itself of better prices for its own use. He also requested a clarification as to what arrangements could be made regarding the care of a piece of highway leading to the Herman Jenkins farm. The board decided to take these items under consideration.

The board has been receiving letters from citizens on South Putt Corners Road regarding the odor emanating from the incinerator from the Agway Plant. It was suggested that a letter to the plant officials requesting a hearing on the subject be sent.

Fashion Show Models

Models for the St. Joseph's Mothers' Guild Fashion Show to be held on April 1 at St. Joseph's Center have been announced. The show will be the first one in New Paltz to feature clothes and items only from local merchants.

Men's fashions will be modeled by Louis Benson, Thomas Dahn and Paul Benson. Models for women's clothes will be Kathleen Riche, Elizabeth Bender, Mrs. Frank Dooley, Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. John McClosky and Mrs. James Whelan. Children who will model dress and play clothes will be Theresa Chase, Meg Delay, Mary Elizabeth Deniers, Gary Schulte and Scott Tasker.

Tickets may be obtained from local merchants or from any member of St. Joseph's Mothers' Guild.

Salvation Army Drive

According to Brigadier K. E. Moss, director of the service extension department of the Salvation Army, a meeting of the New Paltz Unit was held recently at the Witz Motel Restaurant. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for conducting the annual Salvation Army appeal for funds which will get underway about June 1.

William Morris, treasurer of the New Paltz Service Unit Committee will be campaign chairman, assisted by the chairman of the committee, Frederick C. Dippel and other members. A quota of $1,200 was set by the committee for the campaign.

Dr. Dutto Starts
As Acting Health
Commissioner

Dr. Bartholomew J. Dutto of Kingston started his first day today as acting health commissioner for Ulster County. He will serve in that capacity until such time as the Board of Supervisors make a permanent appointment to the post.

Dr. Dutto was named to the temporary position upon the resignation of Dr. Theodore S. Drachman of Philmont, Columbia County, effective today. Dr. Drachman, who had served as county health commissioner since February 1963, had announced his resignation earlier. A published author, Dr. Drachman reportedly planned to retire to devote more time to writing. He was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate last fall for assemblyman from Columbia County.

Meanwhile, Dr. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz, president of the Ulster County Board of Health, told The Freeman today that the Board was in the process of considering candidates for appointment to the health commissioner's post.

A native of Olive Bridge, Dr. Dutto attended Kingston schools; received a bachelor of science degree from Catholic University and doctor of medicine degree from George Washington University. He interned at St. Joseph's Hospital and later served five years in the Army in World War II, being discharged with the rank of major after participating in action in the European Theatre of Operations.

Dr. Dutto has been practicing in Kingston; received psychiatric training at the Albany Medical center, and is on the staff of the Benedictine Hospital. He is married to the former Eileen Rodgers of Yonkers. They have a daughter, Barbara, 15, and a son, Bart Jr., 12, and reside at 147 North Manor Avenue here.

Dutchess Crane
Mop-up Operation

HILTON, N.Y. (AP) — This small, Upstate village near Lake Ontario, officially declared a disaster area after a fire that wrecked 80 per cent of its business district and killed one woman, today turned to the task of cleaning up.

And on hand to aid in the cleanup were State Highway Department cranes — including one from Poughkeepsie — ordered into the village by Gov. Rockefeller. In addition, neighboring communities offered trucks and manpower in the main street mop-up operation.

The Small Business Administration office in Washington Tuesday night declared the village of 1,800 persons a disaster area. This will entitle businessmen, who lost stores and buildings in the blaze Sunday, to apply for long-term, low-interest repair loans.

The 3 per cent loans, which could be available from the federal agency in 10 days to two weeks, would be used for restoring the business district.

Makes Statement on '63 Case

Woodstock Man Is Held For Po'keepsie Death

A 34-year-old Woodstock man was in the Dutchess County jail at Poughkeepsie today, under charges of second degree manslaughter in the death of a woman in that city on the morning of Nov. 23, 1963.

Pleads Innocent Today

City court records listed the defendant as Hugh Joseph Smith, of Woodstock. He pleaded innocent today before City Judge Milton Haven, who adjourned the case until March 29 at 9 a. m., and fixed bail at $10,000.

Smith was taken in custody at Woodstock on Tuesday by Poughkeepsie detectives. According to the complaint, Smith allegedly pushed Catherine Schaffer, 44, down a flight of stairs at 228 Mill Street, where she resided and Smith had a room at the time.

After early investigation, the woman's death was listed as accidental. Authorities believed she was fatally injured in a fall on the sidewalk in front of her home, where she was found lying in a pool of blood on the morning of the incident.

The woman was pronounced dead by a physician who responded with an ambulance from St. Francis Hospital.

According to authorities, Smith reportedly telephoned the office of Dutchess County District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta yesterday and allegedly told an assistant that he had something on his mind for a long time about the death of the Schaffer woman. He said he wanted to make a statement.

Report Alleged Quarrel

Detective Sergeant Jack Brophy with Detectives Francis (Pete) Doerr and William Naughton went to Woodstock, it was reported. They talked with Smith, who allegedly told of a quarrel he had with the Schaffer woman on the morning of Nov. 23, 1963, and he pushed her off a porch of the Mill Street apartment house. The woman fell on the stairs and hit her head.

Smith allegedly told detectives that he worked in Poughkeepsie at the time of the woman's death. He reportedly told investigators that he left Poughkeepsie and then went to Mexico where he stayed for about three months. Later he returned to Woodstock and subsequently went back to Mexico, returning to Woodstock last month.

The case was adjourned this morning to give Smith time to obtain counsel. In lieu of bail, he was ordered held in the county jail at Poughkeepsie.

Arlington Joins Dutchess Co-op Educational Unit

Members of Arlington Central School District Board of Education by a 7-2 vote, have approved a proposal to join the Dutchess County Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

Principal arguments in favor of the plan were the necessity of joint action by many school districts in order to take care of special needs of small groups of pupils, such as the emotionally and physically handicapped, it was pointed out that as the Legislature mandates more and more special classes, only joint action can meet the need.

Another favorable phase of the plan was the imminence of area vocational schools. Another factor is the favorable state aid which presently exists and by which services can be offered in school districts with a considerable percentage return in state aid.

Opposition by two board members centered around the loss of local control and the fact that membership is permanent.

2 Cars Involved In Rt. 52 Crash

Two cars were involved in an accident on Route 52 about four miles west of Route 209, shortly before 5 p. m. Tuesday. One of the cars overturned.

Trooper Richard Dempsey investigated. Clayton Young, 42, of Livingston Manor received chest injuries but said he would see his own physician.

The Young car was traveling west when his car struck a car operated by Herbert Weinstein, 39, of Parkville in the rear. The Weinstein car was traveling west on Route 52 and had slowed for another vehicle ahead to make a left turn. The Weinstein car overturned. Weinstein suffered head and chest injuries and said he would see his own physician.

Pine Plains Fire

Damage estimated between $25,000 and $30,000 was caused by fire Monday afternoon that broke out in a barn on the C. E. Eldridge farm on Route 199, east of Pine Plains. Twelve head of young cattle perished in the flames. The barn is rented by Burton Way. Seven dry cows, six heifers and a bull escaped.

Dr. Derman Listed To Speak Sunday At Temple Event

A special breakfast meeting of the Temple Emanuel Men's Club will be held this Sunday morning at 10 a. m. at the Temple Social Hall on Albany Avenue.

Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the Kingston City Laboratory, will be the guest speaker. The speaker is an eminent pathologist who has gained national recognition in his field. He is presently serving as president of a national organization of clinical pathologists. His topic will be one of current interest to the group.

Arrangements for a lox and bagel, old-fashioned breakfast are under the direction of Stanley Caple. All Temple men and guests are cordially invited to attend. Early reservations are requested.

Trial of Four In Taxi Office Robbery Starts

Trial of an indictment charging four men with conspiracy, robbery, assault and larceny growing out of a hold-up last October 8 at the Ellenville Taxi-cab office, 6 Center Street, was begun today in County Court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino and a jury.

A jury was selected Monday, but was excused Tuesday in order to complete a hearing before Judge Mino on the right of search and seizure involving the taking of trousers found in what had been described as the getaway truck.

Four Under Indictment

Under indictment are Anthony McKendall, 28, owner of the truck; William Moran, 20, Joseph Luis and Joseph Jarzov, who it is alleged were involved in the conspiracy and hold-up.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt in his opening remarks said The People would show that about 3 a. m. on October 8, a group of men were playing cards in a room at the taxi office. The door had been locked. About that time three men got up, left the game and the door was unlocked to allow them to depart. Two armed men entered, ordered the players to put their money on the table, take off their pants and remain quiet. The two men, one armed with a pistol and the other with a shotgun, scooped up the money put in a pillow case and departed taking the men's trousers.

Police were called and located a red truck on Warren Street. Two men took off in the truck. The police gave chase but due to a faulty engine in the police car, lost the truck. The truck was later found abandoned on a side road. McKendall and Moran allegedly had stopped at a gas station about 2 a. m. for gas and there asked the proprietor for a "coon bag." It is alleged the two later called a brother-in-law of McKendall to come and pick them up, telling him their truck had broken down. McKendall was picked up and asked to be driven over a long route to Ellenville. On the way Moran was picked up along the road.

Three Numbers Noted Vogt told the jury only the first three numbers of the truck had been ascertained during the chase but they were "269" the same numbers as those of the McKendall truck later found abandoned with the trousers of the victims in the back.

The prosecution also contends it will produce a witness who had been asked to take part in the job but declined after he learned a firearm was to be used. This was a few days prior to the robbery.

Harry Gold appears for McKendall; James Murray for William Moran; Charles Saccoman for Joseph Luis, and John Bonomi for Joseph Jarzov.

Dr. Seagrave Is Critically Ill

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Dr. Gordon Seagrave, the famed Burma surgeon, is critically ill in his jungle hospital in the hills of northern Burma.

The U.S. Embassy said the 68-year-old physician is suffering from a number of ailments and his condition is deteriorating because of his age and a weak heart.

His two sons, Sterling and John, have flown from the United States to be at his bedside at Namkhan, 800 miles north of Rangoon and five miles from the Communist Chinese border.

Dr. Seagrave had just observed his 68th birthday on March 18.

State Justice Dies

GENESCO, N. Y. (AP) — Justice George D. Newton of the State Supreme Court died today in a hospital at Tampa, Fla., it was reported here.

Newton, 68, of Geneseo, suffered a heart attack Tuesday. He served in the Seventh Judicial District. His term would have expired Dec. 31, 1967.

Newton and his wife had left here March 17 for Florida. He was a graduate of the University of Rochester and Harvard Law School.

He had served as a peace justice, Geneseo village police justice, Livingston County district attorney, county and children's court judge and surrogate before

Find No Fire

Car trouble on Second Avenue resulted in a call for firemen at 8:54 p. m. Tuesday. A unit from Central Station responded. An odor of something burning had been detected in the car of Clarence Buddenhagen, of Orchard Street, but firemen found no fire.

Gotham Getting Close Again To Paperless Days

NEW YORK (AP) — A new strike against one or more of New York City's newspapers is scheduled for a week from today unless contract agreement is reached by then.

The newspapers were closed for 114 days during a strike in 1962-63.

Bertram A. Powers, president of the AFL-CIO Typographical Union's Local No. 6 said Tuesday the strike deadline is 2 a. m. on March 31, two hours after the present contract expires.

Printers of the local-known as the "Big Six"—previously had authorized a strike but this was the first announcement of the date and time.

Federal mediators have worked with publishers and printers in an effort to settle the chief issue, automation, but talks were suspended Tuesday and no new meetings have been scheduled.

The publishers meanwhile are negotiating with nine other unions, whose contracts expire at the same time.

Doctors Report No Changes in Red Space Walker

MOSCOW (AP) — The first man to walk in space returned to earth with no noticeable changes in his physical condition. Soviet doctors said today.

They also reported data from the flight showed that cosmonaut Alexei Leonov suffered no muscle strain during his 10-minute tumble in the cosmos.

"The first data on the state of the cosmonaut show, first of all, that there are no noticeable changes in his physiological functions," the three medical specialists reported in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper.

"That means that there has been proven the general possibility of developing space suits with a self-contained life-support system, protecting the spaceman from vacuum, visible, ultraviolet and infrared solar radiation."

'Bama Incident Poor Assembly Prevented Bomb Blast: Report

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Defective assembly of six dynamite bombs planted in Negro neighborhoods prevented them from exploding, Birmingham police say.

The bombs were intended to explode, Police Capt. Maurice House said Tuesday.

House made the statement after tests were made on parts taken from three of the bombs. The other three were sent to FBI headquarters in Washington for analysis.

House, Capt. W.E. Berry of the Birmingham Fire Department, agents for the FBI and demolition experts from Ft. McClellan conducted the tests.

The officers agreed that except for a defect in the assembly of the bombs, explosions would have rocked the city and could have set off another racial crisis.

Wilkins Thinks Voting Bill Is Good, Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leader Roy Wilkins said today the administration's voting bill is a good one, but does not go far enough.

Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, urged a House Judiciary subcommittee to strengthen the bill, and "sweep the last vestiges of voting restrictions into the sea."

The bill would strike down literacy tests and other voter qualifications in six states where there has been a history against Negro voters. Federal registrars could then be used to register the Negroes.

Wilkins said the bill should also strike down poll taxes in state and local elections. A recent constitutional amendment eliminated them in federal elections.

He also called for extending the authority for federal examiners to register persons eligible to vote.

Wilkins said another provision should be added to eliminate the requirement that prospective registrants must first appear before a state official and attempt to register before going to the federal examiner. And, finally, he asked that protection against economic and physical intimidation be extended under the bill to all persons trying to register.

Makes Statement on '63 Case

Woodstock Man Is Held For Po'keepsie Death

A 34-year-old Woodstock man was in the Dutchess County jail at Poughkeepsie today, under charges of second degree manslaughter in the death of a woman in that city on the morning of Nov. 23, 1963.

Pleads Innocent Today

City court records listed the defendant as Hugh Joseph Smith, of Woodstock. He pleaded innocent today before City Judge Milton Haven, who adjourned the case until March 29 at 9 a. m., and fixed bail at $10,000.

Smith was taken in custody at Woodstock on Tuesday by Poughkeepsie detectives. According to the complaint, Smith allegedly pushed Catherine Schaffer, 41, down a flight of stairs at 228 Mill Street, where she resided and Smith had a room at the time.

Listed as Accidental

After early investigation, the woman's death was listed as accidental. Authorities believed she was fatally injured in a fall on the sidewalk in front of her home, where she was found lying in a pool of blood on the morning of the incident.

The woman was pronounced dead by a physician who responded with an ambulance from St. Francis' Hospital.

According to authorities, Smith reportedly telephoned the office of Dutchess County District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta yesterday and allegedly told an assistant that he had had something on his mind for a long time about the death of the Schaffer woman. He said he wanted to make a statement.

Report Alleged Quarrel

Detective Sergeant Jack Brophy with Detectives Francis (Pete) Doerr and William Naughton went to Woodstock, it was reported. They talked with Smith, who allegedly told of a quarrel he had with the Schaffer woman on the morning of Nov. 23, 1963, and he pushed her off a porch of the Mill Street apartment house. The woman fell on the stairs and hit her head.

Smith allegedly told detectives that he worked in Poughkeepsie at the time of the woman's death. He reportedly told investigators that he left Poughkeepsie, returned to Woodstock and then went to Mexico where he stayed for about three months. Later he returned to Woodstock and subsequently went back to Mexico, returning to Woodstock last month.

The case was adjourned this morning to give Smith time to obtain counsel. In lieu of bail, he was ordered held in the county jail at Poughkeepsie.

Arlington Joins Dutchess Co-op Educational Unit

Members of Arlington Central School District Board of Education by a 7-2 vote, have approved a proposal to join the Dutchess County Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

Principal arguments in favor of the plan were the necessity of joint action by many school districts in order to take care of special needs of small groups of pupils, such as the emotionally and physically handicapped. It was pointed out that as the Legislature mandates more and more special classes, only joint action can meet the need.

Another favorable phase of the plan was the imminence of area vocational schools. Another factor is the favorable state aid which presently exists and by which services can be offered in school districts with a considerable percentage return in state aid.

Opposition by two board members centered around the loss of local control and the fact that membership is permanent.

2 Cars Involved In Rt. 52 Crash

Two cars were involved in an accident on Route 52 about four miles west of Route 209, shortly before 5 p. m. Tuesday. One of the cars overturned.

Trooper Richard Dempsey investigated. Clayton Young, 42, of Livingston Manor received chest injuries but said he would see his own physician.

The Young car was traveling west when his car struck a car operated by Herbert Weinstein, 39, of Parkville in the rear. The Weinstein car was traveling west on Route 52 and had slowed for another vehicle ahead to make a left turn. The Weinstein car overturned. Weinstein suffered head and chest injuries and said he would see his own physician.

Pine Plains Fire

Damage estimated between $25,000 and $30,000 was caused by fire Monday afternoon that broke out in a barn on the C. E. Eldridge farm on Route 199, east of Pine Plains. Twelve head of young cattle perished in the flames. The barn is rented by Burton Way. Seven dry cows, six heifers and a bull escaped.

Dr. Derman Listed To Speak Sunday At Temple Event

A special breakfast meeting of the Temple Emanuel Men's Club will be held this Sunday morning at 10 a. m. at the Temple Social Hall on Albany Avenue.

Dr. Herbert Derman, director of the Kingston City Laboratory, will be the guest speaker. The speaker is an eminent pathologist who has gained national recognition in his field. He is presently serving as president of a national organization of clinical pathologists. His topic will be one of current interest to the group.

Arrangements for a lox and bagel, old-fashioned breakfast are under the direction of Stanley Caple. All Temple men and guests are cordially invited to attend. Early reservations are requested.

Trial of Four In Taxi Office Robbery Starts

Trial of an indictment charging four men with conspiracy, robbery, assault and larceny growing out of a hold-up last October 8 at the Ellenville Taxicab office, 6 Center Street, was begun today in County Court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino and a jury.

A jury was selected Monday, but was excused Tuesday in order to complete a hearing before Judge Mino on the right of search and seizure involving the taking of trousers found in what had been described as the getaway truck.

Four Under Indictment

Under indictment are Anthony McKendall, 28, owner of the truck; William Moran, 20, Joseph Luis and Joseph Jargow, who it is alleged were involved in the conspiracy and hold-up.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt in his opening remarks said The People would show that about 3 a. m. on October 8, a group of men were playing cards in a room at the taxi office. The door had been locked. About that time three men got up, left the game and the door was unlocked to allow them to depart. Two armed men entered, ordered the players to put their money on the table, take off their pants and remain quiet. The two men, one armed with a pistol and the other with a shotgun, scooped up the money put it in a pillow case and departed taking the men's trousers. Police were called and located a red truck on Warren Street. Two men took off in the truck.

The police gave chase but due to a faulty engine in the police car, lost the truck. The truck was later found abandoned on a side road. McKendall and Moran allegedly had stopped at a gas station about 2 a. m. for gas and there asked the proprietor for a "coon bag." It is alleged the two later called a brother-in-law of McKendall to come and pick them up, telling him their truck had broken down. McKendall was picked up and asked to be driven over a long route to Ellenville. On the way Moran was picked up along the road.

Three Numbers Noted

Vogt told the jury only the first three numbers of the truck had been ascertained during the chase but they were "289" the same numbers as those of the McKendall truck later found abandoned with the trousers of the victims in the back.

The prosecution also contends it will produce a witness who had been asked to take part in the job but declined after he learned a firearm was to be used. This was a few days prior to the robbery.

Harry Gold appears for McKendall; James Murray for William Moran; Charles Saccomani for Joseph Luis, and John Bonomi for Joseph Jargow.

Dr. Seagrave Is Critically Ill

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Dr. Gordon Seagrave, the famed Burma surgeon, is critically ill in his jungle hospital in the hills of northern Burma.

The U.S. Embassy said the 68-year-old physician is suffering from a number of ailments and his condition is deteriorating because of his age and a weak heart.

His two sons, Sterling and John, have flown from the United States to be at his bedside at Namkhan, 800 miles north of Rangoon, and five miles from the Communist Chinese border.

Dr. Seagrave had just observed his 68th birthday on March 18.

State Justice Dies

GENESCO, N. Y. (AP) — Justice George D. Newton of the State Supreme Court died today in a hospital at Tampa, Fla., it was reported here.

Newton, 68, of Geneseo, suffered a heart attack Tuesday. He served in the Seventh Judicial District. His term would have expired Dec. 31, 1967.

Newton and his wife had left here March 17 for Florida.

He was a graduate of the University of Rochester and Harvard Law School.

He had served as a peace justice, Geneseo village police justice, Livingston County district attorney, county and children's court judge and surrogate before

Find No Fire

Car trouble on Second Avenue resulted in a call for firemen at 8:54 p. m. Tuesday. A unit from Central Station responded. An odor of something burning had been detected in the car of Clarence Buddenhagen, of Orchard Street, but firemen found no fire.

Gotham Getting Close Again To Paperless Days

NEW YORK (AP) — A new strike against one or more of New York City's newspapers is scheduled for a week from today unless contract agreement is reached by then.

The newspapers were closed for 114 days during a strike in 1962-63.

Bertram A. Powers, president of the AFL-CIO Typographical Union's Local No. 6 said Tuesday the strike deadline is 2 a. m. on March 31, two hours after the present contract expires.

Printers of the local-known as the "Big Six"—previously had authorized a strike but this was the first announcement of the date and time.

Federal mediators have worked with publishers and printers in an effort to settle the chief issue, automation, but talks were suspended Tuesday and no new meetings have been scheduled.

The publishers meanwhile are negotiating with nine other unions, whose contracts expire at the same time.

Doctors Report No Changes in Red Space Walker

MOSCOW (AP) — The first man to walk in space returned to earth with no noticeable changes in his physical condition, Soviet doctors said today.

They also reported data from the flight showed that cosmonaut Alexei Leonov suffered no muscle strain during his 10-minute tumble in the cosmos. "The first data on the state of the cosmonaut show, first of all, that there are no noticeable changes in his physiological functions," the three medical specialists reported in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper.

That means that there has been proven the general possibility of developing space suits with a self-contained life-support system protecting the spaceman from vacuum, visible, ultraviolet and infrared solar radiation.

'Bama Incident

Poor Assembly Prevented Bomb Blast: Report

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Defective assembly of six dynamite bombs planted in Negro neighborhoods prevented them from exploding, Birmingham police say.

The bombs were intended to explode, Police Capt. Maurice House said Tuesday.

House made the statement after tests were made on parts taken from three of the bombs. The other three were sent to FBI headquarters in Washington for analysis.

House, Capt. W. E. Berry of the Birmingham Fire Department, agents for the FBI and demolition experts from Ft. McClellan conducted the tests.

Doubt Weather Will Endanger Summit Bid

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP) — Clouds, wind and a threat of snow descended on Mt. Kennedy today as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, guided by expert mountaineers, prepared for his assault on the summit of the 13,900-foot peak.

It was not believed the weather would endanger the success of the climb, but did mean the New York Democratic senator might be pinned down at the base camp for a day or more after the descent.

Kennedy has with him what is described as a furred black flag. It is believed he will place it at the summit as a memorial to his late brother, President John F. Kennedy, for whom the Canadian government named the mountain.

Kennedy and four other climbers left the 7,500-foot base camp about 9 a.m. Tuesday and were presumed to have spent the night at a second camp 4,000 feet farther up to mountain.

There is no radio contact with the climbers or the base camp. Newsmen who flew to the area Tuesday observed the climbers from the air. Kennedy and the others waved at a plane flying overhead.

Monte Alford, a seasoned Whitehorse mountaineer who followed the five climbers part of the way, said Kennedy was experiencing no difficulty on the climb. The senator was tied by a rope to two veterans of the 1963 American assault on Mt. Everest, James W. Whittaker of Seattle, Wash., and Barry Prather of Ellensburg, Wash.

Snow showers which hit Whitehorse late Tuesday were expected to continue today.

Pilots reported to the weather office late in the day that there was blowing snow high on Mt. Kennedy, indicating the winds had picked up in velocity. Forecasters said the cloud cover on the mountain, 150 miles west of here, could produce snowfall.

Dr. Bradford Washburn, who organized the expedition said the final ascent to the summit should take about five hours.

Dr. Washburn is the director of the Boston Museum of Science, which is cosponsoring the expedition with the National Geographic Society.

62 Speakers Set For Views About Higher Education

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Board of Regents' Statewide Plan for Higher Education underwent public examination today as 62 speakers lined up for a day-long public hearing here.

The regents' plan comprises expansion plans of the State University, the City University and the private colleges and universities in New York State. The proposal foresees a full-time college enrollment between 431,000 and 450,000 in the state by 1970.

In adding comment to plans of the State and City universities, the regents, governing body of education in the state, have called for a greater role for two-year community colleges in meeting demands of higher education in the state.

The regents picture the two-year schools as easing geographic factors that prevent many students from attending colleges and also see the community colleges as stepping stones to four year institutions.

Killed in Car Mishap

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — Muriel Balsan, 64, was struck and killed by an automobile driven by her son-in-law Tuesday as he prepared to take her to a wake for his mother.

Police said Merlin Storie, 48, of Schoharie Landing had gone to Mrs. Balsan's home. She was crossing in front of the car, police said, when it accidentally lurched forward.

HONORED FOR FLIGHT ASSIST—John Resso Jr., of RD 1, Box 439, Kingston, dispatcher (left) and Michael D. Mazzuca, of 116 West Chester Street, vice-president and treasurer of the Economy Cab Company Inc., 12 Wilbur Avenue, hold plaques recently awarded them for assisting a pilot lost over the area last Jan. 8. Oscar Bakke, director of the Eastern Region of the Federal Aviation Agency, (second from left) presented the awards at Kingston-Ulster Airport in behalf of FAA. He and Mayor John

J. Schwenk (right) praised Resso and Mazzuca for their important assist. The two had heard on a cab radio, calls for help from a twin Beachcraft out of Philadelphia en route to Albany as it was 7,000 ft. up and on instruments. Messages were relayed as Mazzuca kept contact by cab radio and Resso telephoned the Poughkeepsie FAA flight service station. Unfavorable morning weather had left the plane in trouble, but with the local aid, it landed safely at Albany. (Photo Workshop photo)

Johnson Beset by Demands to Call Off 'Gas Warfare' Against Cong

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration was beset today by demands to call off what critics called "gas warfare" against Communist guerrilla forces in Viet Nam.

High administration officials denied, however, that the United States was in fact engaged in gas warfare, and insisted that the employment of nonlethal, nauseous gases against guerrilla-infested villages in some instances in the past had been done to save civilian lives.

The White House said President Johnson was not consulted before the gas was used.

Indications were that Johnson's response to a group of Republican Congressmen who protested in a letter to him against "gas warfare" would take this line.

The letter was sent to the White House Tuesday as a storm of criticism and denunciation built up around the world against the United States providing the non-lethal gas to South Viet Nam for use against Communist guerrillas.

Reflection in Talks

The protests were even reflected in talks held with administration leaders by British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart. In response to a question following a speech at the National Press Club, Stewart argued that the use of any weapon in Viet Nam should be weighed against its impact on world public opinion, then said:

"I am in fact asking the United States to display what your Declaration of Independence calls a decent respect for the opinions of mankind."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara later told a news conference the British had used such gases on Cyprus in 1955.

McNamara made the first attempt to state the administration's case for the use of what he called "riot-control agents" against the Communist Viet Cong. He said the employment of gases such as those used by city police forces all over the world to control civil disturbances was decided upon to save lives.

Not Consulted

At the White House, press secretary George E. Bandy said that President Johnson had not been consulted before gas was used in Viet Nam because the use of such a weapon was considered normally to be within the discretion of area military commanders.

When asked specifically whether Johnson had approved of using the gas, he replied: "It is not the sort of thing that came up for that kind of approval."

Lack of top-level consideration of the problem long ago was in line with what officials said privately — that the White House, State Department and Defense Department were taken by surprise by the excitement and criticism stirred up by the news which broke from Saigon Monday that nonlethal gases had been used in some cases when Viet Cong fighters took refuge among civilians in Vietnamese villages.

Faulty Disclosure

Officials also said privately that someone had blundered in the way the disclosure was first made, since reports from Saigon spoke of South Vietnamese forces experimenting with the use of gases supplied by the United States.

The idea of experimenting with gases, officials here conceded, had contributed to the now widespread impression that the United States was going in for some kind of gas warfare against the Viet Cong.

High administration officials declared, however, that in the view of the U.S. government this was not gas warfare in any sense but was rather the use of a police-type weapon to bring some kind of control over mixed civilian and enemy fighter population without costing the lives of innocent persons.

"As far as we know," McNamara said of the gases, "they have been used only two or three times," most recently on Jan. 27 when, in an engagement in Phu Yen Province the Communist Viet Cong took refuge among noncombatants in a village.

Varifab of High Falls Reports Record Growth

An area business that once had to seek relief under Chapter XI of the bankruptcy law has grown into an institution fulfilling more than $120,000 of contracts monthly.

Announcement came from Varifab, Inc., of High Falls Monday that it had received court approval to throw off the restrictive chains of Chapter XI under which it sought relief almost three years ago.

Since that time Varifab has not only satisfied governmental and industrial creditors, but also has grown to the extent its backlog of orders is highest in the company's 12-year history.

The announcement in noting the growth said it came under the guidance of Gunther W. Newman, president of the concern.

A further picture of progress for the company shows that:

Employment has grown in the past two years from 35 to over 140 with an annual payroll exceeding $675,000. The unusual aspect is that the company has succeeded in these accomplishments without major refinancing or assistance from external sources but entirely on its own and with the cooperation of all Varifab employees.

President Newman stated that the company is now retooling and will commence production on Vari-Punch, the new "Data Input" machine. This added production he said, could reflect an additional one to two million dollars of business for the next few years. Vari-Punch a lightweight, portable, at source key punch is used by customers utilizing computers and tabulating machines. It may be carried in the field, used in the shop or wherever man has a need to record statistical information on the spot, for today's modern control and analysis business systems.

Newman also stated that Varifab was here to stay and will go "full speed ahead" and that High Falls and the surrounding area could depend on the economic and industrial expansion that every community needs to develop. The company expects that employment will exceed 250 within 12 months and will continue to expand thereafter.

Dear Abby . . .

Age Of Maturity

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been arguing for six months over how old a girl should be to go out with boys alone at night. The girl is 14 and I say she's boy-crazy, but her mother says she is normal. Any help you can give me along this line will be appreciated. Thank you.

A FATHER

DEAR FATHER: If the girl makes good grades in school and is mature in her behavior, there is no reason why she shouldn't date on week-ends. By "mature" I mean:

1. Can she be trusted to respect a curfew when one is set for her?
2. Does she keep her room tidy (and do any other tasks her mother assigns to her) without having to be nagged?
3. Is she a respectful and honest child? Or does she talk back and do things on the sly?

If she can pass the above requirements, I'd say she is mature enough to date.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is in the service overseas, sent us a beautiful diamond engagement and wedding ring set and asked us please to give the engagement ring to his girl, and to hold the wedding ring until he gets home next fall. My husband and friends think that we should keep both the rings, wait until our son returns from overseas and let him give the girl the rings himself. I don't know what we should do in a case like this and would very much appreciate your advice.

MIDWEST MOM

DEAR MOM: Follow your son's instructions and give his girl the engagement ring. Of course, she'll miss the kiss that usually goes with it. But I am sure she'd rather have a kiss-less engagement than none at all.

DEAR ABBY: Recently we went out and left our 13-year-old son and 11-year-old daughter alone in our home for the evening. It was the first time we had ever left them without a sitter. We gave them instructions on what to do in case of fire. We also told them not to answer the door if anyone rang the bell. And we left the telephone number of the place where we would be in case they wanted to call us for any reason. We have been criticized so much by relatives for leaving those children alone that I feel terrible. I would appreciate an answer in the column. Thank you.

MRS. "M"

DEAR MRS. "M": In my opinion, your relatives had no grounds for criticism.

DEAR ABBY: This is for: "CAN'T SIGN MY NAME": The man who molested you will more than likely try it on another little girl. I am sure you wouldn't want that to happen. Dear child, please inform the STATE HIGHWAY PATROL of the situation, and do it fast. We are here to help you!

Meeting Planned In Newburgh 29th About Viet Nam

The newly-formed Orange County "Emergency Citizens Group Concerned About Vietnam" plans a public meeting March 29 at 8 p. m. in the College Theatre of St. Mary's College, Newburgh.

Moderator will be Dr. James Cotter, chairman of Newburgh Human Relations Committee. Addressing the group will be Prof. Robert S. Browne, member of Economics Faculty, Fairleigh-Dickinson University. Prof. Browne's wife is a Vietnamese and has worked in Cambodia and subsequently in the Republic of Vietnam. Following Prof. Browne, Dr. Helen B. Lamb, an authority on Vietnam, who went to Paris in 1963 to interview Vietnamese political exiles, will present the human side of the Vietnam problem. Also on the platform will be Vo Thanh Minh, a Vietnamese student who is currently on a prolonged hunger strike in a Brooklyn Church. Minh will answer questions concerning his background in Vietnam where he was an attorney.

The purpose of the meeting as announced by Father Philip Berrigan, of Epiphany College, New Windsor, who is chairman of the group, is purely educational in the hope of bringing before the public viewpoints and facts about Vietnam.

Speech and Hearing Group Meets Saturday

A meeting of the Mid-Hudson Area Speech and Hearing Association will be held Saturday, March 27, at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Frederick G. Attanasio and Charles Kucera will speak about their recent visit to the Institutes for the Achievement of Human Potential, a rehabilitation center for brain-injured children.

The meeting is scheduled for 1 p. m.

Driver Given Summons

Two cars were in collision at the junction of Route 209 and Schoonmaker Lane, Hurley, at 6:45 p. m. Tuesday. A car operated by Robert Tompkins, 32, of Ellenville had stopped to make a turn into Schoonmaker Lane when a car operated by Thomas Sommers, 27, Kerhonkson, struck the rear of the stopped car. Sommers was issued a summons charging speed not reasonable or prudent and will appear before Justice of the Peace Edmund Bower of Hurley at a later date. Trooper J. J. Kupka of the Lake Katrine substation investigated. No injuries were reported.

Prof. Browne's wife is a Vietnamese and has worked in Cambodia and subsequently in the Republic of Vietnam. Following Prof. Browne, Dr. Helen B. Lamb, an authority on Vietnam, who went to Paris in 1963 to interview Vietnamese political exiles, will present the human side of the Vietnam problem. Also on the platform will be Vo Thanh Minh, a Vietnamese student who is currently on a prolonged hunger strike in a Brooklyn Church. Minh will answer questions concerning his background in Vietnam where he was an attorney.

The purpose of the meeting as announced by Father Philip Berrigan, of Epiphany College, New Windsor, who is chairman of the group, is purely educational in the hope of bringing before the public viewpoints and facts about Vietnam.

Speech and Hearing Group Meets Saturday

A meeting of the Mid-Hudson Area Speech and Hearing Association will be held Saturday, March 27, at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Frederick G. Attanasio and Charles Kucera will speak about their recent visit to the Institutes for the Achievement of Human Potential, a rehabilitation center for brain-injured children.

The meeting is scheduled for 1 p. m.

Driver Given Summons

Two cars were in collision at the junction of Route 209 and Schoonmaker Lane, Hurley, at 6:45 p. m. Tuesday. A car operated by Robert Tompkins, 32, of Ellenville had stopped to make a turn into Schoonmaker Lane when a car operated by Thomas Sommers, 27, Kerhonkson, struck the rear of the stopped car. Sommers was issued a summons charging speed not reasonable or prudent and will appear before Justice of the Peace Edmund Bower of Hurley at a later date. Trooper J. J. Kipka of the Lake Katrine substation investigated. No injuries were reported.

Dear Abby . . . Age Of Maturity Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been arguing for six months over how old a girl should be to go out with boys alone at night. The girl is 14 and I say she's boy-crazy, but her mother says she is normal. Any help you can give me along this line will be appreciated. Thank you.
A FATHER

DEAR FATHER: If the girl makes good grades in school and is mature in her behavior, there is no reason why she shouldn't date on week-ends. By "mature" I mean:

1. Can she be trusted to respect a curfew when one is set for her?
2. Does she keep her room tidy (and do any other tasks her mother assigns to her) without having to be nagged?
3. Is she a respectful and honest child? Or does she talk back and do things on the sly?

If she can pass the above requirements, I'd say she is mature enough to date.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is in the service overseas, sent us a beautiful diamond engagement and wedding ring set and asked us please to give the engagement ring to his girl, and to hold the wedding ring until he gets home next fall. My husband and friends think that we should keep both the rings, wait until our son returns from overseas and let him give the girl the rings himself. I don't know what we should do in a case like this and would very much appreciate your advice.
MIDWEST MOM

DEAR MOM: Follow your son's instructions and give his girl the engagement ring. Of course, she'll miss the kiss that usually goes with it. But I am sure she'd rather have a kiss-less engagement than none at all.

DEAR ABBY: Recently we went out and left our 13-year-old son and 11-year-old daughter alone in our home for the evening. It was the first time we had ever left them without a sitter. We gave them instructions on what to do in case of fire. We also told them not to answer the door if anyone rang the bell. And we left the telephone number of the place where we would be in case they wanted to call us for any reason. We have been criticized so much by relatives for leaving those children alone that I feel terrible. I would appreciate an answer in the column. Thank you.
MRS. "M"

DEAR MRS. "M": In my opinion, your relatives had no grounds for criticism.

DEAR ABBY: This is for: "CAN'T SIGN MY NAME": The man who molested you will more than likely try it on another little girl. I am sure you wouldn't want that to happen. Dear child, please inform the STATE HIGHWAY PATROL of the situation, and do it fast. We are here to help you!

Rosendale - Tillson

G. W. Ertz—Telephone OL 8-9850

Story Hour Canceled

The story hour program for the Rosendale Library scheduled for Friday has been canceled. A new date for the program will be announced later. The next scheduled program will be Friday, April 2 at 3:30 p. m. at which time the Junior League of Kingston puppet committee will present a puppet show entitled "Aner's Cabin," an adaptation from the book by Alf Evers of Woodstock. Children from the area may attend.

Aussie Sergeant Killed

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia has suffered its first casualties in the Borneo war between Indonesia and Malaysia. An army sergeant was killed and two soldiers were injured Tuesday by a mine or booby trap.

Winter Extends Prolonged Stay

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter weather extended its prolonged stay in many sections in the eastern two-thirds of the nation today with not much relief in sight.

Cold air and northerly winds swept snow-covered areas from the Rockies across the Midwest into the Northeast, with temperatures again dipping as low as 25 below zero in northern Minnesota.

Temperatures were as much as 35 degrees below seasonal levels in some parts of the north-central region and generally were below normal in many other sections of the nation.

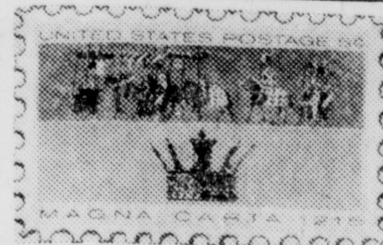

The subzero belt covered areas in Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois. One of the lowest marks was —25 at Hibbing, Minn.

Heavy snow fell in the Midwest and into sections of the Northeast earlier, the second major snow storm in many areas since near the end of the winter season last Friday. Snow has ended in most of the Midwest and has tapered off to flurries in New England and western New York.

Mulls Atlantic Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — William Willis, 71, who sailed for 14 months across the Pacific in a steel-hulled raft for 12,000 miles, now is considering a similar voyage across the Atlantic.

He told newsmen Tuesday it might be "five or six years from now" before he tries the Atlantic trip. He said his Pacific voyage was made in the raft "The Age Unlimited" to prove that age is no barrier to accomplishment.

750 YEARS LATER — New York artist Brook Temple designed this commemorative stamp, to be issued June 15 in Jamestown, Va., to mark the 750th anniversary of the signing of the Magna Carta, the basis of English and American common law.

CAF Plane Goes Down, 16 Aboard; Doubt Survivors

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — A four-engine Canadian air force reconnaissance bomber with 16 crewmen aboard crashed Tuesday night about 60 miles north of San Juan, P.R., the air force announced.

First reports indicated there were no survivors. The plane, an Argus, was stationed at Greenwood, N.S. It was operating from the U.S. Naval Air Station near San Juan in a U.S.-Canadian antisubmarine warfare exercise called Maple Spring.

The Canadian destroyer escorts Galtineau and Terra Nova were ordered to the crash area.

7 Children Die In Mass. Blaze

BELCHERTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Seven children died Tuesday night in a fire which swept their farm home.

Mrs. Arthur Berthiaume, who discovered the blaze, roused her husband by breaking a window. They rescued one daughter, Linda.

The dead were tentatively identified as daughters Alice, Barbara, Mary Jane, Donna and Susan, a son, Arthur Jr., and an infant. They ranged in age from seven months to 10 years.

The parents and Linda were taken to a hospital for treatment of burns.

Back From Uganda

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden, returned to London Tuesday night from a trip to Uganda with two unusual souvenirs: two elephant tusks and a large stalk of bananas.

Mae Murray, Who Made $3 Million Dies Penniless

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mae Murray, the silent screen's blonde with the bee-stung lips who made $3 million and spent every penny, is dead at 75.

Miss Murray, who married four times, was a symbol of roaring 20s gaiety who never ceased regarding herself as a celebrity although her career did not extend into the era of talking pictures.

"Widow" Top Film

She succumbed Tuesday at the Motion Picture Country Home to a long illness that followed a stroke and a heart ailment.

"You don't have to keep making movies to remain a star," she said several years ago.

"Once you become a star, you are always a star."

Her most famous film was "The Merry Widow," in which she starred with John Gilbert, with Erich von Stroheim as director.

At her peak, she earned $10,000 a week and was one of Hollywood's highest-paid stars. She maintained lavish homes and entertained extravagantly.

As her glittering era passed, her income declined. In 1926, she estimated her fortune at $3 million.

Ten years later, she said, she was penniless for three days on a bench in New York's Central Park.

Son Lives in Troy

Born Marie Adrienne Koenig May 10, 1889, in Portsmouth, Va., she danced in New York shows as a teen-ager. Florenz Ziegfeld featured her in his Follies of 1908, 1909 and 1915.

Her marriages were to William Schweencker Jr., a gateman; Jay O'Brien, a Pasadena broker; film director Robert Z. Leonard, and Prince David Mdivani.

A son by Mdivani, Daniel M. Cuning, is her only living relative. He operates a shoe store in Troy, N.Y.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday in a mortuary chapel.

Ulster Realtors Will Be Honored As Life Members

Three life members of the Ulster County Board of Realtors will be honored at a dinner meeting to be held Thursday evening, April 22, at Governor Clinton Hotel. Final plans for the dinner were announced by Dewey Logan, chairman of the dinner committee, at the regular meeting of the Board of Realtors held Thursday evening at Governor Clinton Hotel where Robert Kershaw, president, presided.

The members to be honored in April are Arthur J. Burns, Frank S. Hyatt and George W. Moore.

In sincere appreciation of the splendid leadership and the time so generously given by them, they will receive their Life Membership card and also a plaque. The past presidents of the Board will also receive a plaque for their service. Past Presidents are Arthur J. Burns, Walter Caunitz, John A. Hathmaker, Frank S. Hyatt, Benson Krom, Raymond R. Korzendorfer, Dewey Logan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, George W. More, Edward G. O'Connor and Harold W. O'Connor.

Committees Named

Dewey Logan announced his committees for the dinner. They are Reta Frederick, co-chairman, Mary Scaffidi, Lee Madden, Peter Weider, dinner committee; Ralph Carpino, Adele Royael, Robert Kershaw, John Sanglyn and Edward O'Connor, tickets; Benson Krom, toastmaster; Harold O'Connor, invocation; Margaret Logan, publicity. Tickets were distributed at the meeting and members not attending the meeting will receive theirs in the mail. Mr. Logan stressed the importance for every member and their salesmen to make every effort to attend this dinner in honor of these three devoted members. There will be further announcements made.

At the regular March meeting members enjoyed a very interesting talk on Electric House

Regional Conference

Dog Repellent Big Help to Postmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The postman's best friend, a dog repellent, has increased by 40 per cent the likelihood that he will swiftly complete his appointed rounds in one piece.

That's the progress report Asst. Postmaster General Richard J. Murphy recently gave the House Appropriations Committee.

Dogs sank their teeth into postmen 7,000 times last year, costing them more than $1 million in sick leave and doctor bills, Murphy said. But over the last five months — since the carriers began carrying a repellent which keeps Fido at a distance — disabling dog bites were reduced 40 per cent, Murphy told the committee.

The Treaty of Versailles between Great Britain and the U.S., which ended the Revolutionary War, was signed Sept. 3, 1783.

Dermedy Ends Course

Airman James U. Dermedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Dermedy of Rt. 1, Choudikee Lake Road, Highland, has completed a special U. S. Air Force safety course at Dyess AFB, Tex. Airman Dermedy, who received training aimed at implementing sound safety practices in routine duties, is a jet engine mechanic with a Tactical Air Command (TAC) unit at Dyess. His unit supports the TAC mission of providing firepower and other air support to U. S. Army forces. The airman attended Poughkeepsie (N.Y.) High School. His wife, Joyce, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis McCraw of 2481 Bridge Street, Abilene, Tex.

Friday Deadline Set on Feed Grain Plan Applications

Friday is the last day growers may file applications to take part in the 1965 Feed Grain Program, Joseph Sauer, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today.

He reminded farmers that only those who participate in the Feed Grain Program will be eligible for price support on their 1965 corn, barley and grain sorghum crops. As last year, the support is made available through price-support payments.

Besides qualifying for price support, the participating grower also earns a diversion payment for shifting part of his feed grain base to a conserving use. Minimum diversion is 20 per cent of the individual farm's total feed grain base. Maximum diversion is 50 per cent of the base or 25 acres if this is more. For diverting more than the minimum, the diversion payment will be figured at the higher rate. If the actual diversion is 40 per cent or more, the higher rate applies to the whole diversion.

The chairman reports that farmer interest in Ulster County is higher than last year. Indications are that 1965 participation will run well ahead of the 1964 feed grain program sign up.

He urges farmers who are interested in taking part in this year's program to call at the ASCS County Office as soon as possible, since there are only four working days left before the March 26th sign-up deadline, and signing up is the first step in program participation. "We don't want anybody to be disappointed because he waited too long," the chairman said. "There's also the advantage of being able to get half of the estimated diversion payment in advance at the time of signing or as soon afterwards as possible."

The ASCS County Office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. from Monday through Friday, 54 John Street, Kingston.

Guest Speaker Named for Scout Recognition Fete

Executive Assistant to Governor Rockefeller, Alexander Aldrich, will be the main speaker at the annual Scouters Recognition dinner of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Wednesday evening, March 31, at J. Watson Bailey Jr. High School, Kingston.

Aldrich will speak on the important role adult volunteer scout leaders play in molding the citizens of tomorrow.

Scouters, Wives Invited All volunteer scout leaders and their wives in the Ulster and Greene Counties area have been invited to attend according to Dinner Committee Arrangements Chairman Alan Johnson of West Hurley.

A roast beef dinner served in the cafeteria by the staff of Kingston School Lunch Program will get underway at 7 p. m. Serving as toastmaster at the dinner will be Gifford R. Beal of Highland, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council.

One of the features of the dinner program will be the recognition of individuals in Ulster and Greene Counties who gave leadership to the recently completed successful campaign for 1965 Council operating funds conducted outside the area encompassed by the Ulster County Community Chest.

Scheduled to receive campaign special recognition plaques are: Edward T. Feeney, Kingston, general chairman of the campaign; Dr. Clement I. Angstrom, Kingston, chairman of the Ontario Trail District; Donald Haines, Catskill, finance chairman of the Mohican Trail District, and the following town campaign chairmen who gave leadership to "Over the Top" Boy Scout Drives in their home be made by Council President Beal.

Program Follows

Following the dinner scouters and their ladies will gather in the school auditorium for the main part of the program.

In addition to the address by Aldrich program features will include colorful scouting ceremonies and the presentation of Silver Beaver Awards for distinguished service to boyhood in the Rip Van Winkle Council area.

Reservations for the dinner may be made at the Council's Boy Scout Service Center, 260 Fair Street, Kingston. A ticket reservation deadline of Friday has been set by the dinner arrangement committee according to Chairman Johnson.

The council sponsored dinner is held annually to pay tribute to the more than 1,100 adult volunteers who give leadership to the programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring in Ulster and Greene Counties.

Ulster Realtors Will Be Honored As Life Members

Three life members of the Ulster County Board of Realtors will be honored at a dinner meeting to be held Thursday evening, April 22, at Governor Clinton Hotel. Final plans for the dinner were announced by Dewey Logan, chairman of the dinner committee, at the regular meeting of the Board of Realtors held Thursday evening at Governor Clinton Hotel where Robert Kershaw, president, presided.

The members to be honored in April are Arthur J. Burns, Frank S. Hyatt and George W. Moore.

In sincere appreciation of the splendid leadership and the time so generously given by them, they will receive their Life Membership card and also a plaque. The past presidents of the Board will also receive a plaque for their service. Past Presidents are Arthur J. Burns, Walter Caunitz, John A. Hathmaker, Frank S. Hyatt, Benson Krom, Raymond R. Korzeniorfer, Dewey Logan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, George W. More, Edward G. O'Connor and Harold W. O'Connor.

Committees Named

Dewey Logan announced his committees for the dinner. They are Reta Frederick, co-chairman, Mary Scaffidi, Lee Madden, Peter Weider, dinner committee; Ralph Carpino, Adele Royael, Robert Kershaw, John Sanglyn and Edward O'Connor, tickets; Benson Krom, toastmaster; Harold O'Connor, invocation; Marguerite Logan, publicity. Tickets were distributed at the meeting and members not attending the meeting will receive theirs in the mail. Mr. Logan stressed the importance for every member and their salesmen to make every effort to attend this dinner in honor of these three devoted members. There will be further announcements made.

* At the regular March meeting members enjoyed a very interesting talk on Electric House

Regional Conference

ABC Law Change Concern of Negro Group for Areas

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has told a somewhat doubtful civil rights group that changes in liquor-law legislation will not lead to a glut of new liquor stores in low-income neighborhoods.

His comments came Tuesday in a brisk, impromptu exchange with members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who were concerned that new liquor stores might be "right next to churches and schools."

request, the GOP Legislature last year abolished requirements for 1,500 feet between liquor stores in New York City and 750 feet elsewhere.

Later, the State Liquor Authority, ending a 16-year moratorium, began issuing new package store licenses. Applications are being processed.

Several New York City delegates of the NAACP, here advocating a series of civil rights measures, expressed fears that the liquor law changes would result in many new package stores in Negro neighborhoods.

The liquor-law debate started after the governor had completed a talk on civil rights and was headed for a conference with NAACP leaders.

Handling Charges Will Cause Dairy Shakeup

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Robert P. Story, dairy marketing specialist at Cornell University, says a vast technological shakeup will hit dairymen in the next few years.

He told representatives of the State Dairy Conference of the New York Farm Bureau Tuesday night that major problems in milk marketing would arise from technological changes.

For example, he said, improved methods in handling, transportation and storage of fluid milk, the highest priced milk, have made it less perishable.

Recorded 'Life of Christ'

NEW YORK (AP)—A world premier was given here of a six-hour, recorded dramatization of the life of Christ, entitled "Journey to Bethany," performed by a cast of Cincinnati businessmen Thomas E. Wood, and Lor Productions Inc. of Los Angeles, the drama fills 11 long-playing records.

CAP Meets Tonight

For Nuclear-Tipped Missile

U. S. Simulates Altitude Conditions Under Desert

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Far beneath the Nevada desert, the United States has developed means of simulating the altitude conditions a nuclear-tipped missile would encounter if detonated at nearly 100 miles above the earth.

This was learned today in an interview with Brig. Gen. Delmar L. Crowson, director of the Atomic Energy Commission's Division of Military Application.

All indications are that such a manned creation — deep within the earth — of the vacuum at the fringes of outer space is designed to:

—Help further improve America's defenses against enemy missiles.

—Enhance the power of U.S. missiles to penetrate an enemy's electronic and other defenses.

Crowson said further that deep drilling techniques developed for underground nuclear tests at Nevada and elsewhere have a rich potential pay-off for peacetime industry, especially the oil and construction industries.

The general discussed the novel nuclear weapons testing technique in amplifying some of the AEC's recent disclosures that "significant progress" has been made in improving America's nuclear defensive and offensive capabilities. The limited test-ban treaty excludes all but underground testing.

The AEC recently reported to Congress:

—Development and deployment of new, more powerful and versatile nuclear bombs and long-range missiles.

—Significant progress toward further increasing the "hardness and penetration capability" of the missile warheads — that is their powers to penetrate enemy defenses and to withstand countermeasures.

—Further advances in the art of developing relatively "clean" weapons — that is, those having less radioactive fallout.

—New progress toward improving capabilities for detecting underground tests by other nations.

Crowson said one of the major techniques developed for underground testing is the carving out of huge subterranean rooms, with tunnels radiating from them, much like spokes of a wheel. These rooms range up to 900 cubic yards in size.

Nearly all air can be pumped out of large-diameter pipes in the rooms to create vacuum conditions. Weapons devices can be detonated under conditions simulating an altitude of up to 400,000 or 500,000 feet, the general said.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Big business is getting bigger fast. The traditional American uneasiness about it is showing both at the government and the public levels.

Number Swelling
The rush of annual reports show how successful corporations grew last year — both in sales and profits, and also in plants and other assets.

The number of billion-dollar corporations is swelling. Often the measurements of the largest companies in individual industries are changing as fast as those of a growing boy.

A spate of mergers through many industries is accentuating the corporate growth. The increased number of inquiries into mergers by government agencies, and antimerger suits in the courts, is seen by many business executives as evidence that government is still very chary of bigness in business.

Mergers aren't the only reason for the latest growth of the big fellows. But prosperity always swells the number of mergers and they're on the rise now. Stock prices near record highs make it easier for companies to marry through exchange of stocks. If it is outright purchase, the jump in profits last year gives corporate management the needed cash.

The business upswing of the last four years also lured many companies into fields they found too tough — and the way out often is merger with the successful competitor — or with a cash-rich outsider looking for diversification.

Clerical Christmases

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Merry Christmas" continues year-around in Sylacauga, Ala. A Southern Baptist church there has a pastor named Charles Merry Christmas.

The denomination's yearbook also lists two other ministers, both named "Thomas Christmas," in Andrews, N. C. and Dermott, Ark., and a pastor in Dunlap, Tenn., named "J. V. Angel."

Trend of Mergers

Here is the merger trend: In 1958 there were around 900; in 1960 just over 1,000; by 1963 prosperity swelled the figure to around 1,500; and last year to 1,800.

The Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission filed 12 court suits in 1963 to block or undo mergers; in 1964 it filed 21; and in the first two months of 1965 filed 6. Investigations of corporate mergers are under way in such industries as oil, chemicals, iron and steel, foods and in banking.

For the consumer the nervousness about big business getting bigger is traditionally the fear that with fewer choices in the market place he'll have to pay higher prices, or be denied products more to his taste, or miss out on new products held up because the old ones are still profitable.

Rondout Valley Science Fair Winners Listed

The fifth annual science fair of the Rondout Valley Central School was held recently with 60 projects and approximately 20 research papers entered in competition by students from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The entries were judged by A. E. Snyder of the Highland High School Science Department, Ted Sirko of the New Paltz High School Department and Fred Hough of Carworth Inc.

Awards were made to the following students:

Eighth grade — First, Gayle Grunwald, Plants and Light; second, Carol Shaver, Mice and Diets; third, Jean Embree, Rescue Breathing; honorable mention, Jane Rind, Digestion.

Not Broken in Anger

ADDISON, Ill. (AP)—Breaking dishes rates highest among young mothers who average nine dishes a year, according to a survey of 600 homemakers.

Karl Jensen, a sink manufacturer, says that 70 per cent of the breakage occurred during the drying process rather than washing.

Ninth grade — First, Thomas Becker, Radiation Experiment; second, Robert Hamm, Rocketry; third, Stanley Wager, Fractional Distillation; honorable mention, Jeffrey Parker, Petroleum.

The grand prize award presented by Carworth, Inc. was won by Gayle Grunwald.

Projects and papers were on display for visiting parents between 7 and 8 p. m. and awards were presented at a meeting of parents and students held immediately after the exhibit period.

The science fair was held under the auspices of the Science Department of the Rondout Valley Junior-Senior High School headed by Mrs. Bernice Jansen as coordinator of the department and Roland Mayberry, chairman of arrangements.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Big business is getting bigger fast. The traditional American uneasiness about it is showing both at the government and the public levels.

Number Swelling
The rush of annual reports show how successful corporations grew last year — both in sales and profits, and also in plants and other assets.

The number of billion-dollar corporations is swelling. Often the measurements of the largest companies in individual industries are changing as fast as those of a growing boy.

A spate of mergers through many industries is accentuating the corporate growth. The increased number of inquiries into mergers by government agencies, and antimerger suits in the courts, is seen by many business executives as evidence that government is still very chary of bigness in business.

Mergers aren't the only reason for the latest growth of the big fellows. But prosperity always swells the number of mergers and they're on the rise now. Stock prices near record highs make it easier for companies to marry through exchange of stocks. If it is outright purchase, the jump in profits last year gives corporate management the needed cash.

The business upswing of the last four years also lured many companies into fields they found too tough — and the way out often is merger with the successful competitor — or with a cash-rich outsider looking for diversification.

Clerical Christmases

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Merry Christmas" continues year-around in Sylacauga, Ala. A Southern Baptist church there has a pastor named Charles Merry Christmas.

The denomination's yearbook also lists two other ministers, both named "Thomas Christmas," in Andrews, N. C., and Dermott, Ark., and a pastor in Dunlap, Tenn., named "J. V. Angel."

Trend of Mergers

Here is the merger trend: In 1958 there were around 900; in 1960 just over 1,000; by 1963 prosperity swelled the figure to around 1,500; and last year to 1,800.

The Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission filed 12 court suits in 1963 to block or undo mergers; in 1964 it filed 21; and in the first two months of 1965 filed 6. Investigations of corporate mergers are under way in such industries as oil, chemicals, iron and steel, foods and in banking.

For the consumer the nervousness about big business getting bigger is traditionally the fear that with fewer choices in the market place he'll have to pay higher prices, or be denied products more to his taste, or miss out on new products held up because the old ones are still profitable.

Rondout Valley Science Fair Winners Listed

The fifth annual science fair of the Rondout Valley Central School was held recently with 60 projects and approximately 20 research papers entered in competition by students from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

The entries were judged by A. E. Snyder of the Highland High School Science Department, Ted Sirko of the New Paltz High School Department and Fred Hough of Carworth Inc.

Awards were made to the following students:

Eighth grade — First, Gayle Grunwald, Plants and Light; second, Carol Shaver, Mice and Diets; third, Jean Embree, Rescue Breathing; honorable mention, Jane Rind, Digestion.

Not Broken in Anger

ADDISON, Ill. (AP)—Breaking dishes rates highest among young mothers who average nine dishes a year, according to a survey of 600 homemakers.

Karl Jensen, a sink manufacturer, says that 70 per cent of the breakage occurred during the drying process rather than washing.

Ninth grade — First, Thomas Becker, Radiation Experiment; second, Robert Hamm, Rocketry; third, Stanley Wager, Fractional Distillation; honorable mention, Jeffrey Parker, Petroleum.

The grand prize award presented by Carworth, Inc. was won by Gayle Grunwald.

Projects and papers were on display for visiting parents between 7 and 8 p. m. and awards were presented at a meeting of parents and students held immediately after the exhibit period.

The science fair was held under the auspices of the Science Department of the Rondout Valley Junior-Senior High School headed by Mrs. Bernice Jansen as coordinator of the department and Roland Mayberry, chairman of arrangements.

"Did I ever tell you about my operation?"

Thaler Critical Of Rocky's Plan For Blue Cross

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Legislation that Gov. Rockefeller says would head off increases in Blue Cross-Blue Shield rates "protects nobody against anything," Sen. Seymour R. Thaler, D-Queens, asserted today.

Thaler, chairman of the Senate Public Health Committee, has been conducting a running debate with the Republican governor on the issue of medical insurance costs.

Rockefeller has asked the Legislature to reduce from 15 per cent to 5 per cent the maximum share of annual income from premiums Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans are allowed to keep as a reserve.

Thaler hit today at the plan for regulating administrative costs.

He said the 19 insurance plans in the state spent almost $42 million for administration in 1963 but they "could spend more than $68.5 million under the provisions of the governor's illusory ceiling."

Denial Is Made Gas Used During Rochester Riots

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A State Police spokesman says that troopers did not use any gas in quelling riots in Rochester last summer as asserted by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. McNamara had said in Washington that the New York State police used in Rochester the same form of nonlethal gas that the United States has supplied to South Viet Nam for use against the Viet Cong.

The police spokesman said Tuesday night:

Killed in Collision

WESTFIELD, N.Y. (AP) — Edward Arthur Fothergill, 42, of Rutland, Vt., was killed early today when his tractor-trailer and another truck collided on the New York State Thruway near here.

The other trucker was not injured.

Will Sign Any Negro Who Can Qualify: Lowndes

FORT DEPOSIT, Ala. (AP) — A member of the Lowndes County Board of Registrars says any qualified Negro can register to vote in the rural county which is one of the targets of Dr. Martin Luther King's voter-registration drive.

"Our policy on the board," said board member Carl Goldson, "is just this: If they can qualify, we're going to put them on. As a matter of fact, that's been our policy for some time, but we just haven't had any applicants."

He continued, "We're not going to worry about this voucher business. We know the Negroes who are likely to qualify and we know how long they have lived here."

Lowndes County, like most others in Alabama, has a rule which requires registered voters to vouch for those seeking to register. The voucher is required to verify that the applicant has lived in the state at least one year, in the county six months and the precinct 90 days. Those are the resident qualifications fixed by law.

Negro leaders have complained that the voucher rule has kept Negroes from registering in Lowndes and neighboring Wilcox counties because there were no Negro voters to act as vouches.

The campaign for equal voting rights has encouraged some Negroes to seek registration in Lowndes County, which is on the route of the march from Selma to Montgomery. The county for many years had no Negro voters. It now has two on the list.

Javits Says Mail 50 to 1 for Talks With Viet Nam

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., shrugging off a report of a rift with Gov. Rockefeller, Tuesday night focused his attention on problems in South Viet Nam.

In a speech at Syracuse University, Javits proposed a four-point approach toward a possible negotiated settlement in the Viet Nam conflict.

He said that, at times, his mail had been running 50-1 against the present U.S. policies in South Viet Nam.

Earlier, in an interview, Javits declined to comment about reports that he had told friends he would not support Republican Rockefeller if the governor sought the GOP presidential nomination in 1968.

Javits said 1968 was a long way off.

Javits said he had the highest regard for Rockefeller's ability, however, and promised to support the governor if he sought a third term in 1966.

The Senator was more specific on Viet Nam. Javits said that President Johnson should clarify two factors to give the American public a clearer picture of the U.S. commitment in Viet Nam:

First, whether the United States is satisfied with South Viet Nam's will to resist Communism and, second, what principles the United States considers necessary for a negotiated settlement.

Challenged on Support HARRISBURG (AP) — A Senate Democrat challenged Gov. Scranton today to line up Republican support for a bill to provide bus transportation for parochial and private school pupils.

If Gov. Scranton wants a bill to reach the floor of the Senate, he's going to have to get the Republicans in the committee to vote for it," said the Senator, who asked to remain anonymous.

Haven't Backed Up

Viet Nam War to Be Back Bigger, Uglier Than Ever

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Vietnamese war, shoved out of much of the American mind by space shots and civil rights excitement, will be back, uglier and perhaps bigger.

This country intensified the war against the Communists to make them back up and seek a truce. They haven't backed up, they haven't sought a truce, and they're fighting harder.

Six weeks ago, after they attacked an American air base in South Viet Nam, the United States stepped up the conflict with a bombing raid on North Viet Nam.

"We want no wider war," President Johnson said, although the bombing widened it. The bombing raids continued—until now they are almost commonplace but the Communists show no signs of yielding. On the contrary.

Decisive Point Arrives

This week Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, said the Red guerrillas there are beginning an all-out drive for victory. "Now one senses we may be arriving at a decisive point," he said. He said more.

He startled and worried this country's British ally, even though it had approved the stepped-up U.S. efforts, when he said there are no limits on how much the war may be intensified. And then he indicated this country may have changed its mind if it thought bombing raids could make the Communists see the light. Now he says the United States may get into the ground fighting in South Viet Nam.

The irony in the American effort to save the South Vietnamese from being overwhelmed is that they have far more than enough men to do their own fighting. If they had the will and the training, Taylor acknowledged this obliquely.

Asks Explanation

He said sufficient military, paramilitary and police manpower must be trained to outmaneuver the Red guerrillas. Yet, this war has been going on for years and through the administrations of three presidents.

Thinking of where all this may be heading, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson said Tuesday he wants an explanation of Taylor's statement that there are no limits on how much the war may be stepped up.

This came on top of news from Saigon that the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces are experimenting with nonlethal gas warfare against the Reds.

From Saigon The Associated Press reported the nature of the gases is classified information but they are believed to be a mixture that includes the universal riot-control weapon, tear gas.

But The AP also said one gas reportedly causes nausea and vomiting. The British are skeptical. Wilson said Britain is raising questions about the use of napalm and nonlethal gas.

Cites Contradiction

Lord Kennet said American statements on the gas were contradictory. If it causes nausea, he said, it was "not a type of police gas."

Here Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said such gases were used by the British in Cyprus in 1955, have been used at the Berlin wall, by American police during racial rioting, and by Panama police.

Meanwhile, the White House said Johnson had not been consulted before what was reported as riot-control gas had been used in Viet Nam.

But Michael Stewart, British foreign secretary, said in Washington that he had expressed to Secretary of State Dean Rusk "the very grave concern" felt in Britain and other countries about the use of nauseous gas.

"I am, in fact," he said, "asking the United States to display what your Declaration of Independence calls a decent respect for the opinion of mankind."

In Moscow Soviet leaders hinted at the use of force on the side of North Viet Nam. Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev said Soviet citizens had been volunteering for service there.

After all this there is the troubling question: If the bombing raids have not forced North Viet Nam to back up, then what next and how far?

NEW YORK (AP) — It is one of the ironies of the space age that the greatest apparent discomfort suffered by those associated with the magnificent exploit of the Molly Brown and her pilots Tuesday was the painful sunburn suffered by NBC's field reporter, Merrill Mueller, under the hot Cape Kennedy sun.

From early morning until astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young were welcomed aboard the carrier Intrepid, the three major networks' news staffs did a smooth and well-organized job of covering with cameras everything that was visible and of demonstrating by mock-ups, graphics and interviews the things that were not.

The only point when things became slightly mixed up was immediately after the splash down when broadcast pool reporter Dallas Townsend of CBS made a radio report from the carrier Intrepid about the location of the capsule which differed from Paul Haney's report from the Gemini control center. It turned out Townsend's report was the more accurate.

CBS reported with elation that a national Arbitron rating between 7 a.m. and noon EST Tuesday indicated that it tied with NBC in audience popularity — the two networks splitting equally 70 per cent of the estimated sets in use.

Space shots may be getting common place, but the launching of a giant missile with human cargo is still an awesome, heart-stirring sight, and the suspense that builds during the descent beats anything in manufactured drama.

Recommended tonight: "The Danny Kaye Show," CBS, 10-11 EST — with Jason Robards Jr. and wife, Lauren Bacall, as guest stars.

75-Acre Limitations Removed for Beets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has removed the 75-acre limitation for farms seeking part of New York State's sugar-beet allotment of 29,500 acres.

The department Tuesday gave the New York Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee authority to set a higher maximum.

The action was taken, the department said, because not enough farms had applied for allotments to utilize the 29,500 acres.

The allotment was granted for growing sugar beets, beginning this year, in Central New York near a sugar-beet processing plant being built near Montezuma, Cayuga County.

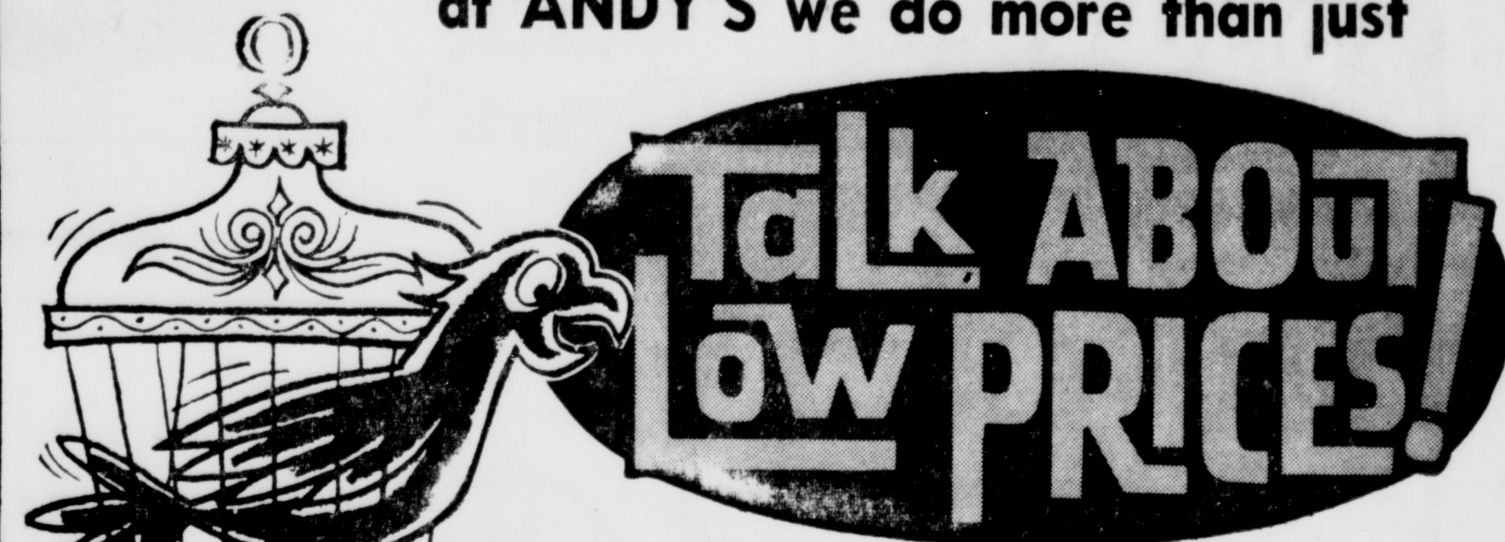

The limit was initially set to

Meat Wholesaler Expands

Edward Davis & Company, Inc., national meat wholesalers headquartered in New York, will officially open a new office, warehousing and distribution complex in Monticello, March 29, the firm's president, Hyman Kleinberg, announced today. The facility, located at 310 Broadway, will feature the latest processing and warehousing equipment in the meat industry. Kleinberg said that the expansion was needed to meet the growing demands for fresh meat, cut locally, in upstate New York and New England.

WEST SHOKAN NEWS

WEST SHOKAN—Fire Chief Albert Fox of the Olive Fire Department, rugged and experienced as he is, had the misfortune to cut his leg severely while operating a chain saw when the chain flew off. He was rushed to Benedictine Hospital by his wife and was received in the emergency room where 13 stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Members of the Republican Club of the Town of Olive have received notices this week over the signature of Ray C. Cruthers as chairman of the executive board, to the effect that on April 3 at 8 p. m. there will be a special meeting held in the Olive Bridge Fire Hall for the purpose of reorganizing the existing Republican Club, election of an executive board and to elect officers. All members were urged to attend and take an active interest in the coming fall election campaign.

In Thursday's local news concerning the famous blizzard of 1888, several names of those who recalled the event were omitted. Among those were the names of Mrs. Augustus Roosa, 95, temporarily residing in Kingston, and Oscar Dudley, 85, of Olive Bridge.

The Rev. David Vittner, currently serving the Phenicia and Olive-Shokan Baptist Church, called on community parishioners Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood were among Kingston callers on Thursday.

Among early spring neighborhood birthdays is that of OES soloist, Mrs. Arthur Blume of Watson Hollow on March 23. Arthur Scofield is successfully trying his hand with maple syrup making and is already reported to have produced some 25 gallons.

Astronauts Listed From Gagarin to Grissom, Young

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young are the 18th and 19th men ticketed to rocket into space since the first went aloft in 1961. The previous 17, six American, 11 Russian, are:

Russian Maj. Yuri Gagarin, one orbit, one hour, 48 minutes, April 12, 1961.

U.S. Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom, suborbit, 16 minutes, July 21, 1961.

Russian Maj. Gherman Titov, 17 orbits, 25 hours, 18 minutes, Aug. 6, 1961.

U.S. Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., three orbits, 4 hours, 56 minutes, Feb. 20, 1962.

U.S. Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, three orbits, 4 hours, 56 minutes, May 24, 1962.

Russian Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 64 orbits, 94 hours, 35 minutes, Aug. 11, 1962.

Russian Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 48 orbits, 70 hours, 57 minutes, Aug. 12, 1962.

U.S. Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., six orbits, 9 hours, 13 minutes, Oct. 3, 1962.

U.S. Air Force Maj. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., 22 orbits, 24 hours, 20 minutes, May 15, 1963.

Russian Valentina Tereshkova, 48 orbits, 70 hours, 50 minutes, June 16, 1963.

Russians Col. Vladimir Komarov, pilot; Boris Yegorov, doctor; and Konstantin Feoktistov, scientist, 16 orbits, 24 hours, 17 minutes, Oct. 12, 1964.

Russians Col. Pavel Beliyev, pilot, and Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov, 17 orbits, 26 hours, 2 minutes, March 18, 1965.

One false-card which is apt to explode in your face is the lead of fifth best instead of fourth best in an attempt to fool declarer.

West has 12 high card points and the opponents' bidding has indicated that they hold at least 26 so that West will have to defend almost single-handed against a three no-trump contract.

His five-card spade suit offers an attractive lead and there is no reason why he should not open the deuce and conceal the fact that he does have a five card suit.

Irrespective of which spade he opens South will win with the queen in dummy and finesse the jack of clubs. West will take his king and lead another low spade.

South will win and run the last three clubs. West should discard the ten of hearts and East the three of hearts and his last spade.

At this point declarer will have to decide between the lead of three rounds of diamonds in hope that the suit will break or the attempt to set up a heart trick.

Diamonds do break 3-3 and the diamond play will work, but if South is fooled by the false lead at trick one he will try the heart lead whereupon West will take the ace of hearts and three spades.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — None of the neighbors tattled to police about the suburbanite whose broken leg failed to keep him from his favorite tavern.

The cast was so bulky the man couldn't get into an auto very easily. He solved that by straddling his power mower and driving it along the grass on Bardstown Road from his home to the inn.

Sue Lyons Looks, Sounds Different; Not Like Lolita

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She seems absolutely prim. When she speaks it is often of the joys of serious acting or the intricacies of Oriental philosophy.

This is Sue Lyon. "Lolita" plus five years. She looks and sounds greatly changed in her initial film. In truth, she seems different from the teen-age temptress she enacted in "Night of the Iguana."

The alterations are not entirely external. The physical aspects are the result of her role as mission schoolteacher in "Manchuria" for the multistar "Seven Women." The other changes may be the result of a year in which she was married and divorced from actor Hampton Fancher III.

"It has been a difficult year," she commented reflectively. "The worst part of it was losing my brother; that was the most tragic thing that has happened in my life."

"But in other ways it has been a wonderful year. I have grown and learned a great deal."

She evidenced no bitterness about her brief tenure as Mrs. Hampton Fancher III. In fact, to refurbish an old Hollywood cliché, they are still friends.

"I always remain friends with those I have been in love with," she reasoned. "I think that before there can be love, you must admire and respect a person. After love has gone, you can still maintain your friendship. It's foolish not to."

In "Seven Women," Sue finds herself amid the powerhouse company of Anne Bancroft, Margaret Leighton, Flora Robson, Betty Field, Mildred Dunnock and Anna Lee. She is understandably awed in the presence of such talent and determined to keep up with them.

One of her ways of understanding the nature of the film is to study a heavy tome on Chinese philosophy. "I can only read a little bit at a time and then I get lost," she admitted.

"At this rate it may take me five years to finish it, but I'm determined."

That's the nature of Sue Lyon at 19: determination. For a couple of years she has been studying with a dramatic coach, and the experience has infused her with a will to succeed.

Brezhnev Issues New Warning During Space Fete

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid Brezhnev said Tuesday that the Soviet Union is "already taking the necessary measures of assistance to strengthen the defensive potential" of North Viet Nam.

Will Discharge Duty

Brezhnev, Soviet communist party chief, told a Red Square crowd welcoming the Soviet Union's two new cosmonauts:

"You may rest assured, comrades, that we will discharge our international duty vis-a-vis the fraternal Socialist country."

"The flames of war fanned up by United States imperialists in Viet Nam threaten to spread to other areas and jeopardize world peace," Brezhnev declared.

"If the American aggressors hope that time will pass and their actions in Viet Nam will be forgotten, that time will wash away the disgrace of their crimes, they are deeply mistaken."

"We are warning the aggressors: By your criminal actions you are digging such a pit beneath your feet from which you then may not be able to get out."

Earlier Brezhnev appeared moved to tears as Alexei Leonov described the beauty of the Soviet Union as he saw it while taking his 10-minute stroll in space last week.

Brezhnev wiped his eyes and

15 Works by Poets

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Theater for Poets, an off-Broadway enterprise begun four years ago, is intensifying its activities.

During the period nine presentations have been staged in various auditoriums. Now the Theater in Greenwich Village group has leased the East End and plans to present 15 works this season on Friday-through-Sunday schedules.

then turned his back and appeared to blow his nose after Leonov, copilot of the spaceship Voskhod 2, told the thousands gathered in Red Square:

"The deep darkness of the stars charmed me. The Caucasus Mountains with white flowers of snow atop them, the sunshine on the Black Sea, the blue Volga and the gray line of the Urals, and the Yenisey" — river.

"I was looking at all this beauty and thinking how good it would be to have a real artist here."

Leonov and his commander on the space flight last week, Col. Pavel Belyayev, arrived in Moscow today for the triumphal welcome traditionally given to successful cosmonauts.

Brezhnev was the first to hug the pair who orbited the earth last week. Then the two were hugged by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Anastas I. Mikoyan, and party leaders Nikolai Podgorny and Mikhail Suslov.

Up to Wives, She Says

ROUND LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — A woman who married her childhood sweetheart in 1900 says wives are "more to blame when married couples have arguments."

But the secret of 65 years of "happily married life" is to "love each other a lot," said Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Eastman, who celebrated their anniversary here this week.

No matter how you look at it, this car makes a lot of sense.

If you're interested in value (and who isn't), the eleven features above give you a good idea why more intermediate-size car buyers are thinking Chevelle.

If you're looking for a wide power choice, Chevelle starts out with a standard 120-hp

Six, an ideal city performer. After that you may order from a variety of engines that turn it into an even greater highway performer.

Room? Large door openings. Wide curved side windows for extra shoulder room. Great front and rear leg room. Those four, five or six passengers have it made. And so do you.

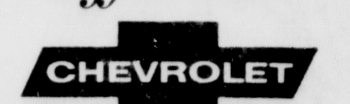

Chevelle may seat like a big car but it handles like a smaller car (especially when you park).

Comfort? Thick wall-to-wall carpeting in Malibu models. Foam-cushioned seats. Easy-to-read instrument panel. The whole interior looks like those in cars costing far more.

Come on down to our showroom and take a drive soon. Chevelle begins to make even more sense after you've gone a couple of miles.

She evidenced no bitterness about her brief tenure as Mrs. Hampton Fancher III. In fact, to refurbish an old Hollywood cliché, they are still friends.

"I always remain friends with those I have been in love with," she reasoned. "I think that because there can be love, you must admire and respect a person. After love has gone, you can still maintain your friendship. It's foolish not to."

In "Seven Women," Sue finds herself amid the powerhouse company of Anne Bancroft, Margaret Leighton, Flora Robson, Betty Field, Mildred Dunnock and Anna Lee. She is understandably awed in the presence of such talent and determined to keep up with them.

One of her ways of understanding the nature of the film is to study a heavy tome on Chinese philosophy. "I can only read a little bit at a time and then I get lost," she admitted. "At this rate it may take me five years to finish it, but I'm determined."

That's the nature of Sue Lyon at 19: determination. For a couple of years she has been studying with a dramatic coach, and the experience has infused her with a will to succeed.

Brezhnev Issues New Warning During Space Fete

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid Brezhnev said Tuesday that the Soviet Union is "already taking the necessary measures of assistance to strengthen the defensive potential" of North Vietnam.

Will Discharge Duty

Brezhnev, Soviet communist party chief, told a Red Square crowd welcoming the Soviet Union's two new cosmonauts: "You may rest assured, comrades, that we will discharge our international duty vis-a-vis the fraternal Socialist country."

"The flames of war fanned up by United States imperialists in Viet Nam threaten to spread to other areas and jeopardize world peace," Brezhnev declared.

"If the American aggressors hope that time will pass and their actions in Viet Nam will be forgotten, that time will wash away the disgrace of their crimes, they are deeply mistaken."

"We are warning the aggressors: By your criminal actions you are digging such a pit beneath your feet from which you then may not be able to get out."

Earlier Brezhnev appeared moved to tears as Alexei Leonov described the beauty of the Soviet Union as he saw it while taking his 10-minute stroll in space last week.

Brezhnev wiped his eyes and then turned his back and appeared to blow his nose after Leonov, copilot of the spaceship Voskhod 2, told the thousands gathered in Red Square: "The deep darkness of the sky and the brightness of the stars charmed me. The Caucasus Mountains with white flowers of snow atop them, the sunshine on Sochi (a Soviet resort on the Black Sea), the blue Volga and the gray line of the Urals, and the Yenisey" — river.

"I was looking at all this beauty and thinking how good it would be to have a real artist here."

Leonov and his commander on the space flight last week, Col. Pavel Belyayev, arrived in Moscow today for the triumphal welcome traditionally given to successful cosmonauts.

Brezhnev was the first to hug the pair who orbited the earth last week. Then the two were hugged by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Anastas I. Mikoyan, and party leaders Nikolai Podgorny and Mikhail Suslov.

But the secret of 65 years of "happy married life" is to "love each other a lot," said Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Eastman, who celebrated their anniversary here this week.

CHEVELLE by Chevrolet
No other car of its size offers more

No matter how you look at it, this car makes a lot of sense. Six, an ideal city performer. After that you may order from a variety of engines that turn it into an even greater highway performer. Room? Large door openings. Wide curved side windows for extra shoulder room. Great front and rear leg room. Those four, five or six passengers have it made. And so do you. Chevelle may seat like a big car but it handles like a smaller car (especially when you park). Comfort? Thick wall-to-wall carpeting in Malibu models. Foam-cushioned seats. Easy-to-read instrument panel. The whole interior looks like those in cars costing far more. Come on down to our showroom and take a drive soon. Chevelle begins to make even more sense after you've gone a couple of miles.

Where There's a Will

LOUISVILLE (AP) — None of the neighbors tattled to police about the suburbanite whose broken leg failed to keep him from his favorite tavern.

The cast was so bulky the man couldn't get into an auto very easily. He solved that by straddling his power mower and driving it along the grass on Bardston Road from his home to the inn.

Reaction of Wives After Completion Of Gemini Flight

By ROBERT HEARD
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — After it was over everything was different.

Betty Grissom blushed and smiled triumphantly.

Barbara Young's tight, infectious grin lighted her pretty face.

The day began gloomily, with an iron gray overcast and mist drifting through the beams of television floodlights in front of their homes.

Now the sun shone hotly after Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young were safely recovered from the Atlantic.

Spidery white clouds rode a fast breeze across the tops of tall pines in front of the Grissom home.

"I think it's been a great day," Mrs. Grissom told a score of newsmen.

Several of the wives of her Timber Cove neighborhood stood bunched across the street, dressed mainly in capris and shirt blouses.

Mrs. Grissom wore a simple, green dress. She said she didn't paste trading stamps as she had planned.

"I was too busy watching television," she laughed.

She wasn't as anxious at lift-off this time, she said, as on the 1961 sub-orbital flight by her husband.

But she held her breath on the return of his Gemini spacecraft Tuesday.

"I was waiting for the flotation ring to be placed around the capsule," she said.

Sons Scott, 14, and Mark, 11, stood beside her. Scott, revealing the braces on his teeth, put his worry more succinctly: "I was just hoping it was floating."

Would Mrs. Grissom like to see her husband participate in another flight?

"Not any way soon," she replied.

The same question was put to Mrs. Young at her news conference in neighboring El Lago. It brought this response:

"Heavens, yes. I'd like to take part again and I know John is ready to start training."

With her were daughter Sandra, 7, and son John Jr., 6, John, still bearing telltale dots from a recent bout with chicken pox, had to go back indoors after a brief appearance.

Both families watched three television sets, one for each of the networks.

Both families drove to the Manned Spacecraft Center, 28 miles southeast of Houston, to monitor the second orbit.

America's first orbiting astronaut, John H. Glenn Jr., was there. He explained some of the mysteries of space flight to the children.

Both families were scheduled to fly to Cape Kennedy today.

HRSH Corps to Rehearse

The John Livingston Post 1466-sponsored Hudson River State Hospital Drum and Bugle Corps, will have a rehearsal at 8 p. m. Thursday at the hospital.

Poughkeepsie. A Corps spokesman said that boys 18 years of age or older are still eligible for membership in the unit. He also said that transportation from Kingston will be available for potential candidates and those planning to attend the rehearsal will meet at 7 Thursday night at Trailways Terminal, Broadway.

JAMES C. DONADY

A Navy corpsman has been awarded a commendation for saving the life of a man earlier this year in an Illinois Naval hospital.

James C. Donady, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Bigler, received a commendation at the U. S. Naval Hospital at Great Lakes, Ill. Rear Admiral F. P. Kreuz, commanding officer, cited Donady for his "outstanding performance on Jan. 22, 1965."

Upon discovering a patient in acute respiratory failure, the citation read, "your quick action in initiating artificial respiration by mouth-to-mouth breathing and continuing it until a medical officer arrived is commendable."

Had it not been for your quick thinking and prompt action the patient would have died before medical attention could have been obtained."

Corpsman Donady is on the medical staff at the Great Lake Naval Hospital and is currently studying at the University of Illinois. Upon termination of his service he plans to complete his studies in law at Union University.

Arrives at Florida Base

Second Lieutenant Louis G. Bruhn Jr., son of Supreme Court Judge and Mrs. Louis G. Bruhn of 286 N. Manor Avenue, Kingston, has arrived for duty at Homestead AFB, Fla.

Lieutenant Bruhn is a personnel officer. His new unit is part of the Tactical Air Command which provides firepower and other air support to U. S. Army forces.

The lieutenant is a graduate of Kingston High School. He received his BS Degree from Union College, Schenectady, and was commissioned in 1964 upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program there. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

Lieutenant Bruhn's wife, Margaret, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Allen of RD 5, Hurley Heights, Kingston.

Returns Stateside

Airman First Class George A. Sanford Jr., son of Mrs. Lucy Sanford of 374 Washington Avenue, Kingston, has arrived for duty at Shaw AFB, S.C., after a tour of service on Okinawa.

Airman Sanford, an aircraft navigation equipment repairman, is assigned to a Tactical Air Command (TAC) unit at Shaw. His organization supports the TAC mission of providing firepower and other air support to U. S. Army forces.

The airman is a graduate of Kingston High School. His wife, Mary Lou, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stratton of 84 Lincoln Street, Kingston.

Arrives in Okinawa

Airman First Class Thomas J. Bruck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Bruck of 37 Downs Street, Kingston, has arrived for duty at Naha AB, Okinawa.

Airman Bruck, an administrative specialist, previously served at Lockbourne AFB, Ohio. His new unit is part of the Air Force Communications Service which maintains communications for control of global Air Force operations.

The airman is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Returns From Cruise

Gunner's Mate Third Class James A. Towne, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Towne of Route 1, Ellenville, has returned to Newport, R. I. after a 3½-month cruise with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean aboard the destroyer USS Stickwell. The ship's company visited ports in Italy, France and Spain.

Benkert in Illinois

Army Pvt. Paul A. Benkert, 19, son of Mrs. Virginia D. Benkert, of Box 31, Route 3, Saugerties, has been assigned to the First Missile Battalion, 62nd Artillery at Scott AFB, Ill. A missile crewman at the base, Pvt. Benkert entered the Army last November and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Maines to Graduate

Marine Pvt. James G. Maines, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Maines of Malden-on-Hudson, was scheduled to graduate from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C. He was also scheduled to report to Camp Lejeune, N. C. for further combat infantry training.

In Pacific Trials

Aviation Electrician's Mate Third Class James F. Coppage, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Coppage of Napanoch, is serving aboard an attack aircraft carrier currently conducting sea trials off the Pacific coast.

Bora, Buran and Karaburan are winds of the Adriatic, Siberia and the Tarim Basin, respectively.

ROBERT J. GRAY

Coast Guard Cadet First Class Robert J. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray of Stone Ridge, has been named to the Dean's List at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

He was named to the Honor Roll list in recognition of his outstanding scholastic record. He attained a quality point average of 3.0 or more, with no course mark less than a "C."

A point average of 4.0 indicates a perfect score.

On USCG Cutter

Seaman Apprentice Thomas R. Rowe, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rowe Sr. of Tillson, departed New London, Conn., March 7 aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Owasco for a 30-day patrol on Ocean Station Delta in the North Atlantic Ocean.

On station, she collects weather data for use by transoceanic flights and providing a navigational checkpoint for aircraft by confirming positions through radar fixes and transmitting radio beacon navigation signals.

The weather data, with emphasis on conditions at high altitudes, is provided directly to aircraft and relayed to the U. S. Weather Bureau to be included in forecasts for world-wide aeronautical and general use.

The Owasco also makes scientific studies of the ocean while at sea. Information collected, including water samples, wave measurements and samples of microscopic plant life is sent to Washington to be used in a government interagency oceanographic program.

The Owasco also serves as a search and rescue unit to assist any aircraft or ship in distress. In addition, she may provide medical assistance to ill or injured persons at sea.

Serving in Thailand

Seaman Apprentice Stewart J. Sharot, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sharot of 163 Ten Broeck Avenue, Kingston, is in Thailand aboard a guided missile cruiser taking part in a joint U. S.-Thailand amphibious assault exercise.

The exercise, called "Jungle Drum III," is designed to provide experience for Thai and American forces in combined operations, since, as treaty nations, they could be called on to fight together at any time.

Most of the personnel taking part in "Jungle Drum III" are from the Navies and Marine Corps of the two countries. The U. S. task force is part of the highly mobile, self-sufficient Seventh Fleet, which operates throughout the Far East.

5 Plead Guilty To Conspiracy in Assaults on CWA

NEW YORK (AP)—Five former union officials pleaded guilty Tuesday in State Supreme Court to conspiring to commit assault during organizing activities among 10,000 telephone company employees in 1964.

Four of the defendants were officials of a rebel local of the Communications Workers of America (CWA) and the fifth was a Teamsters Union organizer.

They were accused of seeking to arrange dynamiting and beatings early last year in the effort to swing the 10,000-member CWA local from the AFL-CIO to the independent Teamsters Union.

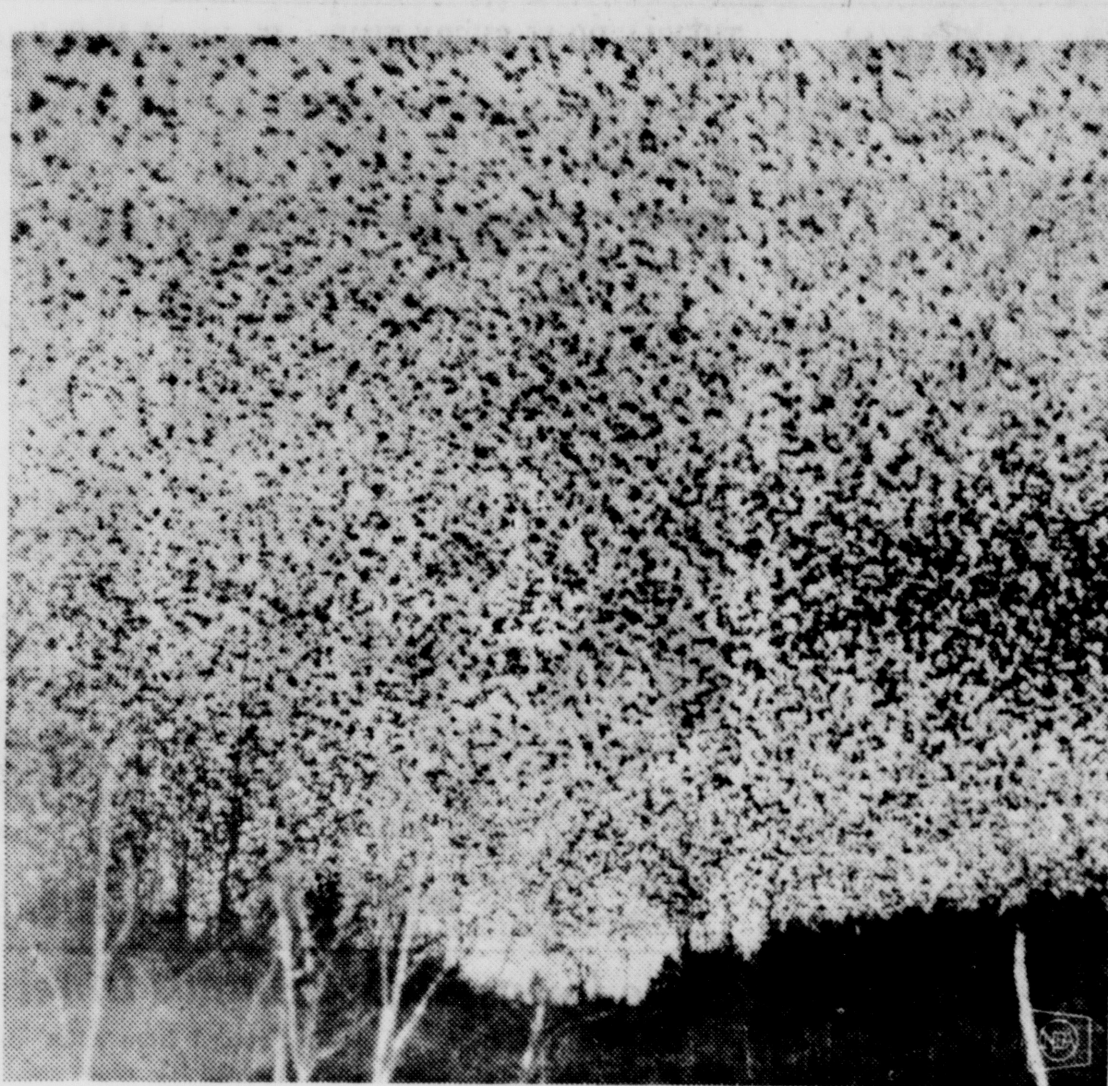

The CWA eventually won a National Labor Relations Board election for control of the 23,500 New York Telephone Co. plant employees in the state.

The five were continued free on bonds of $7,500 each for sentencing next month, after they interrupted their trial to plead guilty.

The assault conspiracy charge carries a maximum sentence of three years in prison.

Those awaiting sentence are four former union officers and a union organizer.

Two Bills Would Help on Rights For Fair Housing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Commission on Human Rights would have more power to enforce the state fair-housing law under bills introduced by the chief architects of the measure.

Sen. George E. Metcalf, R-Auburn, and Assemblyman Bertam L. Baker, D-Brooklyn, offered measures Tuesday that, they said, would "make civil rights a right that invoked the full force of the law."

The human rights commission may now conciliate or order a halt in discriminatory housing practices. The commission must obtain a court order embodying its decree if it wants judicial support.

The Metcalf-Baker bills would strengthen the commissions hand by:

— Putting under court decree conciliation agreements between the commission and persons accused of discriminatory actions.

— Empowering the commission to enforce the housing law by imposing fines or awarding damages.

Giving the commission power to seek a court order to prevent the sale or renting of housing involved in a discrimination case until the case was decided.

Second Lieutenant Louis G. Bruhn Jr., son of Supreme Court Judge and Mrs. Louis G. Bruhn of 286 N. Manor Avenue, Kingston, has arrived for duty at Homestead AFB, Fla.

Lieutenant Bruhn is a personnel officer. His new unit is part of the Tactical Air Command which provides firepower and other air support to U. S. Army forces.

The lieutenant is a graduate of Kingston High School. He received his BS Degree from Union College, Schenectady, and was commissioned in 1964 upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program there. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

Lieutenant Bruhn's wife, Margaret, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Allen of RD 5, Hurley Heights, Kingston.

Returns Stateside

Airman First Class George A. Sanford Jr., son of Mrs. Lucy Sanford of 374 Washington Avenue, Kingston, has arrived for duty at Shaw AFB, S.C., after a tour of service on Okinawa.

Airman Sanford, an aircraft navigation equipment repairman, is assigned to a Tactical Air Command (TAC) unit at Shaw. His organization supports the TAC mission of providing firepower and other air support to U. S. Army forces.

The airman is a graduate of Kingston High School. His wife, Mary Lou, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stratton of 84 Lincoln Street, Kingston.

On Dean's List

ROBERT J. GRAY

Coast Guard Cadet First Class Robert J. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray of Stone Ridge, has been named to the Dean's List at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

He was named to the Honor Roll list in recognition of his outstanding scholastic record. He attained a quality point average of 3.0 or more, with no course mark less than a "C."

A point average of 4.0 indicates a perfect score.

On USCG Cutter

Seaman Apprentice Thomas R. Rowe, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rowe Sr. of Tilton, departed New London, Conn. March 7 aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Owasco for a 30-day patrol on Ocean Station Delta in the North Atlantic Ocean.

On station, she collects weather data for use by transoceanic flights and providing a navigational checkpoint for aircraft by confirming positions through radar fixes and transmitting radio beacon navigation signals.

The weather data, with emphasis on conditions at high altitudes, is provided directly to aircraft and relayed to the U. S. Weather Bureau to be included in forecasts for world-wide aeronautical and general use.

The Owasco also makes scientific studies of the ocean while at sea. Information collected, including water samples, wave measurements and samples of microscopic plant life is sent to Washington to be used in a government interagency oceanographic program.

The Owasco also serves as a search and rescue unit to assist any aircraft or ship in distress. In addition, she may provide medical assistance to ill or injured persons at sea.

Serving in Thailand

Seaman Apprentice Stewart J. Sharot, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sharot of 163 Ten Broeck Avenue, Kingston, is in Thailand aboard a guided missile cruiser taking part in a joint U.S.-Thailand amphibious assault exercise.

The exercise, called "Jungle Drum III," is designed to provide experience for Thai and American forces in combined operations, since, as treaty nations, they could be called on to fight together at any time.

Most of the personnel taking part in "Jungle Drum III" are from the Navies and Marine Corps of the two countries. The U. S. task force is part of the highly mobile, self-sufficient Seventh Fleet, which operates throughout the Far East.

Arrives in Okinawa

Airman First Class Thomas J. Bruck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Bruck of 37 Downs Street, Kingston, has arrived for duty at Naha AB, Okinawa.

Airman Bruck, an administrative specialist, previously served at Lockbourne AFB, Ohio. His new unit is part of the Air Force Communications Service which maintains communications for control of global Air Force operations.

The airman is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Returns From Cruise

Gunner's Mate Third Class James A. Towne, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Towne of Route 1, Ellenville, has returned to Newport, R. I. after a 3½-month cruise with the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean aboard the destroyer USS Stickwell. The ship's company visited ports in Italy, France and Spain.

Benkert in Illinois

Army Pvt. Paul A. Benkert, 19, son of Mrs. Virginia J. Benkert, of Box 31, Route 3, Saugerties, has been assigned to the First Missile Battalion, 62nd Artillery at Scott AFB, Ill. A missile crewman at the base, Pvt. Benkert entered the Army last November and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Maines to Graduate

Marine Pvt. James G. Maines, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Maines of Malden-on-Hudson, was scheduled to graduate from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C. He was also scheduled to report to Camp Lejeune, N. C. for further combat infantry training.

In Pacific Trials

Aviation Electrician's Mate Third Class James F. Coppage, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Coppage of Napanoch, is serving aboard an attack aircraft carrier currently conducting sea trials off the Pacific coast.

Bora, Buran and Karaburan are winds of the Adriatic, Siberia and the Tarim Basin, respectively.

5 Plead Guilty To Conspiracy in Assaults on CWA

NEW YORK (AP)—Five former union officials pleaded guilty Tuesday in State Supreme Court to conspiring to commit assault during organizing activities among 10,000 telephone company employees in 1964.

Four of the defendants were officials of a rebel local of the Communications Workers of America (CWA) and the fifth was a Teamsters Union organizer.

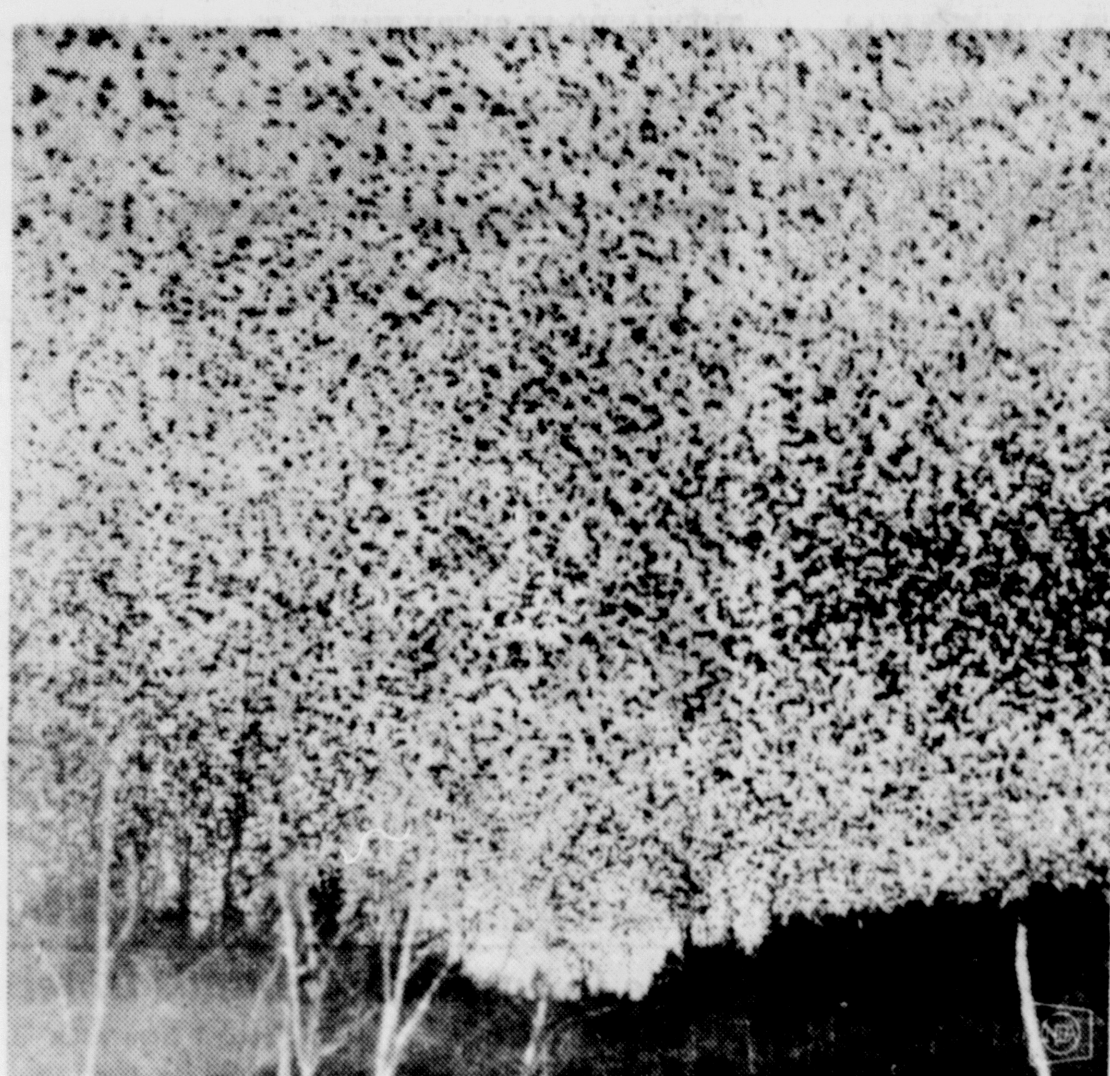

They were accused of seeking to arrange dynamitings and beatings early last year in the effort to swing the 10,000-member CWA local from the AFL-CIO to the independent Teamsters Union.

The CWA eventually won a National Labor Relations Board election for control of the 23,500 New York Telephone Co. plant employees in the state.

The five were continued free on bonds of $7,500 each for sentencing next month, after they interrupted their trial to plead guilty.

The assault conspiracy charge carries a maximum sentence of three years in prison. Those awaiting sentence are four former union officers and a union organizer.

STARTLED STARLINGS—It appears to be raining birds as thousands of starlings take to the air when frightened from a thicket in Dexter, Mo. Several million of the birds have been roosting near Dexter all winter, creating a health hazard. They outnumber the town's 5,500 inhabitants 1,400 to 1.

Two Bills Would Help on Rights For Fair Housing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Commission on Human Rights would have more power to enforce the state fair-housing law under bills introduced by the chief architects of the measure.

Sen. George E. Metcalf, R-Albany, and Assemblyman Bert L. Baker, D-Brooklyn, offered measures Tuesday that, they said, would "make civil rights a right that invoked the full force of the law."

The human rights commission may now conciliate or order a halt in discriminatory housing practices. The commission must obtain a court order embodying its decree if it wants judicial support.

The Metcalf-Baker bills would strengthen the commissions hand by:

— Putting under court decree conciliation agreements between the commission and persons accused of discriminatory actions.

— Empowering the commission to enforce the housing law by imposing fines or awarding damages.

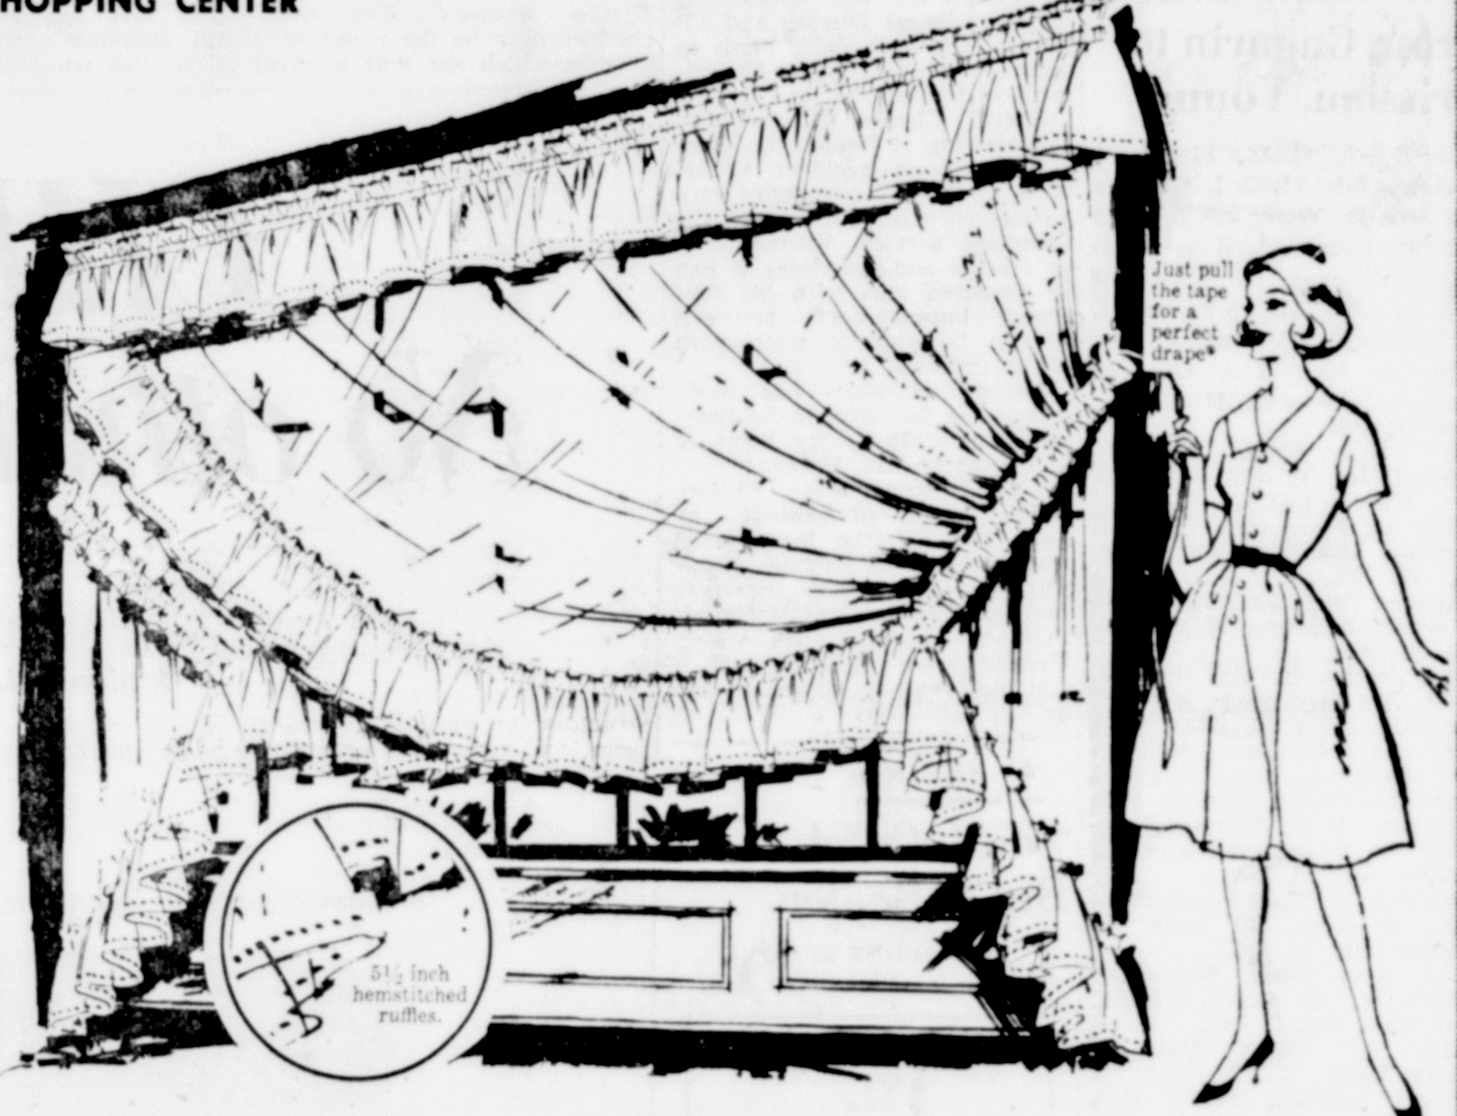

Giving the commission power to seek a court order to prevent the sale or renting of housing involved in a discrimination case until the case was decided.

Say Control of Troops Lost

U.S. Special Forces Personnel Claim Objectives Fade in Viet

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — As an experiment in unconventional warfare, the U.S. Special Forces appears to have encountered heavy going in Viet Nam.

"We should be out there in the mountains fighting the Viet Cong at their own game, but where are we?" said a U.S. Special Forces officer at one of the group's camps.

"We are stuck in camp, and the enemy can see our every move. We have lost control of our troops to the Vietnamese."

"And to cap all of this, we will be posted soon to advise district chiefs. That is not a job for Special Forces, certainly not the Special Forces I thought I was joining."

These comments put in a nutshell the feelings of many Special Forces personnel now serving in Viet Nam.

Objectives Not Met
More recently, Special Forces seems to have been having a lean time of it.

A U.S. officer said: "When I volunteered out of the artillery and into the Special Forces a few years ago, my commanding officer told me, 'You're making a mistake. The generals will kill the Special Forces and your career will die with it.'"

Whether the generals are killing the Special Forces, or whether they are dying a natural death, there is no doubt that the objectives of the Special Forces have not been met in South Viet Nam.

Up to about one year ago they were making progress with one of the objectives — winning over mountain tribes to the government cause.

Scores of special teams were operating in Viet Nam's mountains, working with primitive mountain people and supplying weapons to fight the Viet Cong. There were misgivings about the program.

Some Defect to Cong
For one thing, the Montagnards were getting thousands of weapons to fight the Viet Cong today — who would they use them against tomorrow? And some of the Montagnards defected to the Viet Cong.

There was also the problem of allegiance to South Viet Nam. The Montagnards dislike lowland Vietnamese, but they appeared to love the tough U.S. Special Forces men who worked amongst them.

Eventually, the U.S.-created Montagnard "strike forces" shed to Vietnamese control. Many were turned into popular force units under command of province chiefs.

The loss of control over the Montagnards is now regretted by many officers.

Only Control on Purse
Many U.S. officers charge also that the strike forces are kept in static defense of permanent installations.

Other officers said the Special Forces have been reduced to an advisory effort, as has the regular U.S. Army in Viet Nam.

"The only control we have is that we control the purse strings. This is more than other advisers have and it can be made extremely effective in getting what we want."

"But it isn't enough," a captain said.

Fishkill Eatery Gutted by Blaze

Seven fire companies from southern Dutchess County communities Tuesday night and early today battled flames that gutted the well-known Boni's Restaurant on Route 52, Fishkill. The origin of the blaze was not determined and no estimate of the loss was reported.

A Fishkill fireman was injured and he suffered burns. He was taken to Highland Hospital, Beacon, where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

Tuesday night's fire was the third major blaze that destroyed well known restaurants in Dutchess County. Last fall fire of undetermined origin leveled Nick Ben's Anchor Inn on Main Street, Arlington, causing an estimated loss of about $500,000.

On Jan. 4, a second fire of undetermined origin destroyed Nick Ben's Town House at Fishkill. The loss at that time was estimated in the neighborhood of $15,000. The three-story frame structure was formerly the Kent House.

Shortly before 10 p. m. yesterday, an employee at Boni's discovered flames in the basement of the two-story brick-lined structure at Fishkill. Firemen from local companies were summoned to the scene and later through mutual aid a total of seven fire companies joined in battling the stubborn fire.

Flames worked their way up through the partitions and dense smoke clouded the area, giving firemen a hard fight to check the spread of the fire. Shortly before 1 a. m. flames broke through the room and leaped high in the air.

Hoselines and fire apparatus blocked the highway and traffic was re-routed until a short while before dawn. Firemen were still wetting down the smoldering embers after 6 a. m.

Cabbies Strike Early in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of taxicab drivers struck in the city today in a massive demonstration for recognition of a new union by cab owners.

The stoppage, sponsored by the Taxi Drivers Organizing Committee, started in many places late Tuesday night — ahead of time. The organizing group originally had said the drivers would work until shortly before the start of a rally at Madison Square Garden at 2 p. m. today.

The impact on the public depends largely on the number of independents — men who drive their own cabs — who keep rolling.

Of the 11,772 licensed cabs, 4,956 are operated by independent owners. The remaining 6,816 are controlled by fleet owners.

There are 44,000 drivers in all. The organizers of the stoppage seek recognition by the fleet owners on a single union representing all taxi workers. The organizers say they have cards signed by 25,000 workers asserting their support.

Ann-Margaret Sued

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Ann-Margaret is being sued by 20th Century-Fox to prevent her from appearing in an MGM film which might interfere with her work in a remake of "Stage Coach" for 20th.

Lawyers for 20th asked Tuesday for a Superior Court injunction against both the actress and MGM. They contend she could not complete her work in the MGM film, "Made in Paris." Filming on "Stage Coach" is to start June 25. Her contract with 20th allows her to do outside work if it does not conflict with studio production schedules.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We once acquired a charming acquaintance whose friendliness was constantly interrupted by periods of freezing formality.

They puzzled me greatly until one evening when he dropped in and almost at once dropped a lighted cigarette on the rug. Somebody else quietly picked it up and extinguished it. Five minutes later he dropped the coal of another cigarette on a new slip cover. Again he pretended that this had not occurred. This time I went to the rescue but got to the slip cover too late to prevent the burning of a hole. And I suddenly knew, as he registered it, that we were in for another arctic season. And just as suddenly, knew why.

Our charming acquaintance could not stand the knowledge that his behavior was reprehensible. So I erased the reproach for him. I had the hole in the slip cover reweaved; and when it was delivered, good as new, telephoned him to say, "Jim, you owe me $6 for the lovely reweaving job that's made that slip cover as good as new."

"Do I, darling?" he responded happily. Within 10 minutes he arrived to present me with $6 and another $6 worth of flowers. Maybe this experience will be useful to the reader who writes:

"My mother-in-law hasn't spoken to me since she spilled some glue on the antique chest in our guest room. Knowing how touchy she is, I didn't say anything. But I am sure that her refusal to come to our house has something to do with what she did. My husband has to drop by and see her three times a week now. He doesn't understand her coldness toward me."

How about getting your antique refinished and asking her to give you the money to pay for the job? She does rather sound like our acquaintance. Maybe to recover her friendliness, you'll have to erase her mistake for her.

If I'm right about her, she will hate you until you do. People such as our charming acquaintance and your mother-in-law must have their certainty of irrefragable treatment of us restored to them. So they're only too happy to pay the bills that does this for them. Unable themselves to acknowledge that they are capable of offending us, they adore us the moment we erase the offense along with their sense of indebtedness to us.

Paying this bill will restore your mother-in-law's notion of her never-offending, irreproachable generosity and kindness to you. It will put her back in the driver's seat.

PLAN GIRL SCOUT WORKSHOP—Workshop leaders prepare displays for Ulster County Girl Scout Council Activities in the Arts meeting slated April 3 at New Paltz. All phases of creative arts will be covered for adult volunteers and Senior Scouts affiliated with the council.

Skills in Creative Arts to Be Taught At Paltz Workshop

An opportunity to learn new skills in all phases of creative arts will be offered to all registered Ulster County Council of Girl Scout adult volunteers and Senior Scouts at an Activities in The Arts workshop on Saturday, April 3, at New Paltz.

The facilities of the Education Building of the Reformed Church Huguenot Street have been made available for the event. The workshop will start at 9 a. m., continue through lunch, and close at 3 p. m. Registrations are to be sent to Mrs. Douglass Bartow, 112 Huguenot Street, New Paltz, chairman.

For all participants, Mrs. Henry Hopper will conduct group singing, and make suggestions for successful song sessions in troops. During lunch hour, Bonnie Peterson, Cadette Girl Scout and her singing group, The Catastrophes will give a demonstration of a songfest. There will be an opportunity to view exhibits set up to give ideas for do-it-yourself projects, in the Arts.

Each person registered will have the chance to sign up for two separate groups, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, an experienced dramatist who is currently working with the Ninety Miles off Broadway group in New Paltz will conduct a session in Creative Dramatics, with ideas for simply-done, effective dramatizations. Kenneth Green of New Paltz College are department will show Imaginative Uses For Clay.

In the field of Nature Arts, Mrs. George Bishop, of Windy Knoll Greenhouses will instruct in the use of plant materials, and terrariums. Mrs. Virgil DeWitt, originator of the new bird sanctuary near New Paltz will head a group called Nature Trails. Dr. Merrill Archard of the New Paltz College will conduct Folk Dancing and Singing Games. Mrs. Hugo Munsterberg will present instructions in Origami, the Japanese art of paper folding, learned during her four year sojourn in Japan.

A new creative art project called Sand Casting will be taught by Dr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson. This project, which is a fine means to large art expression, and inexpensive, can be used for large wall hangings and patio decorations. Creative Stitchery will be the subject of a workshop by Mrs. Carol Sedestrom, and should interest those who would like to introduce needlework as an art form. Mrs. Sedestrom will also talk about sources of inexpensive and free materials having to do with the creative arts.

If enough interest is expressed, another group will be set up for Paper Mache. Each person attending will bring her own lunch. A registration fee will cover beverage and ice cream, a songbook as well as workshop materials.

In addition to Mrs. Bartow, the committee planning the event include Mrs. Merrill Archard, Mrs. Richard Culver and Mrs. Jay LeFevre.

State Education Associate Will Be Guest Conductor at Ulster County Music Festival

One of the guest conductors for the Ulster County Music Festival will be Walter E. Cochrane, associate to Dr. Joseph G. Saetveit, New York State Education Department supervisor of music.

The festival will be held 8 p. m. March 27 at the Smiley Fine Arts Building, New Paltz State University College. James A. Silverstri, county president announces that more than 200 music students from throughout the county will participate in either the chorus or band. Milton Ottesen is guest conductor for the chorus.

Mr. Cochrane was appointed to his post with state education department in 1960. Prior to that time he was active in teaching, supervision, publishing and professional playing.

His academic work includes BS and MS degrees from the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. He did advanced graduate work at Columbia, George Washington, Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania.

Immediately preceding his appointment to the State Education Department, Mr. Cochrane was the district director of music for Central School District No. 11 on Long Island. He was also the first coordinator of music for the Alexandria, Va., City Schools where he supervised a music department of 24 teachers. Other positions included those of director of music at Plymouth State Teachers College in New Hampshire and professor of clarinet at the Philadelphia Musical Academy.

During all of these activities Mr. Cochrane also functions as the educational director of the Cundy-Betoney Company in Boston. In this capacity he produced 20 publications including an arrangement of the Three Part Inventions by Bach for wind instruments, a flute and clarinet curriculum, and numerous editions and transcriptions for woodwind instruments.

Past musical activities have included private teaching of pupils in the U.S. Marine and West Point Bands as well as those occupying various teaching positions. In 1960 he organized the Stony Brook Conservatory of Music with 12 New York music teachers. In addition to directing the conservatory he founded the Three Village Choral Society on Long Island. He has judged and conducted festival groups in Virginia and New York, and has played professionally with many musical organizations in Philadelphia. In 1962 he presented a clarinet recital in Albany and was featured as soloist with the Delmar Business Men's Orchestra.

BRIDE'S MOTHER TELLS GROOM WHAT TO WEAR

Q: My son is an officer in the Navy and would like to be married in his full dress uniform. The bride's mother insists he wear striped trousers and a cutaway coat. Is not the choice of clothes up to my son?

A: Your son has the privilege of choosing his own wedding clothes and if he wishes to wear his full dress uniform he has every right to do so.

Wearing Diamonds

Q: I have been told that diamonds, except a diamond ring, are properly worn only in the evening and that a woman of good taste never wears them in the daytime. Is this true?

A: One does not of course wear diamonds on the street or to do marketing, but they may be worn when dressed for a luncheon party, a wedding or an afternoon reception. A conspicuous display of diamonds is never in good taste.

Entering Employer's Private Office

Q: I recently started a new job and on occasion it is necessary for me to go into the president's office with papers for him to sign. Before entering his private office, should I knock on the door or just walk in?

A: If the door is closed you should knock, but if it is open you walk in and wait until he looks up and asks what you want.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We once acquired a charming acquaintance whose friendliness was constantly interrupted by periods of freezing formality. They puzzled me greatly until one evening when he dropped in and almost at once dropped a lighted cigarette on the rug. Somebody else quietly picked it up and extinguished it. Five minutes later he dropped the coal of another cigarette on a new slip cover. Again he pretended that this had not occurred. This time I went to the rescue but got to the slip cover too late to prevent the burning of a hole. And I suddenly knew, as he registered it, that we were in for another arctic season. And just as suddenly, knew why.

Our charming acquaintance could not stand the knowledge that his behavior was reprehensible. So I erased the reproach for him. I had the hole in the slip cover reweaved; and when it was delivered, good as new, telephoned him to say, "Jim, you owe me $6 for the lovely reweaving job that's made that slip cover as good as new."

"Do I, darling?" he responded happily. Within 10 minutes he arrived to present me with $6 and another $6 worth of flowers. Maybe this experience will be useful to the reader who writes:

"My mother-in-law hasn't spoken to me since she spilled some glue on the antique chest in our guest room. Knowing how touchy she is, I didn't say anything. But I am sure that her refusal to come to our house has something to do with what she did. My husband has to drop by and see her three times a week now. He doesn't understand her coldness toward me."

How about getting your antique refinished and asking her to give you the money to pay for the job? She does rather sound like our acquaintance. Maybe to recover her friendliness, you'll have to erase her mistake for her.

If I'm right about her, she will hate you until you do. People such as our charming acquaintance and your mother-in-law must have their certainty of irreproachable treatment of us restored to them. So they're only too happy to pay the bills that does this for them. Unable themselves to acknowledge that they are capable of offending us, they adore us the moment we erase the offense along with their sense of indebtedness to us.

Paying this bill will restore your mother-in-law's notion of her never-offending, irreproachable generosity and kindness to you. It will put her back in the driver's seat.

Metropolitan Opera Star to Be Featured In Community Concerts Series on March 30

ROSALIND ELIAS

Rosalind Elias, beautiful and brilliant young Metropolitan Opera Mezzo, will appear at the Community Theatre Tuesday, March 30, for members of the Community Concert Association.

Miss Elias, who has become an international favorite, was born and raised in Lowell, Mass. As a youngster, she started singing lessons at her own insistence while still in high school, earning featured roles in school reviews and musical shows.

After high school she entered the New England Conservatory. During this period she was contralto soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in the St. John Passion as well as the Bach Magnificat. Shortly after, she became a member of the New England Opera, where she made her debut as Maddalena in Rigoletto. This led to three scholarships to Tanglewood.

In 1954 Miss Elias entered the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, and after her first appearance on the program, was given a contract with the Metropolitan, making her debut in Die Walkure. Since then, she has been heard in Andrea Chénier, Faust, Rigoletto, La Perichole, The Marriage of Figaro, Tales of Hoffman, Eugene Onegin, Cavalleria Rusticana as well as the title role of Carmen.

She has proved during the short time since she has been on the professional stage to be one of the most popular singers not only on the roster of the Metropolitan but in recital, on television and records and with other opera companies all over the country as well. Her most recent appearance on television was March 17 on the Bell Telephone Hour.

Miss Elias is a favorite soloist with leading orchestras such as the Chicago Symphony as well as the important European music festivals. She has become almost the official mezzo of the Boston and Philadelphia Orchestras and has participated in many of their recent recordings.

So much in demand, she rarely finds time for a week's vacation between the end of one season and the beginning of the next. Among her engagements this past season were appearances with the Youngstown, El Paso and Tri-City Symphonies. She also sang the Bach B Minor Mass both in New York and Philadelphia. She has won chorused admiration from the critics as a programmaker. A recent review in the Boston Herald said in part, "It is a memorable experience to behold this exquisite young mezzo soprano."

Miss Elias has definite opinions of her own about the obligations of a performing artist. Commenting on the subject in an interview she stated, "The artist has a responsibility to the audience. People who have purchased a ticket are entitled to the best show the artist can give. This means not only singing at the top of her form, but in concert presenting each number with the intelligence, insight and sensitivity that comes only from thoughtful research. And there's one other responsibility. To give the occasion a quality of excitement and glamour. The audience is entitled to this glamour — otherwise it might as well stay home and listen to the artist on records."

County Grange News

Hurley Grange

Hurley Grange held its regular meeting March 11 with Master Harold Kearney presiding. The following names were approved for membership: Irving Izzo, Amelia Izzo and Edith Ferran. Justin Bell reported that Dr. Sherman Masten, dean of Ulster Community College will be the guest speaker for Hurley Memorial Day Service. Martha Kruezfeldt chairman of the cancer dressing group gave a report at this time that 500 dressings, 105 johnny coats 17 bedpads and 30 comfort pillows were made. She asked for donation of any kind of material.

Several members of the local Grange attended the Pomono meeting. Pomono Lecturer presented Harold Kearney with a gift for his prize winning oil painting in the National Art contest. Mrs. Kruezfeldt also received a gift for winning a state prize in the color photographic contest. Colored slides were shown by Helen Lehtonen from various Grange activities dating back to 1954. The next meeting will be held on March 25.

We The Women
Give Daughter-in-Law Half a Break

By Ruth Millett

It's a rare woman who is as uncritical of her daughter-in-law as of her own daughter.

And yet that is all it would take for a mother-in-law to gain the affection, trust and good will of her daughter-in-law.

An uncritical mother-in-law soon puts a daughter-in-law at ease, and so she is welcome in the latter's home, whereas a critical mother-in-law's visits are always dreaded by the younger, less-experienced homemaker.

An uncritical mother-in-law soon is taken into her daughter-in-law's confidence.

The younger woman isn't afraid that anything she tells will be misinterpreted, misunderstood or repeated where it could cause trouble.

An uncritical mother-in-law isn't likely to have a daughter-in-law who goes around complaining about her.

An uncritical mother-in-law has a good chance of becoming a real friend to her daughter-in-law, instead of being held at arm's length.

An uncritical mother-in-law will not have offers of help or advice misunderstood or rejected by her daughter-in-law.

Xi Alpha Omega Hears Heart Talk, Plans April Event

A speaker who traced the history of the American Heart Association and plans for the Founder's Day dinner scheduled April 27 featured the meeting of Xi Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday night at the home of Betty McManus, sorority president.

Miss Katherine A. Bower, executive director of the Ulster County Heart Association, addressed the members on the history of the AHA and the growth of the Ulster County Heart Association.

She gave credit for this continued growth to the residents of Ulster County who have given so willingly of their time and efforts in the recent Heart Fund campaign.

Miss Bower stressed the need and cooperation in order to further the program of research, education and community service.

Announcement was made that Xi Alpha Omega Chapter will meet on March 30 with delegates from two other local chapters to map final plans for the Founder's Day dinner set April 27 at the Sky Top Restaurant.

Plans also were announced for the Area Council session scheduled for May 8 in Poughkeepsie.

The council comprises representatives from all local chapters who meet for an informative program.

Xi Alpha Omega will hold its next meeting Tuesday, April 20.

On RPI Dean's List

Six Kingston area students have been named to the Dean's List at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, for outstanding academic achievement during the past term, according to Ira E. Harrod, dean of students. To be named to the list, a student must have maintained a 3.0 (B) average or better during the semester. The highest average a student at Rensselaer may attain is 4.0 (A).

They are:

Charles P. Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt of Ashokan, a freshman majoring in chemical engineering.

Richard S. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Rose, RD 2, Box 18, Kingston; Allen J. Taylor, son of Mrs. Florence W. Taylor, Morgan Hill Road and Richard A. Woelke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold B. Woelke, Stoll Court, Kingston.

Carlton A. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Carlson, RD 1, Box 261, West Hurley and Alan J. Theiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Theiss, 112 Deyo Street, Tillsen.

County Grange News

Hurley Grange

Hurley Grange held its regular meeting March 11 with Master Harold Kearney presiding. The following names were approved for membership: Irving Izzo, Amelia Izzo and Edith Ferran. Justin Bell reported that Dr. Sherman Masten, dean of Ulster Community College will be the guest speaker for Hurley Memorial Day Service. Martha Krutzfeldt chairman of the cancer dressing group gave a report at this time that 500 dressings, 105 Johnny coats 17 bedpads and 30 comfort pillows were made. She asked for donation of any kind of material.

Several members of the local Grange attended the Pomono meeting. Pomono Lecturer presented Harold Kearney with a gift for his prize winning oil painting in the National Art contest. Mrs. Krutzfeldt also received a gift for winning a state prize in the color photographic contest. Colored slides were shown by Helen Lehtonen from various Grange activities dating back to 1954. The next meeting will be held on March 25.

Rosalind Elias, beautiful and brilliant young Metropolitan Opera Mezzo, will appear at the Community Theatre Tuesday, March 30, for members of the Community Concert Association.

Miss Elias, who has become an international favorite, was born and raised in Lowell, Mass. As a youngster, she started singing lessons at her own insistence while still in high school, earning featured roles in school reviews and musical shows.

After high school she entered the New England Conservatory. During this period she was contralto soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in the St. John Passion as well as the Bach Magnificat. Shortly after, she became a member of the New England Opera, where she made her debut as Maddalena in Rigoletto. This led to three scholarships to Tanglewood.

In 1954 Miss Elias entered the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, and after her first appearance on the program, was given a contract with the Metropolitan, making her debut in Die Walkure. Since then, she has been heard in Andrea Chenier, Faust, Rigoletto, La Traviata, The Marriage of Figaro, Tales of Hoffman, Eugene Onegin, Cavalleria Rusticana as well as the title role of Carmen.

She has proved during the short time since she has been on the professional stage to be one of the most popular singers not only on the roster of the Metropolitan, but in recital, on television and records and with other opera companies all over the country as well. Her most recent appearance on television was March 17 on the Bell Telephone Hour.

Miss Elias is a favorite soloist with leading orchestras such as the Chicago Symphony as well as the important European music festivals. She has become almost the official mezzo of the Boston and Philadelphia Orchestras and has participated in many of their recent recordings.

So much in demand, she rarely finds time for a week's vacation between the end of one season and the beginning of the next. Among her engagements this past season were appearances with the Youngstown, El Paso and Tri-City Symphonies. She also sang the Bach B Minor Mass both in New York and Philadelphia. She has won chorus admiration from the critics as a programmaker. A recent review in the Boston Herald said in part, "It is a memorable experience to behold this exquisite young mezzo soprano."

Miss Elias has definite opinions of her own about the obligations of a performing artist. Commenting on the subject in an interview she stated, "The artist has a responsibility to the audience. People who have purchased a ticket are entitled to the best show the artist can give. This means not only singing at the top of her form, but in concert presenting each number with the intelligence, insight and sensitivity that comes only from thoughtful research. And there's one other responsibility. To give the occasion a quality of excitement and glamour. The audience is entitled to this glamour — otherwise it might as well stay home and listen to the artist on records."

Members of the Community Concert Association are looking forward with great anticipation to Miss Elias' concert here.

YWCA CONFERENCE DELEGATES—Attending a weekend conference for teenagers in Schoenectady were (l-r) Darleen Kish, Karen Schoonmaker, Lynne Blackwell, Lauren Winne, Polly Delaney and Janet Burger. The teenage meeting was held for the upper Hudson Valley YWCA groups. It was the annual mid-winter conference. General theme of the conference centered around standards for the YWCA. Also attending the conference as delegates from the Kingston YWCA, but not pictured, were Nancy Cullum and Karen Kiff. (Freeman photo)

We The Women

Give Daughter-in-Law Half a Break

By Ruth Millett

It's a rare woman who is as uncritical of her daughter-in-law as of her own daughter.

And yet that is all it would take for a mother-in-law to gain the affection, trust and good will of her daughter-in-law.

An uncritical mother-in-law soon puts a daughter-in-law at ease, and so she is welcome in the latter's home, whereas a critical mother-in-law's visits are always dreaded by the younger, less-experienced homemaker.

An uncritical mother-in-law soon is taken into her daughter-in-law's confidence.

The younger woman isn't afraid that anything she tells will be misinterpreted, misunderstood or repeated where it could cause trouble.

An uncritical mother-in-law isn't likely to have a daughter-in-law who goes around complaining about her.

An uncritical mother-in-law has a good chance of becoming a real friend to her daughter-in-law, instead of being held at arm's length.

An uncritical mother-in-law will not have offers of help or advice misunderstood or rejected by her daughter-in-law.

Community Concerts Membership Campaign Is Slated May 9-15; Brochures Mailed

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Community Concerts Association, May 9-15 was set as Membership Campaign Week.

Brochures have been placed in the mail to present members who will be called upon to renew their subscriptions. All others of the county are cordially invited to join the association as new members for the 1965-66 season ahead.

Mrs. Harry Seitz and Mrs. Ralph Harper, both of Kingston, are co-chairmen of this year's campaign. A phone call to either of them will renew a subscription or establish a new one.

The program for 1965-66 will include the famous New Orleans Symphony Orchestra with David Barillon, as piano soloist; the Helsinki University Chorus, returning from a tour commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Sibelius; and the gifted soprano, Phyllis Curtin, who has become one of the world's most sought after singers.

4-H Members Demonstrate

Approximately 250 Ulster County 4-H Club members participated in the County 4-H Demonstration Day at the Kingston High Vocational Building Saturday, March 13. At this event, 4-H Club members demonstrate or "show" a skill they have learned in some phase of their 4-H project work. The program which commenced at 8:30 a. m. included demonstrations in all areas of Agriculture and Home Economics (Dairy, Horse, Horticulture, Agricultural Engineering, Handyman, Poultry, Garden, Foods, Clothing, Home Improvement and Home Management). The number of demonstrations announced Carlton M. Conklin, County 4-H Club agent represents the largest participation in Demonstrations in Ulster County.

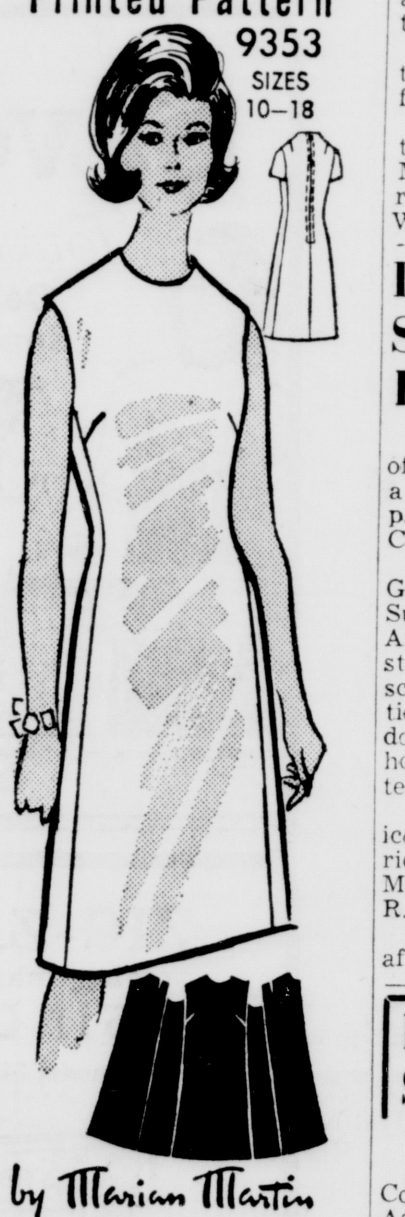

Judging the 4-H members for the event were the following: Mrs. Elizabeth Barnhart, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Douglas Bartow, New Paltz; Mrs. Hamilton Darling, Kingston; Mrs. Philip Davis, Kerhonkson; Mrs. Gerald DuBois, New Paltz; Mrs. Frank Elliott, New Paltz; Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, Port Ewen; Miss Mary Gallo, Kingston; Mrs. Paul D. Holly, West Hurley; Miss Marion Koehne, Wallkill; Mrs. John Konik, Saugerties; Miss Louise Kakargo, Kingston; Mrs. Walter Lofink, Gardiner; Mrs. Wm. J. McVey, Kingston; Mrs. Donald Neff, Saugerties; Mrs. Robert Weiss, Highland; Miss Nancy J. Weaver, New Paltz; Mrs. George Wildrick, Wallkill; Harrison Cornish, Port Ewen; Robert Guzewich, Kingston; Mrs. Phyllis Milliken, Kingston and Charles Sniffen, Red Hook.

From the county participation several were selected to represent Ulster County at the District Agricultural and Home-making Demonstrations Days. Scheduled to represent Ulster County at the District Agricultural Demonstration Day at New Paltz Reformed Church Educational Building on Wednesday, April 7 are: Bruce McCord and J. Howard Riley, New Hurley; Ann Marie Sabino and Angela Buzzanco, Lake Katrine; Elizabeth Edmunds, Wallkill; Tridust; Georgia Ransom, Kingston; Flying Horseman; Kenneth Edgington, Michael Warren and Ralph Van Aken Jr., High Falls; Lightning Rods; Michael Beglov, Hurley; and Robert Ennis, Kingston Hillbilly.

Chose to participate in the District Home-making Demonstration Day on Saturday, April 3 at the Pine Bush High School are: Kay Barr, New Paltz 4-H Green Leaves; Frances Embree, Stone Ridge; Rosalind; Joyce Lyke, Lomontville; Lamplighters; Martha Nickerson, Kingston; Teapot Tillies; Sharon Noetzel, Ellenville; Domesticks and Judy Wright, Hurley; and Crickets.

After completion of the morning program a special evaluation session was conducted with the judges and 4-H agents, Mrs. McLean F. Reynolds and Carlton M. Conklin to discuss means and methods of improving and increasing next year's program. The Demonstration Program is one of the best educational activities of the 4-H Club program has to offer.

Busy Brownies

Brownies of Troop 28, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church have been quite busy recently. The girls made miniature flower pots of spray can tops and artificial flowers and presented them to the Ulster County Infirmary as a bit of Spring in Winter.

During month the Brownies occupied themselves with preparations for the Girl Scouts Exposition March 13. Alabama was the theme state and the girls made a map showing important sites and the surrounding area. Potlatch items made by the girls included cotton in bud and bloom, state crest and description engraved on heavy paper and confederate $1000 bills. Miniature silk Alabama state flags were awarded the most towards the exhibit. On Girl Scout Sunday the girls attended their respective churches in uniform. On behalf of the troop, leader, Mrs. Robert Haines, presented the church trustees with a gift of appreciation for the use of the meeting room.

Two new members were invested into the troop. They are Ellen Levine and Lena Spano. Also welcomed was Kimberly McCormick who transferred from another troop.

Ursula Alumnae Hears Father Kuhn

The Rev. George Kuhn of Barretstown, N.Y., was the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Academy of St. Ursula Alumnae Association held Monday evening March 22, 1965 in the school cafeteria on Grove Street. Father Kuhn discussed the importance of self-motivation and the significance of the Paschal season.

A short business meeting followed Father's delivery. Mrs. Gary Bohan was commended for her outstanding leadership as chairman of the cake sale held recently at St. Joseph's School Hall and the Hurley Mission Church. Miss Marguerite Flaherty, president of the Association, has announced that a basketball game between the students of the Academy and the alumnae will be held on April 25, 1965 at 2:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Refreshments will be served at this activity. A practice session for the alumnae players will be held at Marygrove on April 22nd at 7:30 p. m.

The alumnae were cordially invited to attend the monthly movies in the school auditorium put on by the Senior Class of the Academy. Mother Mary Eugene, alumnae adviser, closed the meeting with a prayer.

Community Concerts Membership Campaign Is Slated May 9-15; Brochures Mailed

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Community Concerts Association, May 9-15 was set as Membership Campaign Week.

Brochures have been placed in the mail to present members of the association and to renew their subscriptions. All others of the county are cordially invited to join the association as new members for the 1965-66 season ahead.

Mrs. Harry Seitz and Mrs. Ralph Harper, both of Kingston, are co-chairmen of this year's campaign. A phone call to either of them will renew a subscription or establish a new one.

The program for 1965-66 will include the famous New Orleans Symphony Orchestra with David Bar-Ilan, as piano soloist; the Helsinki University Chorus, returning from a tour commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Sibelius; and the gifted soprano, Phyllis Curtin, who has become one of the world's most sought after singers.

4-H Members Demonstrate

Approximately 250 Ulster County 4-H Club members participated in the County 4-H Demonstration Day at the Kingston High Vocational Building Saturday, March 13. At this event, 4-H Club members demonstrate or "show" a skill they have learned in some phase of their 4-H project work. The program which commenced at 8:30 a. m. included demonstrations in all areas of Agriculture and Home Economics (Dairy, Horse, Horticulture, Agricultural Engineering, Handyman, Poultry, Garden, Foods, Clothing, Home Improvement and Home Management). The number of demonstrations announced Carlton M. Conklin, County 4-H Club agent represents the largest participation in Demonstrations in Ulster County.

Judging the 4-H members for the event were the following: Mrs. Elizabeth Barnhart, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Douglas Bartow, New Paltz; Mrs. Hamilton Darling, Kingston; Mrs. Philip Davis, Kerhonkson; Mrs. Gerald DuBois, New Paltz; Mrs. Frank Elliott, New Paltz; Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, Port Ewen; Miss Mary Gallo, Kingston; Mrs. Paul D. Holly, West Hurley; Mrs. Marion Koehne, Wallkill; Mrs. John Konik, Saugerties; Miss Louise Kakargo, Kingston; Mrs. Walter Lofink, Gardiner; Mrs. Wm. J. McVey, Kingston; Mrs. Donald Neff, Saugerties; Mrs. Robert Weiss, Highland; Miss Nancy J. Weaver, New Paltz; Mrs. George Wildrick, Wallkill; Harrison Cornish, Port Ewen; Robert Guzewich, Kingston; Mrs. Phyllis Milliken, Kingston and Charles Sniffen, Red Hook.

From the county participation several were selected to represent Ulster County at the District Agricultural and Home-making Demonstrations Days. Scheduled to represent Ulster County at the District Agricultural Demonstration Day at New Paltz Reformed Church Educational Building on Wednesday, April 7 are: Bruce McCord and J. Howard Riley, New Hurley Dairyman; Ann Marie Sabino and Angela Buzzano, Lake Katrine Fledglings; Elizabeth Edmunds, Wallkill Trailriders; Georgia Ransom, Kingston Flying Horseman; Kenneth Codding, Michael Warren and Ralph Van Aken Jr., High Falls Lightning Rods; Michael Beagov, Hurley Cubs; and Robert Ennis, Kingston Hillbillies.

Chose to participate in the District Home-making Demonstration Day on Saturday, April 3 at the Pine Bush High School are: Karr Barr, New Paltz 4-H Green Leaves; Frances Embree, Stone Ridge Rascals; Jayne Lyke, Lomontville Lamplighters; Martha Nickerson, Kingston Teapot Tillies; Sharon Noetzel, Ellenville Domesticities and Judy Wright, Hurley Crickets.

After completion of the morning program a special evaluation session was conducted with the judges and 4-H agents. Mrs. McLean F. Reynolds and Carlton M. Conklin to discuss means and methods of improving and increasing next year's program. The Demonstration Program is one of the best educational activities the 4-H Club program has to offer.

Receive New Flag

Junior Girl Scout Troop 164 of Ruby received their new Troop Flag, on Wednesday, March 17. Thaddeus Schatzel, president of the Ruby Rod and Gun Club, sponsor of Troop 164, made the presentation. Scout Judy Hatt accepted on behalf of the Troop. Parents and scouts all participated in a flag ceremony led by Scouts Barbara Feddes and Jeanne Atwood.

A candlelight ceremony followed. Assistant leader, Mrs. Dennis Styfmal lit three candles symbolizing the three parts of the Girl Scout Laws, then one candle was lit for each of the ten laws. Color guards were Barbara Smith, Cindy Downes, and Vicki Benke.

Repeating the laws were Scouts Linda Catrone, Joanne Daley, Roberta Dachenhausen, Wanda Downes, Evelyn Geisler, Sheila Magro, Mary Ruth McDonald, Kathy Reiff, Jayne McElrath and Linda Magro. Two new scouts Denise Scheffel and Nancy Dachenhausen were pinned, having completed four meetings with the troop. Beth Blankenschen and Laurie Osgood led the group in singing.

Taste treats were provided by Laurie Osgood and Jayne McElrath. The Mississippi display which was awarded the blue ribbon at the Girl Scout Exposition was set up so the parents and friends could see it again.

Busy Brownies

Brownies of Troop 28, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church have been quite busy recently. The girls made miniature flower pots of spray can tops and artificial flowers and presented them to the Ulster County Infirmary as a bit of Spring in Winter.

During month the Brownies occupied themselves with preparations for the Girl Scouts Exposition March 13. Alabama was the theme state and the girls made a map showing important sites and the surrounding area. Potlatch items made by the girls included cotton in bud and bloom, state crest and description engraved on heavy paper and confederate $1,000 bills. Miniature silk Alabama state flags were awarded to the girls who had contributed the most towards the exhibit. On Girl Scout Sunday the girls attended their respective churches in uniform. On behalf of the troop, leader, Mrs. Robert Haines, presented the church trustees with a gift of appreciation for the use of the meeting room.

Two new members were inducted into the troop. They are Ellen Levine and Lena Spano. Also welcomed was Kimberly McCormick who transferred from another troop.

Newcombe Will Address GOP Club at Deanie's on April 12

LLOYD A. NEWCOMBE

Lloyd A. Newcombe, Greene and Ulster county businessman, will be the guest speaker at the Woodstock Republican Club meeting, April 12, at Deanie's in Woodstock.

The topic of Newcombe's speech will be: "The Positive Approach to Government Problems." Clark Bell, club president, urges all citizens who wish to meet personally with Newcombe and discuss local and state problems to attend the meeting which starts promptly at 8 p. m.

Newcombe, a native of Kingston, is seeking the Republican nomination for state senator from the newly-created 43rd senatorial district. The new district will include all of Ulster, Greene, Sullivan and part of Orange counties. Club members familiarized themselves with the particulars of the new district at the February 8 meeting when a program on the recent reapportionment legislation was presented.

Candidate in 1964

Newcombe opposed incumbent State Senator E. Ogden Bush in last year's Republican primary for the senate nomination in the old 34th district. He carried Ulster and Greene counties but lost Delaware and Sullivan counties.

During World War II, Newcombe served as a naval flight instructor with the rank of Lieutenant J.G.

Long active in industrial, commercial, banking and civic activities in the Ulster-Greene county area, Newcombe says he believes government is becoming increasingly more important in all aspects of our lives, and that the Republican party should provide candidates with new, modern, young and aggressive approaches, if government is to better serve the people in our complex world of today.

Set Subscription Series For Ontario Arts Council

A subscription series of two attractions beginning in the fall of 1965 appears to be the soundest plan to insure the future financial stability of the Ontario District Arts Council, it was decided at a recent meeting in Deanie's.

All members of the non-profit Council's Board of Directors and others in the group of 25 persons at the meeting agreed on this method of continuing the Council's activities without incurring financial losses.

Mrs. Gordon Anderson was chairman of the meeting and was assisted by Earl Friant and Peter W. Rakov, publicity chairman.

Under the proposed setup it will be necessary that 400 subscriptions at $5.00 each be sold this spring in order for the Council to proceed with securing suitable attractions and signing the necessary contracts. The $2,000 thus raised and the hoped-for grant of $1,000 from the New York State Council on the Arts, will give the local Council $3,000 with which to pay performers.

Expect About 200 Projects for 7th Science Exhibit

Nearly 200 individual projects and two class projects will be exhibited at the Seventh Annual Science Fair to be held at the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary school in Boiceville on Saturday, March 27, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Exhibits will be judged by a panel of judges including Thomas Fickus and Richard Nixdorf of the Ontario High school faculty and Mrs. Jerine Smith of the West Hurley school faculty. Bennett P-TA will award three prizes at each grade level. In addition, each entrant will receive a certificate. First and second place winners in grades 4, 5, and 6 will represent Bennett School at the Mid-Hudson School Study Council Science Fair to be held on May 13, at the State University College at New Paltz.

In connection with the Science Fair, Bennett P-TA will sell refreshments during the morning and is also sponsoring a sale of science kits and materials. One half of the proceeds of the materials sold will be donated to the school for the use of the science department.

Parents, relatives, and friends of children attending Bennett School are invited to attend the fair.

Overlook Church News and Notes

This Sunday "One Great Hour of Sharing" will be held in Overlook Methodist and Protestant churches all over the world. A special collection will be taken and used for Crusade Scholarships, Overseas Relief, National Missions and Service-men overseas.

Sunday evening at 8 p. m. will see the continuation of the church-wide mission study based on the book of Ephesians. A union Lenten Service will be held on Passion Sunday, April 4, at the Woodstock Reformed Church at 3:30 p. m. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Walter Cowan, Lutheran pastor from Saugerties.

MYF's Meet Sunday - Sunday School is held at 11 a. m. for beginners through first grade. The classes are for primary through adults at 9:45 a. m. The regular meeting time for the Junior High and Senior High MYF's is Sunday at 7 p. m. At 4 p. m., Sunday, March 28, the Senior High Sub-District MYF meeting will be held at New Paltz.

U. S. Gains Some Ground

Gates Are Now Open To Big Space Race

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With the flight of the Molly Brown, the United States gained a little ground on the Russians in the man-in-space race and opened the gates to a flood of astronaut launchings in the years ahead.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young took the Gemini spacecraft up for a trial run Tuesday. They flew it backward, forward and upside down and executed the first orbital changes ever made by a manned spacecraft.

There were a few minor difficulties. But project officials pronounced the two-seat craft ready to begin operational missions on the next flight. Nine more Gemini flights are scheduled in the next two years.

Grissom and Young were up for a three-orbit spin lasting less than five hours. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration termed it a "truly historic" mission and said it demonstrated the readiness of the craft for future long-duration and rendezvous missions.

Resnick Accuses AMA of Ignoring Bias in Dixie

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick today accused the American Medical Association of tacitly admitting that it is guilty of ignoring racial discrimination in some of its southern societies.

On March 15, Rep. Resnick in a speech at the Howard University Medical School, charged the A.M.A. of neglecting discrimination in its state and county societies in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. Thus far, the A.M.A. has not replied to the charges.

The day after his Howard address, Rep. Resnick filed a bill (H.R.-6342) aimed at removing the tax exempt status from the A.M.A. or any other such organization which did not ban segregation or discrimination from its state and local affiliates.

Today, Resnick outlined what he would like the A.M.A. to do. "The A.M.A. owes a responsibility to the American people to immediately issue a statement condemning any of its state or county societies which do not admit doctors because of race, creed, color or national origin. The A.M.A. should also place sanctions on local or state societies which do not comply by admitting members on the basis of professional qualifications only."

Rep. Resnick continued: "Thus far, reaction to my remarks at Howard has been almost unanimous in support of my position. This support has come from within and outside the House. I am surprised that A.M.A. has not answered any of my charges. This obvious indifference can only serve as a silent admission of guilt."

"More seriously though, it proves to me that the A.M.A. still chooses to ignore racial discrimination in its southern societies. I sincerely hope the A.M.A. will choose to see to it that its doors in the South are opened to all qualified physicians."

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services committee has cut $654 million from Defense Department requests for new aircraft, missiles and ships.

In approving Tuesday night a $14,793,000 authorization, the committee reserved the major slash for research and development. Some $504.6 million was cut in this way.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department wants to make it possible for the government to file civil action, as well as criminal prosecution, against pranksters who falsely report the presence of bombs on airplanes or other carriers.

The law would supplement the existing criminal statute which provides prison terms for fully and maliciously committing bomb hoaxes.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said Tuesday in asking the new legislation that it was needed because of the difficulty of obtaining convictions under the present law.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 111 mayors are the latest to receive an invitation to the White House for a dinner with President Johnson and briefings by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The White House gave no date for the dinner, but Mayor Frank Graves of Paterson, N.J., said the invitation was for March 30.

Mayors of cities with more than 100,000 population are being invited. At least one mayor is being invited from each state, even if it has no city of 100,000.

Ridge Man Attends Dairy Conference

Major problems facing dairy men and how Farm Bureau members can best work to help solve them was the general theme of a Farm Bureau Dairy Conference in Syracuse Tuesday and today.

Attending from Ulster County is Kenneth Bell of Stone Ridge, local Farm Bureau agent.

"Farm families who rely on dairying as their main source of income, are affected by many off-the-farm pressures," said Jack Gill, president of the Ulster County Farm Bureau. "The continuing pressures of change in the milk industry makes it important that dairymen constantly keep up-to-date."

Farm Bureau's purpose in holding this conference is to provide dairy members of the organization a chance to discuss industry questions and the role that Farm Bureau should play in helping to solve them.

Highlights of the program, according to the farm leader were: a discussion of the future of the dairy industry by a producer, a distributor and an economist; an appraisal of the state and federal milk marketing orders; discussion of national farm issues by a member of Farm Bureau's national legislative staff and a discussion of the challenges of milk marketing by leaders of the four major milk co-ops.

St. Mary's P-TA Hears Talk About Smut Literature

A talk on the problem of indecent literature on the newsstands was presented last week at a meeting of St. Mary's P-TA held at the school hall.

Karl Pietkiewicz, chairman of Saugerties Citizens for Decent Literature Committee addressed the group and presented a film, Pages of Death. The movie depicted a story based on an actual crime committed by a 16-year-old boy "stimulated by his crime by exposure to obscene magazines and pocketbooks."

Pietkiewicz said: "Warnings are coming with increasing frequency from top level professionals in the human behavior fields as they view with shock and alarm the flood of filth which engulfs our nation. The nature and extent of obscenity in the United States today is sufficient to pervert our entire generation. Wherever youth gathers, there at the crook of an elbow, they can pick from newsracks detailed courses of instruction in perversion."

He displayed 25 magazines purchased in December from every news shop in Saugerties, and he said "there were twice as many others on the racks. He termed them "cesspool publications."

Pietkiewicz read some of the titles of stories appearing in the magazines shown. "Unbelievably crude and vile words and pictures are omnipresent in our society," Pietkiewicz continued, "twisting, torturing and warping the minds, hearts and souls of many, particularly our youth. Two basic factors contribute to this terrifying situation. First, an apathetic public, hardpressed to believe this really exists, fails to transmit to its younger generations the basic Judeo-Christian principle upon which this nation, its laws and institutions, was founded and grew strong; second, a vociferous minority creates a smoke screen with its hue and din about free press, free speech and the like."

Citizens for Decent Literature Inc., has as its purpose the creation of an awareness and knowledge among the peoples of the world of the quantity and nature of obscene literature, he said. With this background of awakened public opinion we expect law enforcement by duly constituted authorities against the illegal activities of the obscenity peddlers, Pietkiewicz said.

He invited all to attend the next meeting of the Saugerties committee on Thursday 8 p. m. at First Congregational Church Hall, Main Street.

Theta Rho Girls Initiate Three

Three girls were initiated recently to Tonda Theta Rho Girls' Club 26.

They are Herta Lenz, Josephine Winchell and Patricia Olsen.

Anna Yakin, past district deputy president of Ulster County acted as installing officer and Carol Fyllingen as staff marshal.

Cynthia Tyler presided at this meeting due to the illness of the president, Mildred Fyllingen.

Many plans and projects were discussed for the future.

Next refreshment committee includes Diana Lewis and Josephine Winchell.

The girls are awaiting news from the State Assembly President, Sharon Shaffer of North Tonawanda, as to when she will make her official visit to the club.

Importance of Paper Is Monday Club Topic

The Importance of Paper was the topic of this week's meeting of Saugerties Monday Club held at the home of Mrs. David Jones.

Miss Jane Ziegler presented the topic and discussed its use in home and industry. Supplying mailing lists by the Motor Vehicle Bureau was also discussed.

The club will meet again Monday, March 29, at the home of Mrs. John Lowther at Fish Creek.

West Saugerties Rebekahs Fete 15 Noble Grands

Members of Queen of the Catskill Mountain Rebekah Lodge 36 last week entertained 15 of their past noble grands. A program of entertainment was conducted by Margaret Siegel. Those participating with her were Jane Emmons, Selva Wolven, Verna Collins, Barbara Lounsbury and Norma Olsen.

The lodge held a ceremony honoring Schuyler Colfax, founder of the Rebekah Degree. There will be a district meeting of Past Noble Grands at Tiskilwa Rebekah Lodge 629 at Phoenixia, April 10 at 2 p. m.

An invitation was noted from Vineyard Rebekah Lodge 577 of Highland to attend their Friendship Nite get together on March 25 at 8 p. m.

Irene Ronk, district deputy president of Ulster District No. 1 will be in charge of a parcel post booth at the Grand Lodge Home, Ithaca, June 5. Rebekahs wishing to donate a package may wrap it up and put a value in the upper right hand corner.

A bus is chartered for the pilgrimage to Ithaca Saturday, June 5. The bus will make stops along the way to pick up passengers.

Helen M. Ocker, district deputy president of Ulster District 1 will make her official visit to West Saugerties Lodge on April 1.

Jane Emmons will attend the Lions Club meeting Monday, April 12 at 8:30 p. m. at the Flamingo Restaurant. This will be a special meeting to provide some basic information regarding all aspects of fluoridation.

Two secretarial schools will be conducted by Inez D. Squires, one on March 27 at Niagara Falls and one at Ithaca on April 24.

A booster program from the Grand Lodge Home and Orphanage will be in charge of Ethel A. Jehle.

A barter sale will take place again on April 15.

Initiation ceremonies will be held on Thursday, April 1. All members are asked to wear white. Committee to serve for this event will be Verna Collins, Belva Wolven, Rebekah Brown and Vivian Fyllingen.

Katherine Higgins will go as a delegate to the Rebekah Assembly, to represent the lodge May 16 to 20 at Birmingham.

Congregational Church Activities

Activities at First Congregational Church, Main Street, Saugerties, were announced this week by the Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff, pastor.

Sunday's sermon will be "Fruitful Expectance." Church school at 10 a. m. and church services at 11 a. m. Miss Mona Wassenaar will be the assembly leader in church school. Holy Communion will be administered Sunday, April 4.

The April meeting of Women's Fellowship will be on April 5 at the home of Mrs. Leon Johnson, Robinson Street.

The Decent Literature committee will meet here Thursday at 7:30. The public is invited.

Prior to Holy Week new candidates for membership will be invited to meet with the Church Council, and then be brought into the Church on Maundy Thursday at the 7:30 service.

The men of the Church continued in their labors in the hall Wednesday night. Several worked preparing more cedar boards for the Upper Room while several were here working on the walls. The men will meet again this Wednesday evening. New helpers are always welcome.

The annual sale of used goods will be held on May 13-14-15, the place of sale yet to be announced.

Newcombe Will Address GOP Club at Deanie's on April 12

LLOYD A. NEWCOMBE

Lloyd A. Newcombe, Greene and Ulster county businessman, will be the guest speaker at the Woodstock Republican Club meeting, April 12, at Deanie's in Woodstock.

The topic of Newcombe's speech will be: "The Positive Approach to Government Problems." Clark Bell, club president, urges all citizens who wish to meet personally with Newcombe and discuss local and state problems to attend the meeting which starts promptly at 8 p. m.

Newcombe, a native of Kingston, is seeking the Republican nomination for state senator from the newly-created 43rd senatorial district. The new district will include all of Ulster, Greene, Sullivan and part of Orange counties. Club members familiarized themselves with the particulars of the new district at the February 8 meeting when a program on the recent reapportionment legislation was presented.

Candidate in 1964

Newcombe opposed incumbent State Senator E. Ogden Bush in last year's Republican primary for the senate nomination in the old 34th district. He carried Ulster and Greene counties but lost Delaware and Sullivan counties.

During World War II, Newcombe served as a naval flight instructor with the rank of Lieutenant J.G.

Long active in industrial, commercial, banking and civic activities in the Ulster-Greene county area, Newcombe says he believes government is becoming increasingly more important in all aspects of our lives, and that the Republican party should provide candidates with new, modern, young and aggressive approaches, if government is to best serve the people in our complex world of today.

Set Subscription Series For Onteora Arts Council

A subscription series of two attractions beginning in the fall of 1965 appears to be the soundest plan to insure the future financial stability of the Onteora District Arts Council. It was decided at a recent meeting in Deanie's.

All members of the non-profit Council's Board of Directors and others in the group of 25 persons at the meeting agreed on this method of continuing the Council's activities without incurring financial losses.

Mrs. Gordon Anderson was chairman of the meeting and was assisted by Earl Friant and Peter W. Rakov, publicity chairman.

Under the proposed setup it will be necessary that 40 subscriptions at $5.00 each be sold this spring in order for the Council to proceed with securing suitable attractions and signing the necessary contracts. The $2,000 thus raised and the hoped-for grant of $1,000 from the New York State Council on the Arts, will give the local Council $3,000 with which to pay performers.

Nearly 200 individual projects and two class projects will be exhibited at the Seventh Annual Science Fair to be held at the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary school in Boiceville on Saturday, March 27, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Exhibits will be judged by a panel of judges including Thomas Fickus and Richard Nixdorf of the Onteora High school faculty and Mrs. Jennine Smith of the West Hurley school faculty. Bennett P-TA will award three prizes at each grade level. In addition, each entrant will receive a certificate. First and second place winners in grades 4, 5, and 6 will represent Bennett School at the Mid-Hudson School Study Council Science Fair to be held on May 13, at the State University College at New Paltz.

In connection with the Science Fair, Bennett P-TA will sell refreshments during the morning and is also sponsoring a sale of science kits and materials. One half of the proceeds of the materials sold will be donated to the school for the use of the science department.

Parents, relatives, and friends of children attending Bennett School are invited to attend the fair.

Citizens for Decent Literature Inc., has as its purpose the creation of an awareness and knowledge among the peoples of the world of the quantity and nature of obscene literature, he said.

With this background of awakened public opinion we expect law enforcement by duly constituted authorities against the illegal activities of the obscenity peddlers, Pietkiewicz said.

He invited all to attend the next meeting of the Saugerties committee on Thursday 8 p. m. at First Congregational Church Hall, Main Street.

Theta Rho Girls Initiate Three

Three girls were initiated recently to Tonda Theta Rho Girls' Club 26.

They are Herta Lenz, Josephine Winchell and Patricia Olsen.

Anna Yakin, past district deputy president of Ulster County acted as installing officer and Carol Fyllingen as staff marshal.

Cynthia Tyler presided at this meeting due to the illness of the president, Mildred Fyllingen.

Many plans and projects were discussed for the future. Next refreshment committee includes Diana Lewis and Josephine Winchell.

The girls are awaiting news from the State Assembly President, Sharon Shaffer of North Tonawanda, as to when she will make her official visit to the club.

Miss Jane Ziegler presented the topic and discussed its use in home and industry.

Supplying mailing lists by the Motor Vehicle Bureau was also discussed. The club will meet again Monday, March 29, at the home of Mrs. John Lowther at Fish Creek.

West Saugerties Rebekahs Fete 15 Noble Grands

Members of Queen of the Catskill Mountain Rebekah Lodge 36 last week entertained 15 of their past noble grands. A program of entertainment was conducted by Margaret Siegel. Those participating with her were Jane Emmons, Selva Wolven, Verna Collins, Barbara Lounsbury and Norma Olsen.

The lodge held a ceremony honoring Schuyler Colfax, founder of the Rebekah Degree.

There will be a district meeting of Past Noble Grands at Tiskilwa Rebekah Lodge 629 at Phoenixia, April 10 at 2 p. m.

An invitation was noted from Vineyard Rebekah Lodge 57 of Highland to attend their Friendship Nite get together on March 25 at 8 p. m.

Irene Ronk, district deputy president of Ulster District No. 1 will be in charge of a parcel post booth at the Grand Lodge Home, Ithaca, June 5. Rebekahs wishing to donate a package may wrap it up and put a value in the upper right hand corner. A bus is chartered for the pilgrimage to Ithaca Saturday, June 5. The bus will make stops along the way to pick up passengers.

Helen M. Ocker, district deputy president of Ulster District I will make her official visit to West Saugerties Lodge on April 1.

Jane Emmons will attend the Lions Club meeting Monday, April 12 at 8:30 p. m. at the Flamingo Restaurant. This will be a special meeting to provide some basic information regarding all aspects of fluoridation.

Two secretarial schools will be conducted by Inez D. Squires, one on March 27 at Niagara Falls and one at Ithaca on April 24.

A booster program from the Grand Lodge Home and Orphanage will be in charge of Ethel A. Jehle.

A bazaar sale will take place again on April 15.

Initiation ceremonies will be held on Thursday, April 1. All members are asked to wear white. Committee to serve for this event will be Verna Collins, Selva Wolven, Rebekah Brown and Vivian Fyllingen.

Katherine Higgins will go as a delegate to the Rebekah Assembly, to represent the lodge May 16 to 20 at Binghamton.

Congregational Church Activities

Activities at First Congregational Church, Main Street, Saugerties, were announced this week by the Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff, pastor.

Sunday's sermon will be "Fruitful Expectance." Church school at 10 a. m. and church services at 11 a. m. Miss Mona Wassenaar will be the assembly leader in church school. Holy Communion will be administered Sunday, April 4.

The April meeting of Women's Fellowship will be on April 5 at the home of Mrs. Leon Johnson, Robinson Street.

The Decent Literature committee will meet here Thursday at 7:30. The public is invited.

Prior to Holy Week new candidates for membership will be invited to meet with the Church Council, and then be brought into the Church on Maundy Thursday at the 7:30 service.

The men of the Church continued in their labors in the hall Wednesday night. Several worked preparing more cedar boards for the Upper Room while several were here working on the walls. The men will meet again this Wednesday evening. New helpers are always welcome.

The annual sale of used goods will be held on May 13-14-15, the place of sale yet to be announced.

An arrangement of spring flowers graced the table which held a large cake appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Cookies, ice cream, tea and coffee were also served by the committee comprised of Marie Post, Estelle Garrison, Anna Yakin, Lillian Campitello and Della Myer. Miniature Bibles and the flowers were presented to each of the honored members attending, as a memento of the occasion. Movies were also taken of the afternoon festivities.

Reach Can Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—The 16,000 workers of the Continental Can Co. head back to work today after officials of the United Steelworkers' Union accepted contract terms to end a 23-day strike.

The union's bargaining committee reversed an earlier decision and voted Tuesday night to accept a 40-month contract. It is identical with that accepted by union locals of the American Can Co. Monday.

Hub Upsets Ray's 88-80, As Carpouzis Gets 32 Points

Veteran George Carpouzis potted 32 points and his Hub Delicatessen turned in an outstanding game to shock Ray's Tackle Shop, 88-80, and practically ruin the Rec Basketball league pennant hopes of the defending champions.

In the other game, Armstrong's Eagles clinched at least a tie for the title with an 85-54 win over cellar dwelling Subway Grill.

Standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Armstrong's Eagles	6	1
Ray's Tackle Shop	5	2
Hub Delicatessen	4	4
Carroll's Bar Box	3	4
Subway Grill	1	7

Trailing by small margins most of the way, Hub exploded for 30 points in the fourth session to topple the Tackle Shop going away.

Carpouzis rimmed 10 baskets and added a dozen free throws in 13 attempts for his total. Big Harry Pratt collected 20 points and swept the backboard. Also joining in the upset were Tony Causa, Don Komos, Ron Lindsay and Art Carpouzis.

Jim Uhl had 18 points, Joe Klonowski 17 and Ray Lucas 13 for the losers, who played without Bob Bondar and Chick Boice.

35 for Brown
Sam Brown tallied 35 points in leading Armstrong's to its easy verdict. Bill Huber's 16 led Subway, which trailed by hefty margins from the start.

Knicks' Reed Is Top Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knicks, who have rarely picked standouts in the National Basketball Association's draft, have a winner for a change in Willis Reed.

The Knicks knew they had a star in the 6-foot-10 scoring and rebounding star from Grambling, La., College and this was confirmed when Reed was named the NBA's Rookie of the Year by writers and sportscasters. He received a cash award of $200 with the honor.

Reed was the NBA's seventh highest scorer with 1,560 points and a 19.5 average, and fifth rebounder with 1,175, or 14.7 per game.

Bennett Has Stuart Wondering

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Stuart, whose long-distance home runs are exceeded only by the enormity of his immodesty, was talking about the winter trade that sent him from Boston to Philadelphia for pitcher Dennis Bennett.

"Wouldn't it be something if Bennett came up with a sore arm this season?" asked Stuart, who feels Boston didn't receive enough in exchange for him. "Do you think the Red Sox brass would get jumped on a little?"

The Red Sox brass might be pondering that very thought today following Bennett's departure from an exhibition baseball game with a sore left shoulder. The painful exit came during the fourth inning Tuesday, just after the Los Angeles Angels scored the run that eventually gave them a 1-0 victory.

After allowing only one hit in 3-1/3 innings, Bennett was rocked for a double by Jim Fregosi and a triple by Lou Clinton. The southpaw threw three balls to Costen Shockley, then signaled Manager Billy Herman to the mound.

His Arm Hurt
"My arm hurt like a toothache from the time I started warming up," Bennett explained afterward. "I was gradually losing my stuff so I felt why force it?"

The situation, though, could have been Boston officials' worrying about the value of the 25-year-old hurler, who was plagued with arm trouble last season and finished with a 12-14 record for the Phillies.

Stuart, incidentally, singled across the winning run in the ninth inning Tuesday night in Philadelphia's 5-4 victory over St. Louis.

Joe Torre slammed two homers and Mack Jones one in Milwaukee's 12-10 victory over Pittsburgh. The Pirates got two homers from Bob Bailey and one from Jim Pagliaroni.

In other games, Houston defeated Washington 7-5, Kansas City whipped the New York Yankees 6-5, San Francisco stopped the Chicago Cubs 7-3, Cincinnati dropped Detroit 9-1, the New York Mets knocked off Baltimore 5-2, Cleveland turned back another Angel squad 10-3, and the Chicago White Sox beat Minnesota 3-1.

New 'Apparatus' May Help Torres, Or Will It?

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HILLSDALE, N.J. (AP) — It was a great day for scientific progress. First, Gemini at Cape Kennedy. Then, Cus D'Amato's "apparatus" at Jose Torres' light camp here.

D'Amato's invention doesn't rank with the two-man space flight in the great scheme of things, perhaps. But he obviously considers it the biggest thing since they took prizefights off barges.

D'Amato, training Torres for his title bout with light-heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano at Madison Square Garden March 30, unveiled the contraption Tuesday. It got mixed reviews.

The apparatus, with sound accompaniment, is designed to develop combination punching. It is a mattress rolled around a heavy punching bag placed in a heavy wooden frame on the wall. Painted on the mattress is the outline of a head and torso, labeled "Willie," with numbers 1 through 10 at strategic spots — 7 on the face, 1 and 2 on either side of the chin, and so on.

With Own Voice
With his own voice barking out a series of numbers from a tape recorder, Torres responds by throwing a sequence of punches to the designated points. The 28-year-old Puerto Rican has worked with the apparatus for some weeks, off and on, and is quite proficient.

"6-5-2-1-2," commanded the recorder — and Torres just as quickly ripped two punches to the body and three to the chin. "1-2-5-6-1" — two to the chin, two to the body, another to the chin.

D'Amato claims Torres can unleash a sequence of five punches in two-fifths of a second, which is fast indeed. But the skeptics wanted to know if Pastrano, a remarkably quick man, would oblige by standing still long enough for the combinations to work, and if punches that fast and short had any steam.

D'Amato said he was sure there'd be time enough, and power enough.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Aurigemma Sr., of South Road, Marlboro. His brother, Richard, is a stand-out athlete at Marlboro was recently chosen to the All-UCAL Basketball squad. Andrew Aurigemma, an uncle of the lad, lives in Esopus and is employed by Chappie's Taxi.

Prior to signing with the Reds, Aurigemma had tryouts with the Mets. He reported to Tampa last week.

Glenrie Club Bridge Results

Ralph Wesselmann of Shokan and Robert Berman of Kingston turned in an excellent 65 1/2 per cent winning effort on the East-West side of the Glenrie Bridge Club's monthly Master Point tournament. The Kingston combine of Joseph Mautner and Michael Korol paced the North-South with 62 1/2 per cent.

The runnersup were: North-South: Dr. and Mrs. John Olivet, Kingston, 60 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weinstein, Accord, 59 1/2 per cent; Mrs. Elizabeth Boedecker and Earl Yonnell, Poughkeepsie, 55 per cent.

East-West: Dr. John Costock — Jerry Anderson, Kingston, 53 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Edwards, Kingston, 52 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wheatcroft, Kingston, 51 per cent.

A fractional point game is scheduled Friday at 8 p. m. at the Bridge Studio on Fair street.

Besselink Set To Defend Title

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Fifty professionals, each teamed with three amateurs, polished their games and sought a share of $2,500 prize money today in a pro-amateur tune-up for the Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

The four-day tourney opens Thursday over the 6,700-yard, par 72 Cape Fear Country Club course. The 17th annual Azalea carries a purse of $28,750. In addition, daily bonus awards will go to low rounds and round leaders.

Al Besselink, whose 282 won top money last year, defends his title in a field of 144. George Archer and Rod Funneth, two of the rising young stars on the tour who already have won tournaments this year, are among the top challengers. Former Azalea winners in the fold include three-time champ Jerry Barber, Mike Souchak, Howie Johnson and Tom Nieporte.

Auto Sail slushed through a sloppy Yonkers track in 2:08 and paid $13. Dusty Pat was the show horse.

Swimming, Wrestling Meets Headliners at West Point

WEST POINT — Only three teams will be in action this weekend as the change-over from winter to spring finds most of the Army sports teams idle. The pace quickens next week, however, when varsity competition is scheduled in baseball, golf, lacrosse and tennis.

National collegiate tournaments will keep both the swimming and wrestling teams busy from Thursday through Saturday. Seven swimmers, headed by Eastern champion Frank Pratt, will be at Iowa State University in search of national awards. Bob Steenlage, the Eastern winner at 130 pounds, will lead five wrestlers in their bid for national titles at the University of Wyoming.

Pratt, who captured the 200-yard butterfly championship in the Eastern Seaboard competition, is slated to swim in three events. In addition to the 100 and 200-yard butterfly, he will team with Kerry O'Hara, John Landgraf and Warren Trainor in the 400-yard medley relay. Landgraf will also be seeking the top prizes in the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke, while O'Hara is entered in the 100 and 200-yard backstroke and Trainor in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle.

Relay Team Excels
Army hopes will also be riding with the 400-yard freestyle relay team, manned by Tony Clay, Lynn Hunt, O'Hara and Trainor. Individually, Clay will swim the 50, 100 and 200-yard freestyle and Hunt the 200 and 400-yard individual medley. Dick Kline rounds out the list in the 200 and 400-yard individual medley.

Turning to wrestling, Steenlage appears to have the best chance of any Army entrant. Other Cadet hopefuls include Bob Robbins at 137 pounds, Mark Seureman at 147 pounds, Ed Sharkness at 157 pounds and Tom Abraham at 191 pounds. Both Seureman and Abraham took second-place awards at the Easterns, while Sharkness came in third in his weight class.

The third Army team to see action this weekend is lacrosse, set to take on the Mt. Washington Lacrosse Club in an exhibition in Baltimore. The Cadet stickmen launched their season last week with a 12-8 victory over Yale as two graduates of Baltimore Polytechnic paced the scoring attack. Bob Johnson finished with four goals while captain Tom Sheckels was credited with one goal and four assists.

Questions About Mele Irk Martin

(By The Associated Press)

ORLANDO, Fla.—The quickest way to irritate Billy Martin is to ask him if it is true he is being groomed by the front office to succeed Sam Mele as manager of the Twins should the club continue to falter this year.

"I'm in no hurry to become a manager," growled the former Yankee sparkplug who last October was one of the three new coaches hired in an attempt to spark the Twins.

"I'm still a young guy. I can wait. I don't think I'm ready to be a manager. I've got lots to learn. I'm trying to be a good coach and help Sam all I can. That's foremost in my mind right now."

Battling Billy is fully aware of the sensitive position in which he has been placed by the club owner Cal Griffith, after serving three years as supervisor of Midwest scouts for the Minnesota organization.

So is Mele. The other day, a reporter asked for Martin.

"What do you want to know? If he's going to take my job?" demanded the usually placid manager.

"A guy said to me I'm like a gun in back of Mele's head," said Martin. "I told him what manager doesn't have a gun in back of his head?"

"Look, I'm a firm believer in loyalty. How can you expect the guys to be loyal to you if you can't be loyal to the manager?"

"Sure, I'd like to manage someday. I think every intelligent ball player who wants to stay in baseball would like to become a manager. But I want to win more than anything else. Even if I wanted to take over the club, I'd be rooting for Mele to lose, wouldn't I?"

Martin said his ultimate ambition is to become general manager of a major league club.

"Does that mean that Mr. Griffith had better look out?" he asked.

Martin said his chief concern about this talk was the effect it might have on Mele.

"As long as it doesn't bother Sam, I don't care what they say. Sam and I are good friends. We play golf together, we go fishing together. He picked me as coach and I'll do everything he wants me to do. My only concern is to do a good job for Sam."

With his own voice barking out a series of numbers from a tape recorder, Torres responds by throwing a sequence of punches to the designated points. The 28-year-old Puerto Rican has worked with the apparatus for some weeks, off and on, and is quite proficient.

"6-5-2-1-2" commanded the recorder — and Torres just as quickly ripped two punches to the body and three to the chin. "1-2-3-4-1" — two to the chin, two to the body, another to the chin.

D'Amato claims Torres can unleash a sequence of five punches in two-fifths of a second, which is fast indeed. But the skeptics wanted to know if Pastrano, a remarkably quick man, would oblige by standing still long enough for the combinations to work, and if punches that fast and short had any steam.

D'Amato said he was sure there'd be time enough, and power enough.

Gaining Weight

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Roberto Clemente, the National League batting champion in 1964, has regained 10 of the 20 pounds he lost in a recent bout with malaria, his doctor said Tuesday. He is expected to join the Pittsburgh Pirates at their Fort Myers, Fla., spring training camp before the end of March.

Steve Aurigemma Inks Pact With Cincinnati

Steve Aurigemma, former baseball and basketball star at Marlboro Central, has signed a professional baseball contract with the Cincinnati Reds and is presently at spring training with the Reds' Tampa club of the Florida State league.

The 19-year-old athlete is expected to play second base for Tampa. The 6-0, 178-pound infielder was signed by Joe Gallio of Beacon, area scout for the Cincinnati organization.

Aurigemma played varsity baseball for four years and varsity basketball for three years at Marlboro. He was named to the league's All-UCAL baseball during the 1962-63 season.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Aurigemma Sr. of South Road, Marlboro. His brother, Richard, is a stand-out athlete at Marlboro was recently chosen to the All-UCAL Basketball squad. Andrew Aurigemma, an uncle of the lad, lives in Esopus and is employed by Chappie's Taxi.

Prior to signing with the Reds, Aurigemma had tryouts with the Mets. He reported to Tampa last week.

Glenierie Club Bridge Results

Ralph Wesselmann of Shokan and Robert Berman of Kingston turned in an excellent 63½ per cent winning effort on the East-West side of the Glenierie Bridge Club's monthly Master Point tournament. The Kingston combine of Joseph Mautner and Michael Korol paced the North-South with 62½ per cent.

The runners-up were: North-South: Dr. and Mrs. John Olivet, Kingston, 60 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weinstein, Accord, 59½ per cent; Mrs. Elizabeth Boedeker and Earl Yonnell, Poughkeepsie, 55 per cent.

East-West: Dr. John Comstock — Jerry Anderson, Kingston, 53 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Edwards, Kingston, 52 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wheatcroft, Kingston, 51 per cent.

A fractional point game is scheduled Friday at 8 p. m. at the Bridge Studio on Fair street.

Besselink Set To Defend Title

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Fifty professionals, each teamed with three amateurs, polished their games and sought a share of $2,500 prize money today in a pro-amateur tune-up for the Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

The four-day tourney opens Thursday over the 6,700-yard, par 72 Cape Fear Country Club course. The 17th annual Azalea carries a purse of $28,750. In addition, daily bonus awards will go to low rounds and round leaders.

Al Besselink, whose 282 won top money last year, defends his title in a field of 144.

George Archer and Rod Funch, two of the rising young stars on the tour who already have won tournaments this year, are among the top challengers. Former Azalea winners in the fold include three-time champ Jerry Barber, Mike Souchak, Howie Johnson and Tom Nieporte.

Auto Sail slushed through a sloppy Yonkers track in 2:08 and paid $13. Dusty Pat was the show horse.

SIDEWALK SURFER—California's latest craze, sidewalk surfing, is demonstrated by Caren Olson in Ojai, Calif. The rider controls the speed of the motorized board with a toe operated throttle and changes direction by shifting weight. Top speed is seven and a half miles an hour.

Swimming, Wrestling Meets Headliners at West Point

WEST POINT — Only three teams will be in action this weekend as the change-over from winter to spring finds most of the Army sports teams idle. The pace quickens next week, however, when varsity competition is scheduled in baseball, golf, lacrosse and tennis.

National collegiate tournaments will keep both the swimming and wrestling teams busy from Thursday through Saturday. Seven swimmers, headed by Eastern champion Frank Pratt, will be at Iowa State University in search of national awards. Bob Steenlage, the Eastern winner at 130 pounds, will lead five wrestlers in their bid for national titles at the University of Wyoming.

Pratt, who captured the 200-yard butterfly championship in the Eastern Seaboard competition, is slated to swim in three events. In addition to the 100 and 200-yard butterfly, he will team with Kerry O'Hara, John Landgraf and Warren Trainor in the 400-yard medley relay. Landgraf will also be seeking the top prizes in the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke, while O'Hara is entered in the 100 and 200-yard backstroke and Trainor in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle.

Relay Team Excels

Army hopes will also be riding with the 400-yard freestyle relay team, manned by Tony Clay, Lynn Hunt, O'Hara and Trainor. Individually, Clay will swim the 50, 100 and 200-yard freestyle and Hunt the 200 and 400-yard individual medley. Dick Kline rounds out the list in the 200 and 400-yard individual medley.

Turning to wrestling, Steenlage appears to have the best chance of any Army entrant. Other Cadet hopefuls include Bob Robbins at 137 pounds, Mark Seuteman at 147 pounds, Ed Sharkness at 157 pounds and Tom Abraham at 191 pounds. Both Seuteman and Abraham took second-place awards at the Easterns, while Sharkness came in third in his weight class.

The third Army team to see action this weekend is lacrosse, set to take on the Mt. Washington Lacrosse Club in an exhibition in Baltimore. The Cadet stickmen launched their season last week with a 12-8 victory over Yale as two graduates of Baltimore Polytechnic paced the scoring attack. Bob Johnson finished with four goals while captain Tom Shekella was credited with one goal and four assists.

To Check Progress

CHICAGO (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said Tuesday night he will make a hurried trip this weekend to Mexico City to check on the progress of the 1968 Olympics.

"I am interested in finding out what progress is being made in Mexico, what their plans are and what is being accomplished," said Brundage.

Gulfstream Race Is Slated Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The final major test for the $100,000-added Florida Derby comes up at Gulfstream Park today and a field of 13 colts and one filly will match strides in the Fountain of Youth Stakes at 1-16 miles.

The field, matching most of the best 3-year-olds in Florida this winter, includes such swiftness as Hail To All, Sparkling Johnny, Gallant Lad, First Family and Flyalong.

Others entered are Maribeu, Louis Arnold, Battle Star, Prime Minister, Selari, The Dancer, Adsum, Chop-em-Please and Miss Misque.

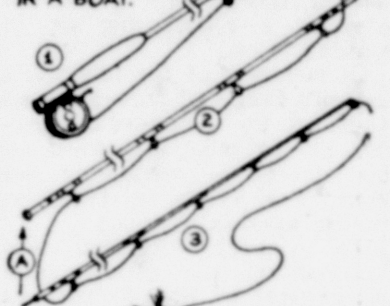

Hail To All won the Hibiscus and was third in the Flamingo; Sparkling Johnny won the Bahamas and Everglades and was second in the Flamingo; First Family won the Dade Metropolitan and Gallant Lad won the Hutcheson, with Prime Minister finishing second.

All but three of the 14 are Florida Derby nominees — First Family, Gallant Lad and Miss Misque. They can be made eligible upon payment of $5,000 by March 31.

The Fountain of Youth, won last year by Dandy K., will carry $15,000 in added money. The winner's share, with 14 starters, will be $11,325 from a gross of $18,325.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The new bowling queen of the mid-Hudson area is rolling out of Middletown these days. Rose Sciuoco's two "700" triples within two weeks has elevated her to the plateau many have been predicting for her the past few years.

She posted a torrid 726 in the Middletown Women's Bowling Association and crashed the magic circle for the second time with a 715 blast in the crack Friday night league at Campi-Tarsio Lanes in Newburgh. The second time around she fired 266, 244 and 205.

Rose has all the equipment to enjoy a long reign on top of the heap. She has sound fundamentals—fine working ball, delivery, footwork, foul line balance, a good temperament and keen competitive spirit. Add a pleasant personality and you have the whole bowler. Congratulations to her on a spectacular performance.

SPLITS AND MISSES: Hilda Murphy's repeater in the Class A All-events division of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association tournament reiterates what the tenpin fraternity has long known—she is one of the three best woman bowlers ever to grace the local scene. Rose Schatzel, of course, is one of the others. The third choice? Well, we have to ponder that a bit . . . The long season continues and still some well paid secretaries can't spell out the sponsor's names. Next time you hear a captain crying the blues he can't find a sponsor, don't be moved to tears. Judging by their performances in reporting scores some of these characters don't deserve the luxury of a sponsor . . . The organization man is here to stay but some organization-oriented secretaries are just too initial-happy. In their blind dedication to conformity, do they ever stop to consider the ramifications of, let's say, "J. Smith." We haven't exhausted all the possibilities but offhand we come up with John, Jack, Jim, Jacob, Jake, Jerry, Josiah, Jeremiah and Jack Smith. Come, gentlemen, leave the initials to your department memoranda (or is it memoranda?).

THE ELEVENTH FRAME: We noted an interesting statistic in the KWBA's prize list. For example, in the singles division there were 23 places in-the-money, 57 in Class B and 29 in Class C. The first place winner collected $10.00 in each division. We applaud the KWBA's desire to spread the wealth and in theory achieve rigid equality. But the bowler placing first in a 57-place prize list certainly deserves greater remuneration than one who tops 22 or 28 rivals. Or is this theory of ours just too, too commercial? . . . The so-called "short form" for reporting bowling scores has never been remembered to list all three games in a league leading high series . . . In another department, two years after the change from 400 to 450 for minimum women's scores, some secretaries still report 400 scores. Every September we go through the ageless ritual of publishing several times the ground rules for reporting scores. It is embarrassing to realize that some of these well paid servants of the bowlers never read the bowling column . . . Is there another city in the United States where the mayor's presence at a bowling banquet is almost mandatory? Down through the years we have watched a long parade—Harry Walker, Eugene Carey, Connie Heiselman, Fred Stang, Bill Edelmuth, Oscar Newkirk, Ed Radel and John Schwenk—make their annual pilgrimages to an endless round of post-season soirees. We might justify invitations on the association level, but to 50 league banquets a year, sorry, it's outmoded and indefensible.

OUR SPACE AGE PROBLEMS: This has nothing to do with bowling but there was something intriguing about the press interview of Vice President Humphrey after the historic Gemini space shot. We had sent two men three times around the globe in outer space and now there was great alarm that a simple public address system wasn't registering. This is an ageless electronic annoyance. For further comment we refer you to Dick McCarthy and Dave Freer.

Webster's $26.080 Tops PBA Parade

AKRON, Ohio — Three of Detroit's best professional bowlers fattened their wallets, took over second, fourth and fifth places in the Professional Bowlers Association (PBA) money race last Saturday, and established themselves as definite threats in the upcoming $100,000 Firestone PBA Tournament of Champions here April 5-11, 1965.

Veteran Bob Strampe, leading money winner in 1964, and second and third in Oklahoma City and Madison the last two weeks, picked up $5,000 for his 190-189 win over Billy Golembiewski, and moved up to fourth with winnings of $10,510.00 for the year.

Golembiewski took over second place behind Dick Weber, with a total of $14,425 as he added $2,500 for finishing second to Strampe, and Soutar, fourth at Detroit and still another Missouri, is now fifth with a total of $10,350.

Weber added a 17th place check for $460 to his leading total at Detroit, which now stands at $26,080 for the year. While he is the current favorite to win the $25,000 first prize put up by Firestone for the Tournament of Champions, Strampe and Golembiewski will have to be ranked almost along with him off their recent performances.

The tour moves to Buffalo this week for the $32,000 Fairlane PBA Open at suburban Depew, New York. The winner will get $5,000.

Chicago Fans Display Anger

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Black Hawks fans are more than slightly peeved at the National Hockey League club's management.

They displayed their anger Tuesday night by showering the ice with garbage during the Hawks' 3-2 loss to the New York Rangers. The outburst interrupted the game for 15 minutes during the final period.

Apparently the "thing" which touched off the fans' anger was the club's decision Monday that playoff games on the road will be seen in Chicago only on closed circuit television.

Too, Chicago newspapers reported that fans in other NHL playoff cities not only would get free home television but would pay a lot less than Chicago residents for tickets to playoff home games.

Some 16,000 turned out Tuesday night for the Hawks' final home game and shouted, "Norris is a fink. Norris is a fink."

Their chants were aimed at Jim Norris, co-owner of the Hawks along with Arthur Wirtz. Norris was in Florida.

The spectators booed Hawk players, jeered the public address announcer and peppered the ice with a little of everything, including overshoes and galoshes.

Hawks, Baltimore To Play Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Defense seemed the key word as the St. Louis Hawks and the Baltimore Bullets prepared for tonight's opening playoff game in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

"Defense will decide the play-offs," said Hawks player-coach Richie Guerin.

"If we don't play defense, it's going to be a short series," Coach Buddy Jeannette of Baltimore said.

The two Western Division teams, which split 10 games during the regular season, play a best-of-5 series for the right to meet division champion Los Angeles in a best-of-7 set.

Second-place St. Louis, 45-35, hampered by numerous injuries, finished eight games ahead of third-place Baltimore, 34-43, largely because of a defense that ranked second in the league at 105.8 points a game.

Baltimore, the second highest scoring team in the league at 111.6, was the worst defensively, allowing 115.8 points a contest.

Leads in Winnings

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders has an $11,176 cushion under him Tuesday in first place among top money winners of tournaments sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association.

Sanders was credited with $29,517 and runner-up Bob Charles $17,981 from 1965 PGA tournaments through last weekend's Jacksonville Open.

Counting winnings in PGA play and other tournaments, however, Billy Casper topped Sanders with $36,029 to $32,302.

Snider Is Back

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Duke Snider, all-time Los Angeles Dodger home-run hitter with 389, has returned to Dodgerstown, where he first reported in 1948, the year the training camp opened.

Snider is giving batting instructions to 180 rookies in his capacity as minor league batting instructor. He'll also serve as a scout in the Southern California area.

On Opponent Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The NCAA basketball champion UCLA Bruins have unanimously selected San Francisco University's Ollie Johnson, Michigan's Cazzie Russell and Boston College's John Austin to their all-opponents team.

Lou Hudson of Minnesota and Skip Thoren of Illinois complete the team announced Tuesday.

The Bruins did not play Princeton's All-America Bill Bradley.

We haven't all had the good fortune to be ladies; we have not all been generals, or poets or statesmen; but when the toast works down to the babies, we stand on common ground for we've all been babies. — Mark Twain.

The briefcase a certain lawyer carried belied the length of his every argument. He was so verbose, such a long-winded bore, that one judge said to him, Judge — If I knew you were coming, I'd have faked an ache.

Once he addressed the judge, Lawyer — Am I trespassing on the court's time.

Judge — Young man, you are not making that fine distinction between trespassing on the court's time and encroaching on eternity.

In one case this lawyer had looked up precedents dating back to Julius Caesar. Two hours later, while he was still gassing away, he noticed that the court was inattentive.

Lawyer, Begging your honor's pardon, do you follow me?

The judge shifted uneasily in his chair.

Judge — I have so far, but I'll say frankly that if I thought I could find my way back, I'd quit right here.

The captain hates the sea and, it seems, the salesgirls hate the customers.

An old folk cure for the common cold was to drape a chain of onions around the victim's neck for three days. And all of modern medicine's miracles provide no more likely cure.

Considering the difference in pay between teachers and pro athletes, today seems the era of Muscle Over Mind.

Some French genealogists say that research on his family tree shows that President de Gaulle is really an Irishman. Which explains why he never could resist a fight.

Better Than Killing

Anglo Press Backs Use of Nonlethal Gas in Viet War

LONDON (AP) — Approval of the American brand of gas warfare in South Viet Nam began to be heard in Britain today. Three newspapers said it was much better than killing.

First comments Tuesday, and the immediate reaction of scores of members of Parliament, were almost everywhere hostile.

Counterarguments came today from the pro-Labor Daily Mirror, the conservative Daily Mail and the conservative Daily Telegraph.

The Mirror, Britain's biggest daily, commented: "Which is the lesser evil? The bomb which makes mincemeat of a man — or the gas which knocks him out with distressing but not lasting discomfort for the afternoon?"

"Death at noon — or sickness?"

"Only an inflexible pacifist would have any difficulty in answering."

"But a pacifist might well conclude that if the entire human race could be reduced to tears and vomit for two hours once a month — then maybe the whole world might begin to realize the folly of its ways."

Daily Mail commentator Bernard Levin called the development "possibly the most important, exciting, hopeful and beneficial development that has ever occurred in the entire history of the human race."

"What the Americans have done," he said, "is to take in public the first halting step toward something that has eluded mankind since mankind existed — a war that does not kill."

Last Leg . . .

bring him into the mainstream of economic life."

There were other developments on the racial scene: — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., served notice he plans an extended "educational discussion" when the voting rights bill reaches the Senate floor. But in debate with Sen. Nicholas Katzenbach, he conceded the measure probably will be enacted.

— Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore said in a New Orleans interview he felt participation by clergymen of all faiths in civil rights demonstrations should be encouraged. "I feel that those priests who are participating are following their consciences," he said.

Negro high school pupils marched through downtown Jonesboro, La., singing and clapping hands during a demonstration in support of a boycott at Jackson High. The boycott began March 8 with pupils saying the school was not accredited and needed more books and laboratory equipment.

— Birmingham police reported the six dynamite bombs found Sunday and Monday had provided them with more evidence than was discovered during any of the previous investigations of the city's numerous bombings.

Mayor Joe Smithman of Selma told a Montgomery civic club that "law and order have been maintained in Selma and we will continue with law and order and will not panic."

King said he had been asked what would happen when the marchers reached Montgomery and whether Gov. George C. Wallace would see them.

"Gov. Wallace may not be at the Capitol that day," King said. "But he will see the marchers. There is no way he can fail to see thousands and thousands of unarmed, courageous Negroes and whites who are marching to dramatize a tragic evil — a tragic expression of man's inhumanity to man."

The 300 marchers who spent the night near Lowndesboro ate dinner of barbecued chicken or ham, peas and carrots and a candy bar for dessert. An evening camp meeting was called off because the ground was too muddy.

Once again National Guardsmen and Army troops activated by President Johnson ringed the camp.

In Montgomery, Police Commissioner L.B. Sullivan appealed to all citizens to go about their business and stay away from the Thursday demonstration at the end of the march.

Records of U.S. Patent Office show 638,000 patents were granted between 1865 and 1900 and only 62,000 were granted earlier.

Local Sailor Is Aboard Intrepid

DOUW C. DIEHL

After almost three years of service in the U. S. Navy, Douw C. Diehl, son of Mrs. Gertrude Diehl, 19 Foxhall Avenue, really has something to write home about.

Diehl is a crew member of the Aircraft Carrier Intrepid which has two celebrities aboard — Major Virgil I. Grissom and Commander John W. Young.

The space twins came aboard the Intrepid Tuesday after their historic three orbital flight. Helicopters brought Grissom and Young to the carrier after they over-shot their target area.

Diehl, who received his basic training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Ill., will mark his third year in the naval service on April 3.

Benefits, Pension

protection — 60 days per illness plus 20 days in a nursing home for recuperation, or longer in the nursing home if the hospital benefit is not all used. All those over 65 would be eligible, whether or not retired or in need. Each patient would pay the first $40. The plan would go into effect July 1, 1966.

Next there would be a program for which the aged could sign up if they wished. It would cost $3 a month in premiums, and the patient would pay the first $50. Doctors' visits, X-ray and laboratory fees and a variety of other health expenses — but not medicines prescribed for home use — would be covered. The effective date would be the same.

For those cared for by welfare programs and by the existing Kerr-Mills Act for aid to persons so close to the poverty level that medical bills would ruin them, there also would be help. The federal government, which now contributes 50 to 80 per cent of the cost of existing programs in various states, would step up its contributions to 55 to 83 per cent. Eligibility would be eased, especially by substituting a flexible income test for the general means tests now in use in some states.

Social Security old-age payments would be increased 7 per cent across the board, with a minimum increase of $4 a month and the increase would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965. There would accordingly be a new minimum of $44 for a retired worker — eligible wives get half as much in addition — and a maximum of $135.90. These figures compare with the present $40 and $124. Ultimately, as the Social Security tax increased, the maximum would go to $167.90.

The payroll tax now withheld for Social Security purposes is 3.625 per cent of the first $4,800 earned — with a similar tax on the employer. Next year, under the provisions of the bill, it would go up to 4.35 per cent on $5,600 and both the rate and the base would be further increased later. The maximum any employee pays this year is $174. Under the bill the maximum next year would be $243.60 and by 1987 the top would be $343.20.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and selected issues advanced in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks outnumbered losers.

The slight gain on average was enough to put the Dow Jones industrial average slightly above the significant level of 900 at noon.

Although the general background of economic and business news was good, there was no strong buying drive in the stock market.

The trend was mostly higher among steels, rails, utilities, chemicals and electronics. Rubbers were lower. Motors, oils, tobaccos, drugs and building materials were mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.11 at 900.80.

Eastern Air Lines, up about a point, was one of the larger gainers in its group. Others rose fractionally as the airlines resumed their rebound from recent selling.

Gains exceeding a point were made by Eastman Kodak, Du Pont, Control Data and Douglas Aircraft.

tions and the answers. The leaflets note that gains in diagnosis and treatment have made it possible for over a million Americans to be alive today, cured of cancer. Physicians could cure about half of all cancer patients, if people went for examinations in time, the leaflets note. They further state that with present medical knowledge, uterine cancer could be practically eliminated, and many more people could be cured of cancer of the colon or rectum and other major cancer killers.

The leaflets note seven signs of cancer: Unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; a change in a wart or a mole.

Mrs. Edwin C. Shumate, field representative of the New York State Division of the ACS, spoke of work being done by researchers, and their gratitude to volunteers for making possible the funds to continue their work. She appealed to all residents of the area to contribute as much as possible towards the fund-raising campaign.

The Ulster County Unit last year went over the top through the generosity of residents, and early this month the unit was awarded a bronze plaque for reaching the highest per cent of goal in the State of New York in the 1964 Cancer Crusade.

The award was presented to the unit at the New York State Division's Kickoff Meeting held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Buffalo. The award was accepted on behalf of the unit by Mrs. Paul Wendrow, executive secretary.

During last night's meeting a film was shown and work kits and final instructions were distributed to the Crusade workers.

32 Young People Win Certificates In Boat Handling

A total of 32 youngsters recently received certificates for completion of the New York State Young Boatmen's Safety Course conducted locally by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 1-12.

The licensed instructors were Charles Kohl and Charles Dedrich. The youngsters are between the ages of 10 and 14 and may now operate mechanically propelled boats on state waters.

The course is jointly sponsored by Flotilla 1-12 and the State Conservation Department's division of motor boats.

The course was conducted in the community room of Britts department store.

Students Attend Distributive Ed Meet at Concord

Over 1,000 students, retailers and educators, including a representation from Kingston High School, attended the 5th annual Distributive Education Clubs of New York conference at the Concord Hotel, Kiamasha Lake, March 21-23.

Eleven KHS students and teachers Loryne Connick, William Plimley and Miss Betty Ferris, were on hand for the sessions designed to provide vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence and leadership development in the areas of marketing and merchandising.

Two Win Honors

Two of the students won honors during the three-day conference.

Karl Scholl won third place in the window judging and Joanne Brady was elected vice president of the state organization.

Other KHS students attending were Beverly Buntin, Dale Eisele, Lester Hatcher, Joseph Heybruck, Roberta Plough, Sandra Premo, Phyllis Staccio, Patricia Swarthout and Daniel Potter.

Several of the students participated in various contests including Dale Eisele, sales demonstration; Joseph Heybruck, advertising layout; Karl Scholl, window display; Patricia Swarthout, job interviewing; Phyllis Staccio and Sandra Premo, DECA Sweetheart.

Theme of this year's conference was Distribution for Tomorrow. The Distributive Education Clubs of America, DECA, as it is known, is an organization of boys and girls in high school who are studying to be future retailers. This group of more than 4,000 members in chapters in 113 New York State cities sent delegates to this year's state conference.

Highlights of the program included a fashion show sponsored by J. C. Penney Co., outstanding speakers from the business world including David Joergers, sales manager, Scientific Instrument Division, Bausch and Lomb Co., Rochester and Dr. Robert E. Slaughter, senior vice-president, McGraw-Hill Book Co., Inc.

Attend Workshops

In addition to attending a variety of workshops and having the opportunity to listen to outstanding leaders in the field of distribution, students participated in an expanded awards program by competing in many contests in the areas of sales demonstration, advertising layout, job interview, and public speaking. The contests were designed to develop employable skills on the part of the students.

Eight areas of New York State sent young ladies to the conference who had competed in local contests for the title of DECNY Sweetheart. Three contestants will participate in a fashion show and in other activities to select six finalists for the state at the national conference in Chicago in May. The winners will also be given special recognition by the J. C. Penney Co.

The H. B. Humiston Ambulance of Kerhonkson was summoned and took Marek to the Ellenville hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Jakarta Lifts Ban

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The government telegraph office in Jakarta today resumed handling of cables to and from the American embassy, American news agencies and correspondents for American newspapers.

Telegraph workers had imposed a boycott on the Americans' incoming and outgoing messages Tuesday on instructions from Sobsi, the labor wing of the Indonesian Communist party. Foreign Minister Subandrio ordered the ban lifted.

Ranger 9 . . .

Without the maneuver, consisting of firing small jets to twist the craft around slightly, the cameras would have been pointed to the right of the target.

The shots were made by one of the craft's six cameras as it traveled at about 6,000 miles per hour toward the lunar surface.

Dramatically Illuminated

The pictures were dramatically illuminated by bright sunlight, striking the rough surface at an angle, outlining clearly the ridges around the craters.

The craters grew slowly in size in the pictures as Ranger 9 zeroed in.

This was the third straight success in the Ranger series, designed to find a landing spot for future moon explorers. Ranger 7 and 8 returned more than 11,000 good pictures, Ranger 9 is expected to return additional thousands.

The first of these are to be released later after being printed. They will be the first to show a crater close up. The two previous Rangers landed on broad dusty plains.

Scientists say they doubt they would want to attempt a landing in a crater, but they want to know what one looks like nonetheless.

Double Space Triumph

Ranger 9 was launched Sunday from Cape Kennedy, Fla., and gave the United States two space triumphs in two days. The first two-astronaut Gemini space capsule orbital flight was staged Tuesday.

The televised pictures showed the floor of the crater Alphonsus, just below the equator and just to the left of the north-south central line of the moon's face, to be flat. It was marked with rills and small craters, similar to those seen on the broad lunar plains in previous moon pictures.

On the floor of the crater, near its northwestern ramp, was a long, jagged groove.

Observers said the series contained no surprises in the way of lunar topography.

Had Special Collar

One reason it didn't sink: Frogmen put a collar on it that assured it would stay afloat. The Air Force said its rescue team consisted of M. Sgt. Ted R. Hawkins, T. Sgt. Robert F. Johnson and Airman 2C James E. Poole. The plane was piloted by Capt. Wallace W. Love and Capt. William L. Schultz, and with Capt. Wendell G. Gaither as navigator. All are from Orlando Air Force Base. Appropriately, Orlando is Young's home town.

To See Reporters

Grissom and Young return to Cape Kennedy Thursday where for the first time they will be available to answer reporters' questions. Then it's on to Washington and a meeting with the President.

In his phone call Johnson said:

"I am looking forward to seeing you Friday — if you can make it."

Chances are, Grissom and Young can make it. They are also scheduled for a ticker-tape parade in New York Monday.

Although Tuesday's flight produced nothing so dramatic as the Russian achievement of five days ago, when a cosmonaut stepped from his ship and floated in space on a tether, officials at Cape Kennedy were sure the U.S. flight was a long step forward.

By firing thrust rockets, Grissom and Young dropped their ship down, moved it from side to side, and turned it about. These movements are necessary if spacecraft are to contact each other while whirling through the skies.

Mikoyan, Chou Arrive

Cash reserves and insurance are ample. We own a $40,000 home, which is subject to a $15,000 mortgage. By utilizing current income, mortgage payments can be accelerated by $1,500 a year, thus effecting an interest saving and paying off the mortgage by the time I plan to retire five years hence. Should I (1) do this or (2) continue paying only the required mortgage installments, placing $1,500 annually in our current holding to liquidate the mortgage?" J. S. W.

A) I would advise you to accelerate your mortgage payments by $1,500 each year so that you will be debt clear by retirement.

No changes whatever are suggested in your stock list, consisting of twelve diversified issues. I feel these are all of top drawer quality.

Q) "I am 36 years of age, a college instructor, with a wife and one child and another expected this fall. We have saved and accumulated $20,000 which is now deposited in Savings & Loan. We are considering placing $5,000 in growth stocks for the eventual education of our children. I do not anticipate buying a home for at least two years because of the need for mobility. Besides other miscellaneous assets valued at $8,500 we also have 50 shares of Great A & P, 100 Vance Saunders and 200 First United Life of Gary." J. W.

A) The first suggestion I'd make would be that you switch from one food chain to another from Great A & P into Winn-Dixie, for the latter has a far better growth record.

Vance Saunders should be held for it acts as exclusive distributor for five different investment trust shares, including the large Massachusetts Investors Trust. While earnings dipped for 1963, a comeback appears in progress.

I would also hold First United Life. For your new funds I suggest Miles Laboratories, Southern Company and Northern Illinois Gas.

Two Burglaries Noted by Police

Two burglaries were under local police probe today.

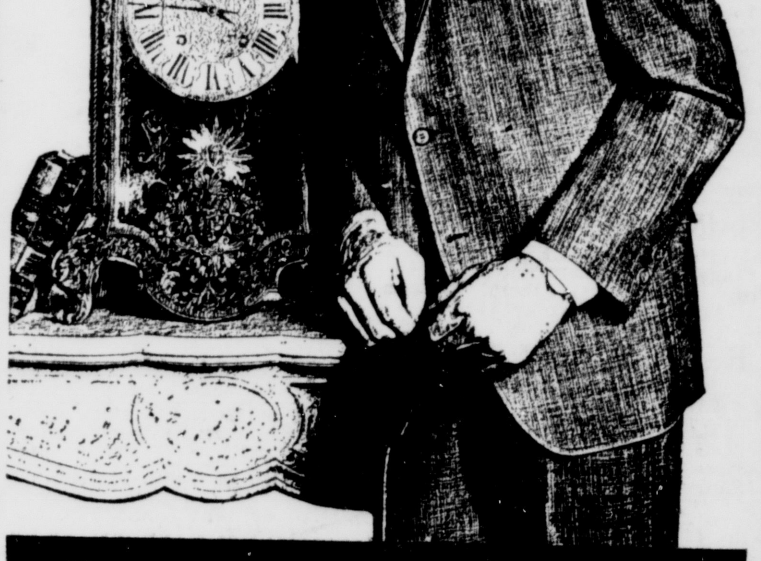

Tools including wrenches, saws and a variety of others were reported taken from a shed on the Modjeska Sign Studios property, Thomas Street, and the West End Brewing Co. (Utica Club) 12 Chambers Street, was entered again.

A lock was pried to gain entrance to the Modjeska shed, entrance to the brewing company's warehouse was gained by the breaking of a side window. Nothing of value was reported missing from the latter, Lt. Lemuel F. Howard said.

Both properties were involved in other recent burglaries. A downtown man was arrested after a burglary earlier this month at West End and a juvenile was reported involved in a burglary at the Modjeska Studios.

The Edict of Nantes, signed by King Henry IV of France, was first official recognition of religious toleration by a European nation.

Anglo Press Backs Use of Nonlethal Gas in Viet War

LONDON (AP) — Approval of the American brand of gas warfare in South Viet Nam began to be heard in Britain today. Three newspapers said it was much better than killing.

First comments Tuesday, and the immediate reaction of scores of members of Parliament, were almost everywhere hostile.

Counterarguments came today from the pro-Labor Daily Mirror, the conservative Daily Mail and the conservative Daily Telegraph.

The Mirror, Britain's biggest daily, commented: "Which is the lesser evil?"

The bomb which makes mincemeat of a man — or the gas which knocks him out without distressing but not lasting discomfort for the afternoon?

"Death at noon — or sickness?"

"Only an inflexible pacifist would have any difficulty in answering."

"But a pacifist might well conclude that if the entire human race could be reduced to tears and vomit for two hours once a month — then maybe the whole world might begin to realize the folly of its ways."

Daily Mail commentator Bernard Levin called the development "possibly the most important, exciting, hopeful and beneficial development that has ever occurred in the entire history of the human race."

"What the Americans have done," he said, "is to take in public the first halting step toward something that has eluded mankind since mankind existed — a war that does not kill."

bring him into the mainstream of economic life."

There were these other developments on the racial score:

— Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., served notice he plans an extended "educational discussion" when the voting rights bill reaches the Senate floor. But in debate with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach he conceded the measure probably will be enacted.

— Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore said in a New Orleans interview he felt participation by clergymen of all faiths in civil rights demonstrations should be encouraged. "I feel that those priests who are participating are following their consciences," he said.

— Negro high school pupils marched through downtown Jonesboro, La., singing and clapping hands during a demonstration in support of a boycott at Jackson High. The boycott began March 8 with pupils saying the school was not accredited and needed more books and laboratory equipment.

— Birmingham police reported the six dynamite bombs found Sunday and Monday had provided them with more evidence than was discovered during any of the previous investigations of the city's numerous bombings.

— Mayor Joe Smithman of Selma told a Montgomery civic club that "law and order have been maintained in Selma and we will continue with law and order and will not panic."

King said he had been asked what would happen when the marchers reached Montgomery and whether Gov. George C. Wallace would see them.

"Gov. Wallace may not be at the Capitol that day," King said. "But he will see the marchers. There is no way he can fail to see thousands and thousands of unarmed, courageous Negroes and whites who are marching to dramatize a tragic evil — a tragic expression of man's inhumanity to man."

Dinner Menu
The 300 marchers who spent the night near Lowndesboro ate dinner of barbecued chicken or ham, peas and carrots and a candy bar for dessert. An evening camp meeting was called off because the ground was too muddy.

Once again National Guardsmen and Army troops activated by President Johnson ringed the camp.

In Montgomery, Police Commissioner L.B. Sullivan appealed to all citizens to go away from the Thursday demonstration at the end of the march.

Records of U.S. Patent Office show 638,000 patents were granted between 1865 and 1900 and only 62,000 were granted earlier.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and selected issues advanced in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks outnumbered losers.

The slight gain on average was enough to put the Dow Jones industrial average slightly above the significant level of 900 at noon.

Although the general background of economic and business news was good, there was no strong buying drive in the stock market.

The trend was mostly higher among steels, rails, utilities, chemicals and electronics. Rubbers were lower. Motors, oils, tobaccos, drugs and building materials were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 30 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 3:37 with industrials up 1.2, rails up 8 and utilities up 6.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.11 at 900.80.

Eastern Air Lines, up about a point, was one of the larger gainers in its group. Others rose fractionally as the airlines resumed their rebound from recent selling.

Gains exceeding a point were made by Eastman Kodak, Du Pont, Control Data and Douglas Aircraft.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City, branch office, 52 Main Street, Lowell S. Brooks, manager.

tions and the answers. The leaflets note that gains in diagnosis and treatment have made it possible for over a million Americans to be alive today, cured of cancer.

Physicians could cure about half of all cancer patients, if people went for examinations in time, the leaflets note. They further state that with present medical knowledge, uterine cancer could be practically eliminated, and many more people could be cured of cancer of the colon or rectum or other major cancer killers.

The leaflets note seven signs of cancer: Unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; a change in a wart or a mole.

Mrs. Edwin C. Shumate, field representative of the New York State Division of the ACS, spoke of work being done by researchers, and their gratitude to volunteers for making possible the funds to continue their work. She appealed to all residents of the area to contribute as much as possible towards the fund-raising campaign.

The Ulster County Unit last year went over the top through the generosity of residents, and early this month the unit was awarded a bronze plaque for reaching the highest per cent of goal in the State of New York in the 1964 Cancer Crusade.

The award was presented to the unit at the New York State Division's Kickoff Meeting held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Buffalo. The award was accepted on behalf of the unit by Mrs. Paul Wendrow, executive secretary.

Students Attend Distributive Ed Meet at Concord

Over 1,000 students, retailers and educators, including a representation from Kingston High School, attended the 5th annual Distributive Education Clubs of New York conference at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, March 21-23.

Eleven KHS students and teachers Loryne Connick, William Plimley and Miss Betty Ferris, were on hand for the sessions designed to provide vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence and leadership development in the areas of marketing and merchandising.

Two Win Honors

Two of the students won honors during the three-day conference.

Other KHS students attending were Beverly Buntin, Dale Eisele, Lester Hatcher, Joseph Heybruck, Roberta Pleugh, Sandra Premo, Phyllis Staccio, Patricia Swarthout and Daniel Potter.

Several of the students participated in various contests including Dale Eisele, sales demonstration; Joseph Heybruck, advertising layout; Karl Scholl, window display; Patricia Swarthout, job interviewing; Phyllis Staccio and Sandra Premo, DECA Sweetheart.

Theme of this year's conference was Distribution for Tomorrow. The Distributive Education Clubs of America, DECA, as it is known, is an organization of boys and girls in high school who are studying to be future retailers. This group of more than 4,000 members in chapters in 113 New York State cities sent delegates to this year's state conference.

Highlights of the program included a fashion show sponsored by J. C. Penney Co., outstanding speakers from the business world including David Joeger, sales manager, Scientific Instrument Division, Bausch and Lomb Co., Rochester and Dr. Robert E. Slaughter, senior vice-president, McGraw-Hill Book Co., Inc.

Attend Workshops

In addition to attending a variety of workshops and having the opportunity to listen to outstanding leaders in the field of distribution, students participated in an expanded awards program by competing in many contests in the areas of sales demonstration, advertising layout, job interview and public speaking. The contests were designed to develop employable skills on the part of the students.

Eight areas of New York State sent young ladies to the conference who have competed in local contests for the title of DECNY Sweetheart. Three contestants will participate in a fashion show and in other activities to select six finalists for a DECA Sweetheart to represent the state at the national conference in Chicago in May. The winners will also be given special recognition by the J. C. Penney Co.

Jakarta Lifts Ban

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The government telegraph office in Jakarta today resumed handling of cables to and from the American embassy, American news agencies and correspondents for American newspapers.

Telegraph workers had imposed a boycott on the Americans' incoming and outgoing messages Tuesday on instructions from Soehi, the labor wing of the Indonesian Communist party. Foreign Minister Subandrio ordered the ban lifted.

A New Jersey operator was issued a summons for following a vehicle ahead too closely Tuesday and will appear before Justice Robert Stedje of Town of Ulster March 29 to answer to the charge. Trooper Fred Cooper, who investigated, reported Robert Stutz, 62, of Bergenfield, N. J. and Henry Brooks, 42, of 33 Partition Street, Saugerties, were both proceeding north on Route 9W at the shopping center in the Town of Ulster when the Stutz car struck the rear of the Brooks car. There were no reported injuries. The accident occurred at 11:15 a. m.

Snow, Rain Due Friday; Cold Stays

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Tuesday:

Eastern New York—Temperatures will average ten or more degrees below normal. Snow over the north and central areas, and snow and rain in the southern third are likely Friday. Another period of precipitation is forecast for early next week. Water content of precipitation will average one half inch or more.

Western New York—Temperatures will average 7 to 10 degrees below normal without much change from day to day. Snow late Thursday or Friday and rain or snow about Sunday will average one half inch melted.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 40s to low 50s. Nighttime lows, 20s to low 30s.

3 N.Y. Deaths Blamed on Snow

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Three persons have died in an early spring snowstorm that swept across Western New York—leaving as much as seven inches elsewhere—Monroe and Niagara counties.

In Rochester, two city residents, Karl M. Rambo, 80, and Harry Trentman, 65, and Harvey Kimble, 72, of suburban Irondequoit, collapsed and died of heart attacks Tuesday while shoveling snow at their homes.

Lighter snowfall and rain was reported elsewhere in the state. The rain was limited to the lower Hudson Valley. Two-inch snowfalls were recorded in other parts of the state.

Raise Is Beaten

Po'keepsie Sees Financial Woes On School Issues

A referendum to determine whether the constitutional real estate tax limit should be raised from 1.50 per cent of the City of Poughkeepsie's average assessed valuation over the last five years to 1.75 per cent, was overwhelmingly defeated on Tuesday.

Dr. Edwin L. Hunger, superintendent of the city's schools, told The Freeman the vote was 1,363-627.

With the defeat of the proposition, Board of Education officials, contend the district will be faced with serious financial problems which will require solutions to the following questions:

1. — Will the Board of Education be able to continue all of its non-mandated services?
2. — Will the Board of Education be able to expand existing programs?
3. — Will the Board of Education be able to introduce new instructional programs and instructional material?
4. — Will the Board of Education be able to continue its maintenance program for school buildings and grounds?
5. — Will the Board of Education have to consider the levying of a utility tax?

Urges Support Of Library Bill In Legislature

Calls for action to gain understanding and support for an expanded concept of library service have gone out to 95 public libraries, 18 colleges, major industries and hospitals throughout eight counties in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

Legislation, S1789 and A3950, now under consideration in Albany, will provide $325,000 for the establishment of a new kind of library system in which college, industrial, medical, public and other kinds of libraries will help each other. The purpose: to provide enlarged reference facilities—more books and better access to books—for increasing numbers of students and professional workers who need them. Systems in which public libraries cooperate now serve more than 98 per cent of the people in New York State. The new reference and research systems will bring about coordination of holdings in many kinds of libraries, a communication network, development of specialized subject collections, of bibliographical tools and the use of modern methods of facsimile reproduction. It is thought that seven regional systems will provide excellent service on an economical basis for the entire state.

Industries including International Business Machines Corporation, Texaco, Inc., Union Carbide Nuclear Company, American Cyanamid Company, St. Regis Paper Company, Schimmler and Company, Inc., as well as colleges, hospitals and public libraries are represented in the Southeastern New York Library Resources Council, organized in recent years to advance reference and research service in Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam, Greene, Ulster, Orange, Sullivan and Rockland counties.

Mr. Gerald Carson, Mid-Hudson Libraries trustee, and member of the Legislative Committee of the New York Library Association, pointing out that the proposed new program will expand the usefulness of local public libraries as well as improve facilities in college, hospital and industrial research libraries, asks local trustees to take board action in favor of S1789. She also urges college and hospital boards, faculty members and industrial groups to get in touch with their legislators to explain library needs and ask for support of the current legislation.

At a recent meeting, faculty members of the State University College at New Paltz voted unanimously to ask their State Senator and Assemblyman for support of the bill. Senator D. Clinton Dominick, III, 33rd District, and Assemblyman J. A. Schlosser, Orange County and Kenneth J. Wilson, Ulster County have pledged support of S1789.

Truck Hits Pole

A laundry truck hit an electric pole off Route 214 near the Shults Farm in Chichester Monday night according to reports received today. The driver, Martin Erickson of Pine Hill, claimed an unidentified car forced him off the road. The truck, owned by Consolidated Laundry of Shandaken, went into the ditch for some distance before hitting the pole and knocking down wires. Repairs were made in about 35 minutes by New York State Electric and Gas Company from Fleischmanns. The accident occurred about 4:30 p. m. The driver was reported uninjured.

Check Transformer

Ellenville fire fighters responded to an alarm Tuesday afternoon at the J. Ben Building on Main Street in the village, where considerable smoke resulted from a transformer after a neon light apparently burned out. Fire fighters were at the scene about a half hour.

Impasse Over Taxes May Mean No Budget April 1

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A deepening impasse over new taxes caused increasing concern at the capitol today that the state would enter the new fiscal year next Thursday without a budget.

Gov. Rockefeller's staff reportedly has prepared an emergency plan for conducting state government in the absence of a budget, if necessary.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt called Tuesday for detailed planning for operating without a budget, asserting that "the state's fiscal affairs could become chaotic" if no plan were ready on April 1.

It was uncertain whether the Legislature could — or would — make partial appropriations to avoid payless paydays for the state's 120,000 workers or prevent a halt in major construction projects.

Meanwhile, there was no sign of a break in a three-year deadlock over the key revenue proposal in the Republican governor's new budget, a 2 per cent statewide sales tax.

Rockefeller suggested the sales and other taxes to help balance his record, $2.5 billion budget for the new fiscal year. The governor has declined to discuss alternatives to the sales tax, holding he met his responsibility when he submitted a balanced budget.

While the prospect of approval of the budget within the next week grew more uncertain, this also developed:

—The Senate approved unanimously a Democratic bill to restore minimum distance requirements between liquor stores. GOP support of the measure was a rebuff to Rockefeller. Republican majorities in the Legislature last year lifted the distance requirements at his request—and with reported political pressure exerted.

The Democratic majorities in both houses are split on the sales tax issue. There also is strong opposition among Republicans. So far they have indicated they do not believe party loyalty compels them to support the governor's controversial tax proposal.

The GOP lawmakers point out privately that they probably will be running for re-election this year, while the governor will not.

Martorana Will Remain in Race For Senate Seat

Plattekill Supervisor Joseph Martorana, the only announced candidate for the State Senate seat, today stated that he is remaining in the race for the GOP nomination.

Noting the uncertainty of the reapportionment plans, Martorana said, "Anything can happen and certainly a county such as Ulster with a population of 118,500 should keep a candidate in the race."

"Under the proposed new 43rd Senate District, Ulster County is the largest county in population and the only one contiguous to the other three. The other counties include parts of Orange with a population of 55,000, Sullivan 45,000, and Greene 31,000.

In making known his determination to continue his candidacy, Martorana stated that he is continuing his meetings with town and city committees throughout Ulster County. He pointed out, however, that he is not seeking any official endorsements or commitments at the present time. "The matter of selecting a Republican nominee for State Senator is too important a subject to be decided upon by hastily-called meetings attended by a few individuals," Martorana stated. "Besides," he added, "grass root sentiment from the rank and file must be considered before a decision of an endorsement is made."

The Ulster County Republican candidate for the Senate seat is a former farmer-truck driver turned office manager-accountant who has twice been elected Plattekill supervisor by overwhelming 2 to 1 majorities in a former Democratic town. A strong advocate of equal opportunity and equal representation for all the people in all areas, Martorana has been a strong voice on the Board of Supervisors successfully fighting for programs beneficial to the people he represents both in Plattekill and throughout Ulster County. Always active in community affairs, he has served in many capacities in civic, fraternal and veterans organizations.

An experienced veteran of getting things the hard way and starting from the bottom, Martorana started college at the age of 15, working days and going to CCNY at night. Soon after Pearl Harbor he left college to work in a steel mill and in 1943 he entered the Army.

A World War II veteran, Martorana rose through the ranks from private to master sergeant ending his army career in 1946 as sergeant major at the Field Artillery School in Fort Sill, Okla. A former student at the Orange County Community College and Krissler Business Institute, which he attended while holding full-time jobs, Martorana learned farming first through an extension course from Cornell which he took while in the army and then upon discharge from selling farm machinery and operating a farm of his own where he has lived for almost 20 years.

Before his election as town supervisor in 1961, Martorana served as deputy clerk of the Board of Supervisors and assistant county budget officer. He also served for three years on various staffs of the N. Y. State

Charged in Killing

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A restaurant-owner's 19-year-old son is charged with killing a man after an argument in the restaurant last Thursday.

City Judge Patrick J. Mannix issued a warrant Tuesday, charging Joseph Monsour of Glens Falls with second-degree manslaughter in the beating of Norman Anderson, 38, also of Glens Falls.

Anderson died Friday in Albany Medical Center Hospital.

Says Fleet Not Giving Hanoi Time to Relax

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet said today the United States is conducting "practically continuous" operations against North Viet Nam.

Vice Adm. Paul P. Blackburn told newsmen the operations include weather and reconnaissance flights as well as combat strikes.

"They are not getting much rest up there," he said. Blackburn, making a four-day visit to Thailand, said North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire proved effective against recent U.S. air strikes because of the volume of fire rather than sophisticated equipment.

In addition, he said, a number of raids had to be flown at low altitude because of bad weather, making the jet aircraft more vulnerable.

Support Mounting

HARRISBURG (AP) — Support is mounting for legislation that would abolish the State Milk Control Commission and create a milk stabilization board in its place.

A bipartisan proposal was introduced in the House Tuesday with 30 sponsors, just 24 hours after a similar bill was proposed in the Senate.

The measure would completely abolish the Milk Control Commission and end retail and wholesale price controls while providing for a referendum of farmers in each area to find out whether they want producer controls.

Legislature both in the Senate and in the Assembly. Martorana, 43 years old, is an insurance broker in Southern Ulster County.

Resnick Endorses Social Workers' Annual Institute

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, 28th District, has issued a statement endorsing the fourth annual institute of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers which will take place at Vassar College Thursday.

Congressman Resnick said: "The Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers is to be commended for its efforts to focus attention on the need for community action in the national war on poverty."

"For the first time in history we have the tools available under the Economic Opportunities Act to deal effectively with the causes of poverty within each community. Congress was very deliberate in writing into the law the need for a community to examine its own needs and to take actions which would come to grips with the unique problems within its own streets."

"The Hudson Valley is one of the most beautiful river valleys in the world. Its people are industrious, generous and concerned with humanity, as was demonstrated in recent marches throughout the valley protesting the situation in Selma, Ala. They are people who, given the facts, will rise to meet the challenge of providing opportunity for all, a challenge that has remained hidden for too long in the run down sections of our towns and the private isolation of our farms."

There have been several splendid efforts in the last few years to provide programs in the Mid-Hudson Valley which will open the doors of opportunity to everyone. Spotted attempts to solve these problems are not enough. A massive effort must be waged—and it must begin in each community."

The Institute, a full day function, begins with Registration at Avery Hall at 9 a. m. Mrs. Dorothy Mastrianni is chairman of the Institute committee.

Life Saving Course Scheduled at YMCA

The annual spring life saving program promoted by the Kingston YMCA will start with try-outs on Monday 3:30 p. m. in the Y pool, it was announced by Louis Schafer, Y secretary.

Lester L. Lawrence will act as the life saving instructor. He is a certified life saving instructor for the Red Cross and the YMCA Life Saving Service.

There will be two days of try-outs: Monday and Wednesday, March 29 and 31. Swimmers taking junior life saving will have to swim 220 yards and demonstrate a good front dive.

The classes will be for eight weeks, meeting every Monday and Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:45 p. m. The class will end just before Memorial Day. All boys and girls passing the required tests will receive a certified life saving card and an emblem for their bathing suit.

Special information can be had by phoning the YMCA office.

Kremlin Airs Farm Troubles

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party's Central Committee is meeting today to discuss the Soviet Union's chronic farm troubles. There were signs that the 1964 harvest produced less than the bumper crop about which former Premier Nikita Khrushchev boasted.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, Khrushchev's successor as party chief, announced the plenary meeting of the 330-member committee during his speech Tuesday welcoming the two newest Soviet cosmonauts to Moscow.

Brezhnev said the committee would discuss "efforts designed to improve radically the situation in our agriculture and to create conditions for its advancement to the level of the tremendous tasks confronting the Soviet economy."

The situation in Soviet agriculture has been gloomy since the disastrous failure of the wheat crop in 1963. The Soviet bought 12 million tons of wheat from the West, and Khrushchev implied there could have been a famine.

Khrushchev claimed last summer that the 1964 crop would meet current needs and provide abundant reserves. Soviet propaganda organs painted the same glowing picture.

After Khrushchev's ouster in October, the optimistic mood

suddenly changed. The new theme was "much still remains to be done in order to guarantee a fully adequate supply of all farm products."

Many farms were reported turning in huge deliveries of grain, then drawing as much or more from the state granaries to feed cattle and for seed.

Flour is still short, consumers were rationed to 4.4 pounds for holidays in November and December.

Meat production has dropped and is now providing less meat per capita than in 1958. One of the first moves of the new Kremlin leadership was to lift restrictions on private ownership of livestock.

The purpose: to provide enlarged reference facilities—more books and better access to books—for increasing numbers of students and professional workers who need them. Systems in which public libraries cooperate now serve more than 98 per cent of the people in New York State. The new reference and research systems will bring about coordination of holdings in many kinds of libraries, a communication network, development of specialized subject collections, of bibliographical tools and the use of modern methods of facsimile reproduction. It is thought that regional systems will provide excellent service on an economical basis for the entire state.

Industries including International Business Machines Corporation, Texaco, Inc., Union Carbide Nuclear Company, American Cyanamid Company, St. Regis Paper Company, Schimel and Company, Inc., as well as colleges, hospitals and public libraries are represented in the southeastern New York Library Resources Council, organized in recent years to advance reference and research service in Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam, Greene, Ulster, Orange, Sullivan and Rockland counties.

Mrs. Gerald Carson, Mid-Hudson Libraries trustee and member of the Legislative Committee of the New York Library Association, pointing out that the proposed new program will expand the usefulness of local public libraries as well as improve facilities in college, hospital and industrial research libraries, asks local trustees to take board action in favor of S1789. She also urges college and hospital boards, faculty members and industrial groups to get in touch with their legislators to explain library needs and ask for support of the current legislation.

At a recent meeting, faculty members of the State University College at New Paltz voted unanimously to ask their State Senator and Assemblyman for support of the bill. Senator D. Clinton Dominick, III, 33rd District, and Assemblyman J. A. Schlosser, Orange County and Kenneth J. Wilson, Ulster County have pledged support of S1789.

Truck Hits Pole

A laundry truck hit an electric pole off Route 214 near the Shullis Farm in Chichester Monday night according to reports received today. The driver, Martin Erickson of Pine Hill, claimed an unidentified car forced him off the road. The truck, owned by Consolidated Laundry of Shandaken, went into the ditch for some distance before hitting the pole and knocking down wires. Repairs were made in about 35 minutes by New York State Electric and Gas Company from Fleischmanns. The accident occurred about 4:30 p. m. The driver was reported uninjured.

Check Transformer

Ellenville fire fighters responded to an alarm Tuesday afternoon at the Jansen Building on Main Street in the village, where considerable smoke resulted from a transformer after a neon light apparently burned out. Fire fighters were at the scene about a half hour.

Impasse Over Taxes May Mean No Budget April 1

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A deepening impasse over new taxes caused increasing concern at the capitol today that the state would enter the new fiscal year next Thursday without a budget.

Gov. Rockefeller's staff reportedly has prepared an emergency plan for conducting state government in the absence of a budget, if necessary.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt called Tuesday for detailed planning for operating without a budget, asserting that "the state's fiscal affairs could become chaotic" if no plan were ready on April 1.

It was uncertain whether the Legislature could—or would—make partial appropriations to avoid payless paydays for the state's 120,000 workers or prevent a halt in major construction projects.

Meanwhile, there was no sign of a break in a three-way deadlock over the key revenue proposal in the Republican governor's new budget, a 2 per cent statewide sales tax.

Rockefeller suggested the sales and other taxes to help balance his record $3.5 billion budget for the new fiscal year.

The governor has declined to discuss alternatives to the sales tax, holding he met his responsibility when he submitted a balanced budget.

While the prospect of approval of the budget within the next week grew more uncertain, this also developed:

—The Senate approved unanimously a Democratic bill to restore minimum distance requirements between liquor stores. GOP support of the measure was a rebuff to Rockefeller.

Republican majorities in the Legislature last year lifted the distance requirements at his request—and with reported political pressure exerted.

The Democratic majorities in both houses are split on the sales tax issue. There also is strong opposition among Republicans. So far they have indicated they do not believe party loyalty compels them to support the governor's controversial tax proposal.

The GOP lawmakers point out privately that they probably will be running for re-election this year, while the governor will not.

Charged in Killing

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A restaurant-owner's 19-year-old son is charged with killing a man after an argument in the restaurant last Thursday.

City Judge Patrick J. Mannix issued a warrant Tuesday, charging Joseph Monsour of Glens Falls with second-degree manslaughter in the beating of Norman Anderson, 38, also of Glens Falls.

Anderson died Friday in Albany Medical Center Hospital.

Says Fleet Not Giving Hanoi Time to Relax

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet said today the United States is conducting "practically continuous" operations against North Viet Nam.

Vice Adm. Paul P. Blackburn told newsmen the operations include weather and reconnaissance flights as well as combat strikes.

"They are not getting much rest up there," he said. Blackburn, making a four-day visit to Thailand, said North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire proved effective against recent U.S. air strikes because of the volume of fire rather than sophisticated equipment.

In addition, he said, a number of raids had to be flown at low altitude because of bad weather, making the jet aircraft more vulnerable.

Support Mounting

HARRISBURG (AP)—Support is mounting for legislation that would abolish the State Milk Control Commission and create a milk stabilization board in its place.

A bipartisan proposal was introduced in the House Tuesday with 30 sponsors, just 24 hours after a similar bill was proposed in the Senate.

The measure would completely abolish the Milk Control Commission and end retail and wholesale price controls while providing for a referendum of farmers in each area to find out whether they want producer controls.

Legislation both in the Senate and in the Assembly, Martorana, 43 years old, is an insurance broker in Southern Ulster County.

Martorana Will Remain in Race For Senate Seat

Plattekill Supervisor Joseph Martorana, the only announced Ulster County Republican resident candidate for the State Senate seat, today stated that he is remaining in the race for the GOP nomination.

Noting the uncertainty of the reapportionment plans, Martorana said, "Anything can happen and certainly a county such as Ulster with a population of 118,500 should keep a candidate in the race."

"Under the proposed new 43rd Senate District, Ulster County is the largest county in population and the only one contiguous to the other three. The other counties include parts of Orange with a population of 55,000, Sullivan 45,000, and Greene 31,000.

In making known his determination to continue his candidacy, Martorana stated that he is continuing his meetings with town and city committees throughout Ulster County. He pointed out, however, that he is not seeking any official endorsements or commitments at the present time. "The matter of selecting a Republican nominee for State Senator is too important a subject to be decided upon by hastily-called meetings attended by a few individuals," Martorana stated. "Besides," he added, "grass root sentiment from the rank and file must be considered before a decision of an endorsement is made."

The Ulster County Republican candidate for the Senate seat is a former farmer-truck driver turned office manager-accountant who has twice been elected Plattekill supervisor by overwhelming 2 to 1 majorities in a former Democratic town. A strong advocate of equal opportunity and equal representation for all the people in all areas, Martorana has been a strong voice on the Board of Supervisors successfully fighting for programs beneficial to the people he represents both in Plattekill and throughout Ulster County. Always active in community affairs, he has served in many capacities in civic, fraternal and veterans organizations.

An experienced veteran of getting things the hard way and starting from the bottom, Martorana started college at the age of 15, working days and going to CCNY at night. Soon after Pearl Harbor he left college to work in a steel mill and in 1943 he entered the Army.

A world War II veteran, Martorana rose through the ranks from private to master sergeant ending his army career in 1946 as sergeant major at the Field Artillery School in Fort Sill, Okla. A former student at the Orange County Community College and Krissler Business Institute, which he attended while holding full-time jobs, Martorana learned farming first through an extension course from Cornell which he took while in the army and then upon discharge from selling farm machinery and operating a farm of his own where he has lived for almost 20 years.

Before his election as town supervisor in 1961, Martorana served as deputy clerk of the Board of Supervisors and assistant county budget officer. He also served for three years on various staffs of the N. Y. State

Kremlin Airs Farm Troubles

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party's Central Committee is meeting today to discuss the Soviet Union's chronic farm troubles. There were signs that the 1964 harvest produced less than the bumper crop about which former Premier Nikita Khrushchev boasted.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, Khrushchev's successor as party chief, announced the plenary meeting of the 330-member committee during his speech Tuesday welcoming the two newest Soviet cosmonauts to Moscow.

Brezhnev said the committee would discuss "efforts designed to improve radically the situation in our agriculture and to create conditions for its advance to the level of the tremendous tasks confronting the Soviet economy."

The situation in Soviet agriculture has been gloomy since the disastrous failure of the wheat crop in 1963. The Soviets bought 12 million tons of wheat from the West, and Khrushchev implied there could have been a famine.

Khrushchev claimed last summer that the 1964 crop would meet current needs and provide abundant reserves. Soviet propaganda organs painted the same glowing picture.

After Khrushchev's ouster in October, the optimistic mood

suddenly changed. The new theme was "much still remains to be done in order to guarantee a fully adequate supply of all farm products."

Many farms were reported turning in huge deliveries of grain, then drawing as much or more from the state granaries to feed cattle and for seed.

Flour is still short, consumers were rationed to 4.4 pounds for holidays in November and December.

Meat production has dropped and is now providing less meat per capita than in 1958. One of the first moves of the new Kremlin leadership was to lift restrictions on private ownership of livestock.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: What is the difference between accident and occurrence as the words are used in various insurance coverages?
ANSWER: Even the nation's courts are not in complete agreement as to what constitutes an accident. Insurance which covers accidents covers roughly something that is unforeseen and unintentional. Insurance which covers an occurrence covers something that happens, accidental or not.
